WAYNETECH

This section covers everything you need to get started with Batman: Arkham Origins, a full list of the WayneTech upgrades, and combat strategy.

BASICS

>>DIFFICULTY

There are three difficulties that you can choose when starting a new game. Here is a brief description for each:

- Easy For novice players or those new to the action-adventure genre. Enemies are no match for the strength, gadgets, and intelligence of the Batman.
- Normal A balanced difficulty option suitable for most players. Enemies are tough, aggressive, and merciless. But you are the Batman, ready to bring justice to the streets.
- Hard Warning! Enemies are faster, tougher, and more dangerous right from the start. Challenges will push Batman to the limit. This should only be attempted by players who are experts at Batman: Arkham Origins, or the very brave!

>>MISSION INTERFACE

At any time during Story Mode, you can press the Back/Select button to access your Mission Interface. Here, you can view the Gotham City or current interior map, look at available Most Wanted side missions, check on Dark Knight Challenges, unlock WayneTech upgrades, and access your Database. The Database includes open Casefiles, Character Profiles, Gotham City Intel unlocked by scanning Anarky Tags and Cyrus Pinkney Plaques, and the story Synopsis.

MAP SYSTEM

Select the Map System tab in your Mission Interface to see the Gotham City map if you are in the open world or a map that represents the structure you are currently in. Initially, the only things marked on your map are the Batwing Drop Points, GCR Comms Towers, and your current objective marker. As you progress through the story and complete certain tasks, more icons appear on the map. For example: hack into a Comms Tower and the district's Network Relays show up. Unlock Black Mask's Most Wanted, and the corresponding objectives are displayed. When inside a building, press the Back/Select button to view the Gotham City map. You are unable to set Waypoints inside interiors. You can view an interior map from the city map by highlighting it and pressing the Run button.

While on the map, click the left stick to center it on Batman's location. Use the left stick to move around the map and the right stick to zoom in and out. Press the Counter button in open space to set a custom Waypoint. Highlight an icon and press the Run button to either fast travel to a Batwing Drop Point or set your next objective as that item.

>>BATMAN'S HEALTH

When in combat, Batman's health and armor are displayed in the upper-left corner of your HUD. The wide section of the bar represents his health. You can purchase upgrades to give him Combat Armor and Ballistic Armor. Combat Armor is the upper skinny bar to the right of the health, and it decreases when an enemy hits Batman. If this is fully depleted, Batman takes damage when struck. Ballistic Armor is the lower bar, and it decreases when Batman is shot. When this is gone, Batman starts taking damage from firearms.

>>GADGETS

Batman starts with the following gadgets: Batclaw, Explosive Gel, Smoke Pellet, Cryptographic Sequencer, Batarang, and Remote Control Batarang. As you proceed through Story Mode, you find more gadgets. To select a gadget, use the digital pad. The following table lists which direction selects each one:

DIGITAL PAD DIRECTION	GADGET
Up	Batclaw
Up, Up	Remote Claw
Up/Right	Glue Grenade
Right	Concussion Grenade
Right, Right	Disruptor
Down/Right	Remote Control Batarang
Down	Batarang
Down, Down	Sonic Batarang
Down/Left	Cryptographic Sequencer
Left	Explosive Gel
Left, Left	Smoke Pellet
Up/Left	Multi Target Batarangs

QUICK-FIRE GADGETS

During a Combat Encounter, you can use five of your gadgets immediately by quick-firing them. Use such tools in a fight to increase your variation bonus, stun enemies, disarm firearms, and damage multiple hostiles at once. Get used to mixing these into your battles, as a higher variation bonus equals extra XP. The following table lists the gadgets that you can quick-fire, along with the corresponding command.

COMMAND	QUICK-FIRED GADGET	NOTE
Aim Gadget button (x2)	Batarang	Tosses at enemy in front of Batman. Be sure to have another target picked out to keep your combo going.
Crouch button (x2)	Glue Grenade	Binds foe so he cannot attack.
Aim Gadget button + Cape Stun button	Concussion Grenade	Stuns nearby adversaries for a short period.
Aim Gadget button + Counter button	Batclaw	Pulls opponent closer to Batman. Press the Strike button to perform a powerful Batclaw Slam once available. Disarm armed attackers after another upgrade.
Aim Gadget button + Strike button	Explosive Gel	Place gel on ground. Do this in the middle of a big group to knock down multiple hostiles. Must be detonated with Aim Gadget button + Grapple button.

>>XP AND UPGRADES

As you complete objectives, collect items, and defeat hostiles, you earn XP. As you reach preset amounts of XP, an Upgrade Point is rewarded. Check the WayneTech tab of your Mission Interface to see how far you are from the next Upgrade Point. When you earn one, a message appears at the top of the screen. You can spend these points to unlock upgrades and improve Batman's skills and equipment. The upgrades are divided into three categories: Close Combat Upgrades, Invisible Predator Upgrades, and Auxiliary Upgrades. Each upgrade category has its own upgrade tree. You must purchase early upgrades to gain access to later ones in the tree. The further you advance in a tree, the more powerful the upgrades become. Refer to the Upgrades section a little later in the guide for more information.

>>CRIME IN PROGRESS

While in open world Gotham City, look for the Crime in Progress tracker to appear on the right side of your HUD. This notifies you that there is a crime nearby that requires your attention. Use the tracker to find the criminals and stop them for extra XP. This may be a small group of thugs trying to break into an ATM or a big group picking on a rival. Later in the game, you may even find a terrified person who needs your help, but when you talk to the criminal, ninja emerge from the darkness and attack.

CORE CONTROLS REFERENCE

The following reference lists core game abilities that can also be found in the WayneTech section of your Mission Interface.

MOVEMENT: CORE MOVEMENT ABILITIES

RUN BUTTON (HOLD)	Run, jump, and climb
CROUCH BUTTON + RUN BUTTON	Hang from edge

Traverse the streets and rooftops of Gotham City with ease. Hold the Run button while moving to run. While running, Batman automatically climbs over obstacles and jumps gaps.

STEALTH: CORE STEALTH ABILITIES

CROUCH BUTTON (HOLD)	Crouch
----------------------	--------

Crouch by holding the Crouch button. Movement while crouched is quick and silent, which makes crouched movement a very useful stealth tactic.

SLIDE

CROUCH BUTTON (WHILE RUNNING)	Slide
-------------------------------	-------

Use the slide to navigate under low-clearance obstacles. You can also use the slide to kick straight through vent covers, saving the time of pulling them off. Note: sliding through vent covers makes noise and could alert nearby threats. Additionally, you can employ the slide to initiate combat as the first strike of a combo attack.

GRAPNEL

GRAPPLE BUTTON	Fire Grapple Gun
RUN BUTTON, RUN BUTTON (HOLD)	Grapple Accelerator

Fire a Grapple that allows rapid ascent, granting access to rooftops and vantage points. The Grapple is an essential part of your navigation equipment. To grapple, simply look toward a ledge or outcrop, and press the Grapple button to fire the Grapple. Grappling is a vital skill, allowing maximum mobility when combined with gliding or running. It's also vital to escape Combat situations when the odds take a turn for the worse. Tap the Run button, then press the Run button during a grapple to activate the Grapple Accelerator. When grappling over medium to long distances, this gadget boosts the speed of the grapple motor, launching Batman high into the air above the target point. Combine this move with a Dive Boost and Glide to perform long sustained glides without ever touching the ground.

GLIDE

- RUN BUTTON (HOLD)

LEFT STICK
- Glide

Steer glide

WayneTech technologies allow the Batsuit cape to temporarily gain a flexible wing form, enhancing the ability to glide. When gliding, Batman's cape takes on a rigid form, allowing you full control of pitch and yaw. Managing velocity in combination with the Dive Bomb allows you to quickly and effectively maneuver around Gotham City.

DIVE BOMB

- CROUCH BUTTON (HOLD)
- Dive Bomb (while gliding)

When gliding, the Dive Bomb immediately sends Batman accelerating toward the ground at great speed. By pulling up out of the Dive Bomb after a few seconds, you can transfer this downward speed into a horizontal glide. Alternate between the Dive Bomb and a steady glide climb repeatedly to cover large distances at maximum speed.

GLIDE KICK

- STRIKE BUTTON (WHEN TARGETING HOSTILE BELOW)

CROUCH BUTTON (HOLD)
- Glide Kick

Dive Bomb Tackle (while Glide Kick is locked on)

When gliding through the city or perched up high, target any enemy within range with a Glide Kick. The Glide Kick can knock most enemies to the ground, making it an effective way to initiate combat with a group. When used on an isolated target, an effective tactic is to immediately follow up with a ground takedown to finish them off.

DROP ATTACK

- STRIKE BUTTON
- Drop Attack

When looking at an enemy from above, you can use this height to your advantage and launch a surprise attack directly down onto your target. Select your target by highlighting them with the bat-symbol marker. You can combo directly from this attack if there are other enemies nearby, or launch immediately into a ground takedown.

LOOK/ZOOM/TRIGGER SPECIAL CAMERA

CLICK RIGHT STICK
- Move camera

Zoom

DETECTIVE VISION

- L4 / L3 (TAP)
- Detective Vision

Gain an immediate tactical analysis of the current location, identifying potential threats even through solid walls. Threats carrying firearms are highlighted in orange. All other personnel in the vicinity are highlighted in blue. Melee weapons or damage resistance are visually highlighted. This scan mode also highlights items of interest in the environment, providing information via a direct connection to the Batcomputer.

ENVIRONMENT ANALYSIS

- L4 / L3 (HOLD)
- Environment Analysis

The Batsuit's Environment Analysis feature has two main functions: you can scan collectibles to mark them for future retrieval, adding their location to your map, and you can scan points of interest, landmarks, or concealed clues, adding them to your Database.

COMBAT GRADING

After each Combat Encounter, you are awarded bonus XP based on your Combat performance. Your combat grade is assigned based on your maximum combo in the fight, the variation of moves you used, the amount of damage received, and your overall efficiency. A perfect fight is one where you take no damage, never lose your combo multiplier, and use a variety of attack moves. Counter and evade to avoid taking damage while you build your multiplier using quick-fire gadgets, Beatdowns, and takedowns, and you will grade well. Combat grades are:

- S — Apex Vigilante
- A — Legendary Vigilante
- B — Master Vigilante
- C — Superior Vigilante
- D — Capable Vigilante

STRIKE

- STRIKE BUTTON
- Strike

The strike is your primary close-range attack. Once Batman has delivered three sequential blows in a fight, he enters Free Flow Mode. While in Free Flow, Batman covers a much greater distance with each attack. Additionally, each strike can knock most enemies straight to the floor.

COUNTER

- COUNTER BUTTON
- Counter

The counter is one of the most important moves in your arsenal, and its mastery is critical to success in combat. This move instantly turns an enemy's attack back against them, giving Batman the advantage even when under attack from multiple foes. When multiple opponents strike at once, tap the Counter button once for each attacker to fend them off.

PROJECTILE COUNTER

- COUNTER BUTTON
- Projectile Counter

If an object is thrown at Batman, use the Counter button to catch it and throw it back. Additionally, you can redirect the object toward a different enemy by pushing the left stick in their direction as it is caught.

EVADE

- LEFT STICK + RUN BUTTON, RUN BUTTON
- Evade

Use an evade to quickly move around during combat. Evade to avoid direct attack or leap over area effects. When under enemy gunfire, evading reduces the amount of damage Batman receives. You can also evade through glass or over railings.

CAPE STUN

CAPE STUN BUTTON

Stun

Use the weighted tips of Batman's cape to disorientate attacking enemies and temporarily stun them. The move affects all foes standing immediately in front of Batman. You can use this move to disrupt groups of enemies and buy time to seize the initiative. A successfully executed Cape Stun also allows you to then perform a Beatdown on the stunned opponent.

ULTRA STUN

CAPE STUN BUTTON (X3)

Ultra Stun

Use three Cape Stuns in quick succession on one target to perform the Ultra Stun. This move knocks down most enemies for an extended period of time without doing any damage. It is particularly effective against large or skilled opponents, breaking down their defenses and leaving them vulnerable to a Beatdown attack.

GROUND TAKEDOWN

CROUCH BUTTON + COUNTER BUTTON

Ground takedown

This powerful move knocks out a single downed enemy. It is highly effective in both Free Flow and Predator engagements. While performing the ground takedown, Batman is vulnerable to attack, so it is important to ensure that there is enough time for the move to complete successfully before you commit to it.

BEATDOWN

STRIKE BUTTON (AGAINST STUNNED HOSTILE)

Beatdown

Beatdown focuses damage on a single enemy without knocking them to the floor. If sustained, a Beatdown can finish off an opponent in one attack. Once you employ a Cape Stun, this move is especially effective against armored enemies who are invulnerable to most other attacks. The Beatdown is very powerful but leaves Batman vulnerable to attack from other foes while it is performed. Use Counters during the Beatdown to sustain your attack.

AERIAL ATTACK

CAPE STUN BUTTON > RUN BUTTON, RUN BUTTON

Aerial Attack

> LEFT STICK + STRIKE BUTTON

Directed Aerial Attack

Use this move to attack an enemy from above. This is especially useful against adversaries using shields, since they cannot block an Aerial Attack. This is ineffective against armored hostiles.

REDIRECT

LEFT STICK + RUN BUTTON, RUN BUTTON (TOWARD ENEMY)

Redirect

This move flips Batman over the head of an attacking enemy. It is very effective to use when surrounded, providing time and space to launch your next attack. This move also maintains your combo multiplier streak, making it a useful tactic for positioning Batman or buying time.

REDIRECT ATTACK

(TOWARD ENEMY)

Redirect then attack

STRIKE BUTTON

Strike

Use the Redirect Attack to flip over the head of an attacking enemy, then instantly launch a strike at the enemy's back. It's very useful against opponents armed with a Stun Baton.

BLADE DODGE

Blade Dodge

Enemies armed with edged weapons attack using multiple swipes in quick succession. To evade these repeated attacks, you must perform a number of dodges in a row by moving away from the assailant while holding the Counter button.

INTERROGATION

COUNTER BUTTON

Interrogate

Interrogating Enigma's Data Handlers is key to locating the whereabouts of the DataPacks he has hidden across Gotham City. Simply press the Counter button when near the surrendering enemy to initiate the interrogation. Other hostiles also surrender after their comrades are defeated, such as the escaped prisoners and various other criminals you encounter along the way.

BATARANG

(WITH BATARANG SELECTED)

Aim/Throw Batarang

AIM GADGET BUTTON (TAP)

Quick-fire Batarang

Batman's signature weapon for striking ranged enemies quickly and precisely. Use the Quick-fire Batarang to rapidly unleash up to three Batarangs and sustain your combo. A Quick-fire Batarang throw is also very effective when discovered by a single armed enemy, temporarily stunning them so you can escape. Batarangs can also knock foes into hazards or off ledges. Also, use them to strike out-of-reach objects.

BATCLAW

(WITH BATCLAW SELECTED)

Aim/Fire Batclaw

AIM GADGET BUTTON + COUNTER BUTTON

Quick-fire Batclaw

Batclaw Slam

Fires a claw-like projectile that interacts with out-of-reach objects and pulls them toward Batman. In combat, use the Batclaw on enemies, and follow up immediately with a strike attack to perform the Batclaw Slam. This deals double the damage of a normal strike but takes more time to perform, leaving Batman vulnerable to attack. If an enemy attacks as you pull in another, perform a counter to stop his attack instead of doing the Batclaw Slam.

 GRATE TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Grate Takedown

When under a floor grate, select “Takedown” to leap out and perform a KO in one seamless attack. Be careful: this move is not silent and attracts attention. WARNING: enemies who discover a victim near floor grates usually search the grates for aggressors.

 VENT TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Vent Takedown

Batman can quickly perform a takedown technique on enemies adjacent to a vent. This move requires concealment behind a vent cover, which becomes damaged in the process of using it.

WOODEN WALL TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Wooden Wall Takedown

From a starting point directly behind a weak wall, Batman can smash through the wood and grab an unsuspecting enemy, choking him into unconsciousness. Be careful: this takedown attracts nearby adversaries, so plan your escape route.

WINDOW TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Window Takedown

When behind a window, Batman can take out an enemy on the other side in one move. The noise attracts nearby opponents, so be aware of their locations before you use this takedown.

 LEDGE TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Ledge Takedown

While hanging from a ledge, reach up and grab an enemy on the walkway above and pull them off to knock them out. This move is not silent and attracts nearby hostiles.

 HANGING LEDGE TAKEDOWN

COUNTER BUTTON

Hanging Ledge Takedown

While standing on a ledge directly above an enemy, drop down over the edge and use your legs to silently choke the enemy unconscious.

Glide Boost Attack (while Glide Kick is locked on)

Use this powerful attack to KO an enemy in a single move. From a vantage point or rooftop, perform a Glide Kick with the Strike button, and then hold the Crouch button to initiate the Dive Bomb attack. You must achieve maximum velocity before impact to KO your target, which is indicated by the Batman logo turning red.

EXPLOSIVE GEL: FREQUENCY DETONATOR

REQUIRES: Glide Boost Attack

GRAPPLE BUTTON (WHEN ZOOMED IN ON EXPLOSIVE GEL) Detonate Explosive Gel

Allows you to remotely detonate Explosive Gel charges one by one instead of all at once. To trigger out-of-order detonations, look at an individual explosive in zoomed camera view, and then press the Grapple button to trigger the desired explosive.

INCREASED SMOKE VOLUME

Boosted dispersal system increases the effective radius of each Smoke Pellet. You can move farther while concealed, or confuse more enemies with a single pellet.

HEAT SIGNATURE CONCEALMENT SYSTEM

REQUIRES: Explosive Gel: Frequency Detonator

This is effective as long as he remains perfectly still while being scanned. If grappling to or from a vantage point while being scanned, Batman will still be detected.

EXPLOSIVE GEL: PROXIMITY DETONATOR

DISRUPTOR: MINE DISRUPTOR

UNLOCKED BY: Reach the GCPD evidence locker in Story Mode

REQUIRES: Disruptor: PA System Disruption Algorithm

AIM GADGET BUTTON + CROUCH BUTTON (HOLD) Detonate mine

Use the Disruptor to trigger proximity mines. If timed correctly, you can use the concussive effect of these explosions to knock enemies out. Due to excessive heat generation, you can only use the Disruptor twice before a cooldown period is required.

INCREASED DISRUPTOR CAPACITY

UNLOCKED BY: Reach the GCPD evidence locker in Story Mode

REQUIRES: Disruptor: Mine Disruptor

Adds an extra charge to the Disruptor's heatsink. This allows you to use the Disruptor three times before triggering a cooldown period.

AUXILIARY UPGRADES

A variety of gadget improvements and combat techniques only accessible by completing specific challenges. These all require completing a side mission or reaching a certain rank in the Dark Knight System to unlock. Then, each must be upgraded with an Upgrade Point.

FREE FLOW FOCUS

UNLOCKED BY: Reach Shadow Vigilante Rank 3 in the Dark Knight System

STRIKE BUTTON + COUNTER BUTTON

You can only perform this special combo move after your combo score reaches x8 or above. Perfect for removing firearms or other high-danger weapons from sustained combat scenarios.

CRITICAL STRIKES

UNLOCKED BY: Complete Shiva Most Wanted

Successful Critical Strikes reward perfect combat timing with devastating power. The goal is to perform a Strike just after finishing the previous move. However, if you press too early or tap repeatedly, then you will not perform a Critical Strike. These well-timed blows also increase the combo by x2 for each Strike, allowing for quicker activation of special combo moves.

GRAPNEL ACCELERATOR TAKEDOWN

UNLOCKED BY: Reach Gotham City Protector, Rank 3 in the Dark Knight System

GRAPPLE BUTTON

Fire Grapnel Gun

RUN BUTTON, RUN BUTTON (HOLD)

Grapnel Accelerator Takedown

By aiming the Grapnel Gun at the ledge below an enemy and using the Grapnel Accelerator, you can grab the foe, lift him high into the air, and then smash him into the ground for an instant KO. Note: You can only use this move in external locations because of the distance required to activate the Grapnel Accelerator.

SHOCKWAVE ATTACK

UNLOCKED BY: Reach Gotham City Protector Rank 10 in the Dark Knight System

STRIKE BUTTON (AFTER DIVE BOMB)

Shockwave

This new suit configuration automatically stores the kinetic energy created while performing a Dive Bomb, allowing Batman to release that energy as a powerful shockwave upon landing. This knocks any non-armored enemies in the immediate vicinity to the ground. This is very useful when entering combat with a large number of hostiles, and you should follow it up with one or more ground takedowns.

CRYPTOGRAPHIC POWER AMPLIFIER

UNLOCKED BY: Complete an Extortion File by collecting an entire set of Enigma DataPacks

Increases the computational power of the Cryptographic Sequencer, making it easier to decipher passwords while hacking security systems.

CRYPTOGRAPHIC RANGE AMPLIFIER

UNLOCKED BY: Destroy all components of Enigma's Network Relay in one district

Increases effective range of the Cryptographic Sequencer, allowing you to override out-of-reach security consoles and open up areas that would otherwise be inaccessible. You must have this to collect all of Enigma's DataPacks.

COMBAT GRADE

After each successful Combat Encounter, you are awarded XP based on how well you did. First, the threat level is assessed based on what types of enemies were faced and the weapons used. The enemies and weapons are worth the following XP:

ENEMIES AND WEAPONS

Enemy	250 XP
Armored Enemy	750 XP
Martial Artist	1500 XP
Ninja	1500 XP
Venom User	1500 XP
Enforcer	3000 XP
Armored Enforcer	5000 XP
Melee Weapon	250 XP
Projectile	250 XP
Stun Baton	750 XP
Firearm	750 XP
Knife	750 XP
Shield	750 XP

These are totaled up and given a threat level based on the following scale:

THREAT

Extreme	5250 and up XP
High	3250-5000 XP
Medium	2250-3000 XP
Low	1250-2000 XP
Very Low	250-1000 XP

At that point, your performance is graded depending on your total hits, the max combo, total variation, and hits received. If you go unseen or complete a Perfect Free Flow combo, you're granted an additional bonus.

Perfect Free Flow means that you completed the entire encounter without breaking your combo. Based on the grade that you are given, you earn a set percentage of the Threat XP.

GRADE

S: Apex Vigilante	100%
A: Legendary Vigilante	75%
B: Master Vigilante	50%
C: Superior Vigilante	25%
D: Capable Vigilante	0%

As you can see, keeping the combo going and using a variety of attacks while avoiding taking damage can go a long way toward earning XP and upgrading Batman. Counter and evade to avoid taking damage while you build your multiplier using quick-fire gadgets, Beatdowns, and takedowns, and you will grade well.

TYPES OF ENEMIES

At the start of Story Mode, the hostiles that you face are normal thugs who can be hit and blocked with normal strikes and counters. As you continue through the game, more enemy types are thrown into the mix, such as armored enemies and martial artists, who require a little more technique to fight. Here is a list of the foes you face in Gotham City, along with how to defeat each one. This section also lists the location where you face each type of enemy for the first time. (This refers to the regular Story Mode on Normal difficulty.)

ENEMY

FIRST FACED: Blackgate Prison

These are your normal thugs, who are vulnerable to any of Batman's attacks. Most enemy types come in multiple flavors, such as Black

Mask mobsters, the Penguin's gang members, and Gotham City criminals, but you can handle them all the same.

ARMORED ENEMY

FIRST FACED: Blackgate Prison (first visit)

Armored enemies wear body armor that makes them invulnerable to a standard strike. Use a Cape Stun to open this type of foe up to a body attack. Immediately follow up the Cape Stun with body blows by rapidly pressing the Strike button. This move is called a Beatdown and is effective against most types of hostiles. Continue attacking until you knock the enemy out. Watch out as you perform this move, since you are vulnerable to attacks from other adversaries. Counter the foe, then continue with your body blows. You may need to stun the foe again before pummeling him into submission. These opponents can also be taken down with a Special Combo Takedown if available. Once activated, Shock Gloves can punch right through these guys' armor.

ENFORCER

FIRST FACED: Final Offer (casino)

Enforcers charge at Batman, picking him up along the way. When the Enforcer reaches the wall, Batman is pinned against it and thrown to the ground. Watch out for the red bolts over an Enforcer's head, which signifies that his next attack cannot be countered—whether it is this charge attack or just an attempt to grab Batman. If the Enforcer manages to grab Batman, rapidly press the Run button to break free and knock him down. Avoid this charge by redirecting the foe as you evade over his head. Performing a Cape Stun and then proceeding to rapidly strike at his midsection can also stop this attack. Once you are able to finish off the Beatdown attack, Batman slams the big guy to the ground, which knocks him out cold.

VENOM USER

FIRST FACED: GCPD (holding cells)

Venom Users are hopped up on the narcotic Venom and are stronger than the typical thug. Red marks above a Venom thug's head signify that his upcoming attack cannot be countered. He grabs Batman as another thug proceeds to pound on the hero. Rapidly press the Run button to escape his grasp and knock both foes away. Avoid this grab attack entirely by evading over the foe's head. He also has a regular Strike that you can counter. Complete a Beatdown or perform a Special Combo Takedown to pull out the hose from his back, reducing him to just a normal thug.

MARTIAL ARTIST

FIRST FACED: Burnley sewers — West

Martial artists are well-trained in hand to hand fighting. They possess the ability to strike three times in succession and counter Batman's strikes. When they attack, be ready to counter three moves before going after them. Hitting one with a Cape Stun is also effective. If he evades your attack, it does not break your combo, so be ready to strike him or another target.

ARMORED ENFORCER

FIRST FACED: Steel Mill

The Armored Enforcer is the toughest and strongest enemy that you face, besides the assassins themselves. They have the same attacks as the regular Enforcer, so evade the big guy or hit him with an Ultra Stun to stop him in his tracks. If he manages to grab Batman, rapidly tap the Run button to break free from his grasp. Like an armored enemy, this hostile wears body armor. Targeting him with a Special Combo Takedown instantly removes his armor. At that point, you can use a Cape Stun into a Beatdown to take care of this foe.

NINJA

FIRST FACED: Shiva Most Wanted

Ninja appear to emerge from the ground or floor when they initially attack Batman with their swords. Counter them as they strike Batman. They have a normal attack that you can counter and a blade attack that requires a Blade Dodge to avoid taking damage. These women are quick and, just like the martial artists, they can evade your strikes. Fortunately, this does not break your combo.

ITEMS

Enemies use various items to better their odds against Batman. Firearms, melee weapons, and shields are often brought into the fight and can be reused after an adversary gets knocked down and drops the object. Always be aware of what an opponent is carrying, as this changes the way you must attack.

MELEE WEAPON

Frequently, an enemy carries a melee weapon, such as a baseball bat, with him. You can counter this attack just like a regular strike. Knocking him down makes him drop the weapon, but another guy can pick it up. Once you have the Special Combo Disarm and Destroy upgrade, you can use a special combo token to remove the weapon from the fight.

PROJECTILE

Enemies can pick up crates, propane tanks, and fire extinguishers and hurl these items at Batman. Once thrown, press the Counter button to catch the object and heave it right back. If someone holds a propane tank or fire extinguisher above his head, quick-fire a Batarang his way to make the tank blow up or cause a smoke screen with the extinguisher.

KNIFE AND BROKEN BOTTLE

When an enemy attacks with a blade, he or she strikes at Batman three times. Use a Blade Dodge to avoid taking damage by pressing away with the left stick and holding the Counter button. Once you have the Blade Dodge Takedown, you can eliminate the opponent after successfully evading each attack. Knives and broken bottles can be picked up off the ground. Once you have the Special Combo Disarm and Destroy upgrade, you can use a special combo token to remove the weapon from the fight.

SHIELD

An enemy who carries a shield cannot be struck directly; Batman must attack from above. Perform an Aerial Attack by using a Cape Stun, and then press the Run button twice to knock him down. This causes him to drop the protection, which another foe can pick up. If possible, quickly take him out with a ground takedown as he lies helpless. Once activated, Shock Gloves can punch directly through a shield.

STUN BATON

Attacking a Stun Baton enemy head-on knocks Batman back and causes damage to his Combat Armor. You cannot counter their attack, either. You must evade over the guy with a Redirect and attack from behind. These guys are a pain to deal with, especially if you lose track of them, and are a good option for your Special Combo Takedown. The Stun Baton Counter upgrade for the Shock Gloves allows you to counter, disarm, and knock this enemy down.

FIREARM

Thugs with firearms should be one of your first targets, since they can eat away at Batman's Ballistic Armor and break your combo. Once you hear the click of the gun, direct your next attack at the hostile. Complete Deadshot's Most Wanted to snag the Batclaw Disarm upgrade. This allows you to quick-fire your Batclaw at an armed enemy and pull his firearm out of his hands. With the Special Combo Disarm and Destroy upgrade, you can use a special combo token to remove the weapon from the fight. You can also use the Disruptor on firearm-wielding foes before entering a fight to disable their weapons.

GUN LOCKER

A gun locker sits beside many of the Combat locations, allowing hostiles to grab their own firearm during an encounter. It takes some time for an enemy to get inside the locker, and an alarm sounds as he does so.

Focus your next strike in the direction of anyone who attempts to break in so that you can keep firearms out of the fight. Once it has been unlocked, adversaries can grab guns immediately.

COMBO MULTIPLIER

For each successive hit, your combo multiplier increases by one. Counters, takedowns, and quick-fired gadgets can all be used to extend the combo. Once Batman takes damage, the combo is lost. Keeping the combo going is key to defeating the big groups of enemies and earning an Apex Vigilante score. Evading away from the action or redirecting an adversary does not break your combo as long as you immediately target someone and attack.

Once Batman reaches a multiplier of x3, he enters Free Flow, where he can attack hostiles from a farther distance and knock most down to the ground. As you hit your target, point the left stick at your next victim and tap the Strike button to keep the combo going—always being ready to press the Counter button if you see someone attack. This is the basic pattern in Combat Encounters, but weapons and different types of enemies mean that you must think carefully about your next move. Plus, variety is a big key to getting a good grade.

There are several upgrades and gadgets that can improve your combos, but the following five have the greatest effect on your multiplier, and all you need to do beyond purchasing them is get the Critical Strike/Counter timing down.

Free Flow Focus—When achieving a combo of x12 or above without using a special combo move, you enter Free Flow Focus Mode. This increases movement speed and reaction times. However, using any special combo move cancels Free Flow Focus. You must reach Shadow Vigilante Rank 3 in the Dark Knight System to grab this upgrade.

Critical Strikes—The goal is to perform a strike just after finishing the previous move. However, if you press too early or tap repeatedly, then you will not perform a Critical Strike. These well-timed blows increase the combo by x2 for each strike, giving your multiplier a huge boost once you get the timing. You must complete Shiva's Most Wanted before you can get this upgrade.

Critical Counter—By properly timing your counter on an enemy, you can perform a Critical Counter that delivers double counter damage and increases your combo meter by x2 per counter.

Special Combo Boost—All special combo abilities become available after achieving a combo of x5 instead of the normal requirement of x8. This doesn't have an immediate effect on your multiplier, but it does allow you to get rid of an enemy that you are having trouble with sooner.

Double Special Combo Move—Once you have the Shock Gloves, this upgrade allows you to earn a second special combo token if you keep the first token and continue to increase your multiplier. A star under the multiplier signifies that you have a second token. Having two tokens allows you to maintain Focus Mode even after you perform one special combo move. If your combo is broken at any point, all tokens are lost.

SPECIAL COMBO TOKENS

Once your combo multiplier reaches x8, you earn a special combo token, which is noted by your multiplier turning yellow. This means that you can perform a special combo move against a hostile to finish him off or destroy his weapon. If your combo is broken at any point, all special combo tokens are lost. This is great to use against an enemy that you are having trouble with or for weakening a Venom User, but if you have the Free Flow Focus upgrade, you can use the boost in movement speed and reaction times to improve your multiplier. Once you use a special combo move while in Free Flow Focus, you lose the effect.

GADGETS

Do not forget about your gadgets in Combat Encounters. You can quick-fire five of them during a fight: the Batarang, Explosive Gel, Glue Grenade, Concussion Grenade, and Batclaw. As long as you hit your target, this does not break your combo. You earn the O use all five of the gadgets in one o adds to your variation bonus.

Once you have the Shock Gloves, they are extremely helpful in combat. As you strike your opponents, they charge up, which is indicated by the battery on the left side of your HUD. Once it is full, press in on both sticks to activate the gloves. This rapidly increases your combo multiplier with each attack, allowing you to use more advanced techniques. When activated, Shock Gloves also overcome the protection of various armors, shields, and weapons, making them very valuable against a variety of foes.

TIPS FOR A BETTER GRADE AND EXTENDING YOUR COMBO

The total variation bonus plays a big part in your grade and how much XP you earn. Work in as many gadgets as you can, along with the special combo moves. Strikes and counters are great for building your combo, but no matter how long you go, you must

Max combo is another important part of your grade, so it is important to keep the combo going no matter what happens. Evading is never a bad idea, as it does not break your combo. Whenever you get into trouble, evade away from the action, but be sure to immediately target your next victim and maintain the combo. A Redirect over an opponent's head is another great way to get out of trouble.

Always be aware of what is going on around Batman. You do not have much time to decide your next move, so it is good to know what attack is required for each enemy type. Get used to rotating the camera as you fight so that you can keep track of everything. Listen for audio clues, like the siren from a gun locker or the click of a firearm.

Use all of your gadgets to increase your odds before and during a fight. Use the Disruptor before a fight to disable firearms, PA systems, and gun lockers. You can employ the Remote Claw to attach a fire extinguisher to a hostile and create a smoke screen of a group of enemies, and detonate one hit.

DARK KNIGHT SYSTEM

The Dark Knight System allows you to earn XP and unlock upgrades in the game by completing each of the Dark Knight Challenges. These are split into four categories that represent four gameplay aspects of Batman: Arkham Origins—Combat, Exploration, Predator, and Investigation. Each of these has 15 ranks that you earn by completing each challenge, one at a time. Once you complete Rank 15, you earn that title. Therefore, until you earn a title, four challenges are available at all times. Completing 100% of the Dark Knight System earns the Batman The Dark Knight Costume.

In the Dark Knight System menu, you can see how many challenges you have completed in each category. As you highlight each one, the current challenge is listed at the bottom of the screen. This is a quick and relatively easy way to earn some valuable XP. As you complete challenges, be sure to check what you need to do next.

SHADOW VIGILANTE (COMBAT)

The Combat line of challenges covers many of the basic and advanced aspects of fighting in the Arkham games. Not only are these good for earning XP, but they also help you become a better fighter, earning even more XP with better grades. These challenges also prepare you for Challenge Mode. Free Flow Focus and Free Flow Power Gadgets are unlocked as you make your way up the ranks, giving you an even bigger edge in combat. Note that you can earn multiple challenges in one category during the same encounter. For example, while working on Rank 2, if you use the Quick-fire Batarang a third time in a fight and then reach a x8 combo multiplier, both are completed after the fight.

AR GLIDE DRILLS

As you progress through the Gotham City Protector challenges, AR Glide Drills become available, showing up on the map as an objective. Three sets unlock at different times, increasing in difficulty as you go. Look for the red Batman symbol to get started.

>>BASIC

AVAILABLE: After completing Rank 2 of the Gotham City Protector Dark Knight Challenges

STARTING LOCATION: Gotham City Pioneer's Bridge—southeast corner of middle pillar

Four drills take you through the basics of gliding. The first one teaches you to control your glide as you maneuver through the rings. The second drill starts on a pipe located part way up the northwest corner of the middle pillar and teaches how to dive during a glide. Glide over to a pipe that hangs from a crane just southeast of the northern pillar to start the third drill. For this one, you must pull out of a dive in order to reach a hanging platform under the bridge. You can use a Grapnel Accelerator to get the final ring if it appears you are going to fall short. The final Basic AR Drill is located on the southwest corner of the northern pillar. To complete the first set of drills, you must dive bomb through rings twice during the glide and then pull up to reach the fifth ring.

>>INTERMEDIATE

STARTING LOCATION: Park Row—southwest side

Completing two drills is all that is required for the Intermediate AR Drills. The first drill has you gliding to the south under a pipe, over another, and then gliding into the fourth ring at Jezebel Center. Get as much momentum as you can as you dive bomb through the first ring to reach the full distance. The second drill is found atop the big metal platform that spans across the highway on the south edge of Amusement Mile. These tests are starting to get quite advanced, as this one involves twisting as you dive bomb through the first ring so that you can orient yourself for the other three rings. Again, the key is to get plenty of momentum during the initial Dive Bomb.

>>ADVANCED

AVAILABLE: After completing Rank 12 of the Gotham City Protector Dark Knight Challenges

STARTING LOCATION: Diamond District—center of district, right of the tracks and north of Gotham City News

Again, only two glide tests must be done to complete the final set of AR Glide Drills. The first one has you dive bombing through a narrow space and twisting to the left to set up the glide through the final rings. Be sure to dive immediately after running off the roof. If it looks like you might fall short of the fourth ring, grapple up to the pipe ahead to pull yourself through it. The final drill starts on a vantage point on the southwest corner of Lacey Towers. Glide out over the first ring and dive bomb for two seconds before pulling up to reach the second ring atop the northern building. Then, you must make a tight left turn through a narrow space. Carefully glide to the left, where another even shorter dive bomb through the fourth ring allows you to reach the fifth and final objective. Not only does this complete all of the AR Glide Drills, but your gliding skills should now be even sharper.

STORY MODE

Batman: Arkham Origins is latest entry in the Batman Arkham series, but it is not a story concerning the origins of Batman, as one might suspect. The narrative actually takes place after Bruce Wayne's return from a long absence. After Batman has spent two years of fighting crime in his role as a vigilante, the Gotham City Police Department treats him as a criminal. He simply wants to clean up the streets of his city and believes he alone must get it done.

Thus far, Batman has been a serious threat to the plans for many criminals of Gotham City. So, for one night only, a bounty of $50,000,000 has been placed on Batman's head. Black Mask's Kill the Bat Christmas Eve Challenge has brought out eight of the deadliest assassins—each one gunning for the the masked vigilante of Gotham City. The biggest storm of the winter has blighted the city, and many criminals have hit the streets for what they think is an easy take. It is now up to Batman to get to Black Mask, stop the crime spree, and avoid the constant attacks of criminals who are seeking to claim the bounty on his head.

This section of the guide focuses only on the main objectives of the Story Mode. New Most Wanted side missions or Casefiles are briefly discussed, but for full details, please refer to their respective chapters. This walkthrough is based on the Normal difficulty of the game. The enemies you face on Hard difficulty, New Game Plus, and I am the Night mode are tougher and may consist of different combinations of foes.

LOCATE BLACK MASK AT BLACKGATE PRISON

Bruce Wayne enters the Batcave while a news report plays on the monitor. After switching channels, it is revealed that this is the day that one of Gotham City's most heinous criminals, Julian Gregory Day, is being executed. At that moment, a police report informs you that Black Mask is holding Commissioner Loeb captive at Blackgate Prison. Alfred implores Bruce to remember that it is Christmas Eve and that he should take the night off, but Bruce's decision is already made. Batman must seek out Black Mask.

Follow the trail of debris under the Blackgate West Wing sign on the left. Hold the Crouch button to duck underneath. Run down the steps, then move through the crumpled-up bars. Follow the hall to the right and duck under the busted pipe. There, you observe Warden Joseph being attacked. At this point, the villain turns around and attacks Batman. Press the Counter button to grab the weapon and throw the thug to the ground.

»»» RUN

Hold the Run button to make Batman move faster. You have infinite stamina to work with, so unless you are trying to sneak up on a potential foe, you can opt to use this control option to run everywhere.

»» COUNTERS

Whenever you see the lightning bolt markings appear over an attacker's head, press the Counter button for Batman to block the blow and perform an attack. This move is vital for building up big combos. Get used to anticipating enemy strikes and learn which foes you can counter. There are three different colors of markings that can show up above an adversary. Blue bolts mean that you can counter with a press of the button. Yellow signifies that your foe is striking with a knife. Move away, and press the button whenever the enemy lunges with a weapon. Red marks mean that the enemy attack cannot be countered. For this attack, evade out of the way, or redirect the thug by flipping over his head.

At this point, the warden moves to pick up a pipe lying on the ground and swings it. Again, counter the attack. At this point Batman presses for information about Black Mask's location, but all the warden can offer up is a directive to find Commissioner Loeb or one of his men.

THREAT: Very Low

Go through the gate at the end of the hall to enter Cellblock A. Feel free to make a lap around the cage ahead to spook some of the locked-up criminals, then run down the central stairs to reach the lower level. Proceed through the door to find two of Black Mask's thugs, along with two more prisoners. Use strikes and counters to build up a nice combo while taking out the three foes. Approach the remaining cowering Black Mask thug, and press the Counter button to interrogate him. You learn that Black Mask is heading to the execution chamber with Loeb.

»» SCORE AND RATING

After you clear a Combat or Predator room of enemies, you receive a letter grade from D up to S, which is based on the difficulty of the enemies and how well you did. First, you are given a set amount of XP for each foe defeated, and a threat level is determined. Then, based on how well you performed, you earn a set percentage of bonus XP. Therefore, if you get a perfect rating, or S, you earn twice as much experience.

As you follow it into the next area, three prisoners are released from their cells. Eliminate them with some well-timed counters, along with strikes and finishing moves. Once you've defeated them, grapple up to a small opening to the west.

When you see a circular icon with three green lines paired with a button icon, you can use your Grapnel Gun to rapidly ascend to the rooftop or vantage point by pressing the Grapple button. If you see a circle around a green arrow, it means there is a Grapple Point in the direction that it faces. Not only is this a great way to get around Gotham City, but it is a Crawl straight ahead and drop back down to the floor. Approach the next gate as it opens up to reveal the prison's nexus. Step into the middle of the room to spot Killer Croc ahead as he finishes off a prison guard, just before he escapes through the far door. An armored Black Mask thug notices your presence and approaches your location. You can counter his attack, but this won't be able to take him out because he is wearing armor. Therefore, you must use a Cape Stun before finishing him off with a series of body strikes.

ARMORED ENEMY

Use a Cape Stun against an enemy with body armor to open the opponent up to a body attack. Immediately follow up the Cape Stun with body blows by rapidly pressing the Strike button. Keep attacking until you knock out the target. Be careful when you perform this move, because Batman is vulnerable to attacks from other foes. Counter the adversary, and continue with your body blows. You may need to stun your foe again before pummeling him into submission.

Grapple up to the ledge, where Killer Croc recently stood, and move into the prisoner processing area. Use Detective Vision to spot a control switch on the far wall. You may also notice that four unarmed hostiles wait on the other side of the wall, and they're holding hostages. Press Down to select your Batarang, then aim it at the switch. Fire the device to slightly raise the nearby gate.

»» DETECTIVE VISION

Tap the Detective Vision button to enter a special mode that highlights a variety of important targets. You can also read information about items that you can interact with, such as weak flooring/walls, enemies, Enigma's DataPacks, and more. Thugs with guns are shown in red, while unarmed foes are depicted in blue.

BATARANG

The Batarang is useful for triggering unreachable switches, but it is also great in combat. Tap the Aim Gadget button to quick-fire a Batarang in the direction Batman is facing. This is great for keeping a combo going when additional foes are not within reach. This technique also boosts your score by adding some variety to your fights.

Run toward the door, and press the Crouch button to slide underneath. If an enemy stands just in front of the door, this move knocks the enemy down to start the next encounter. Keep the combo going by immediately striking another of Black Mask's men. Continue knocking out the foes and finishing them off with special moves. Once you've eliminated the threat, use Detective Vision to find another switch on the west wall. A quick tap of the Aim Gadget button while looking at the switch tosses a Batarang at it. This gives you access to an elevator shaft.

Step inside, then select your Explosive Gel. Spray it onto the weak floor, and detonate it to send Batman down to the lower level. From there, Batman finds his target, Black Mask, inside Death Row. He and his accomplice, Killer Croc, are holding Commissioner Loeb captive.

EXPLOSIVE GEL

Explosive Gel allows you to bust through weak floors and walls. Use Detective Vision to spot these areas around Gotham City. Hold the Aim Gadget button, then press the Crouch button to spray on the explosive. When you are ready to detonate the charge, hold the Aim Gadget button and press the Grapple button. If an enemy is standing next to the wall or below the floor, a box shows up on the left side of your heads-up display. A number signifies how many foes the explosion can take out. Use this to dispatch unsuspecting opponents in a Predator room. During combat, you can quick-fire the gel onto the ground by holding the Aim Gadget button and pressing the Strike button. Press it again to detonate the explosive.

Look to the left and approach the vent. Press the Run button for Batman to grab it, then rapidly press the button to pry the vent cover off the wall. Crouch inside and follow it all the way around to the right to find five prisoners and a Black Mask thug. Step off the ledge to land on one of the foes as the masked enemy escapes behind the bars to the west. Eliminate the five men, and then use Detective Vision to spot a weak wall next to the remaining opponent.

Step inside the open cell to the right, and spot the vent up on the wall. Select your Batclaw, and aim it at the grating. Fire it to grab the bars, and rapidly press the Run button to pull it down. Now, run toward the wall to climb into the hole. Follow the path to the left and drop into the next room. Approach the left wall and spray Explosive Gel onto the weakened partition. A message pops up on the left side of your HUD to let you know the explosion can take out a hostile: detonate the gel to eliminate the threat.

The Batclaw comes in handy during exploration, since you can use it to rip down vent covers from afar, grab anchor points, and snag out-of-reach DataPacks. It is also great to use during combat to pull an enemy closer to you. Quick-fire the gadget by pressing the Aim Gadget and Counter buttons simultaneously. Quickly follow it up with a strike to knock the foe down as you pull him in. Once you obtain the upgrade, you can even use the Batclaw to disarm enemies.

Through the gate on the right, you find the entrance point for the Execution Chamber Access. Look to the right to find a control switch on each side of the north door. Quick-fire a couple Batarangs to activate the two switches, which opens the door. Select your Batclaw, and pry off another vent cover on the far wall. Climb inside and follow the narrow passage. As you pass the openings on the left, you spot Black Mask and his henchmen working to set the Calendar Man free.

Continue through the vent until Batman drops next to a window. Observe Black Mask tossing Loeb into the chamber. Sprint toward the chamber and double press the Run button to dive through the window. Three of Black Mask's men (including one armored foe) show up through the west entrance. Counter their moves, and attack the weaker enemies until you've knocked both down. Then, use a Cape Stun on the armored thug, following it up with body blows until you defeat him. Once you've eliminated all three, exit out the doorway and follow the security corridor around to the right.

Through the next door, Batman finds a destroyed drone in the watch tower. Inside is a memory card that the villains left behind. It should be possible to repair it back at the Batcave. Look up, and Grapple to the stairwell above. Follow the steps until you reach a ladder. Climb this ladder, run around to a second one, and ascend to the roof. There, Killer Croc waits for Batman—the start of your first boss fight.

DEFEAT KILLER CROC

DEFEAT THE BEAST

Killer Croc is the first of the assassin fights in Batman: Arkham Origins. He is much stronger than the standard thugs that you have faced so far, and you cannot counter his attacks. The beast charges your way in a devastating offense. Either redirect him by evading over his mass, or hit him with a Cape Stun to stop him in his tracks. Rapidly press the Strike button to follow up with body blows. End the combo by slamming Killer Croc's head into the rooftop.

Be careful, because Killer Croc immediately gets up and strikes the ground, knocking Batman off his feet. Quickly perform an Evade move to avoid taking damage from this attack.

At this point, Killer Croc goes over to the explosive tanks and picks one up, while a helicopter delivers two Black Mask thugs. Quick-fire a series of Batarangs at the big guy to make the container detonate, causing serious damage to your nemesis. If you don't knock the explosive out of his hands, he tosses it your way. Be ready to evade to the side to avoid the projectile.

(CONTINUES ON NEXT PAGE)

Focus on the two thugs as Killer Croc stumbles for a bit. When you see the red bolts above his head, either evade his attack, or hit him with a Cape Stun. This allows you to keep fighting the two pests.

Be sure to spin the camera around so you can see when the boss is coming. If you decide to pound away at the big guy with the thugs still around, be ready to use a counter if one strikes at you.

If Killer Croc grabs Batman, rapidly press the Run button to escape his clutches by head-butting and kicking him back. If you fail to break free, the big guy tosses Batman like a rag doll.

After you do knock him back, prepare yourself. Killer Croc strikes the ground again, so evade this move to avoid taking big damage.

Next, Killer Croc goes for another tank and three additional thugs come in from a chopper. Quick-fire Batarangs to destroy his potential projectile, and handle Black Mask's men with counters and strikes. Continue to either evade the big guy's charging attack or hit him with your cape while you take down the thugs.

The reptile goes for one more tank; destroy it with a quick-fired Batarang. Batman then knocks the beast down and interrogates him for information on his boss. Croc informs the hero about Black Mask's bounty, which has brought the deadliest assassins to Gotham City.

»»WAYNETECH UPGRADES

Defeating Killer Croc gives you enough XP to earn your first Upgrade Point. You can spend these points at the WayneTech screen to unlock upgrades and improve Batman's skills and equipment. There are three categories that can be improved: Close Combat Upgrades, Invisible Predator Upgrades, and Auxiliary Upgrades.

USE THE BATCOMPUTER TO ANALYZE THE MEMORY CARD

Once you gain control of Batman in his Batcave, follow Alfred down to the Batcomputer. Use it to watch the surveillance video contained on the drone memory card. This reveals more information on the assassins that Black Mask has brought to Gotham City.

TRACK DOWN THE PENGUIN

Batman traces the drone to the Penguin, but tracking the villain down may prove to be a tougher task. The drone's next wave point is a rendezvous with the Penguin's men at Jezebel Plaza. That is your next objective, but before leaving, talk to Alfred to earn an easy 4000 XP. Every time you visit the Batcave, speak with Alfred to earn extra experience. XP is only earned the first time you talk to him, however.

COMBAT TRAINING

Combat Training is now unlocked in the Batcave. Use the computer in the northern area to access it, or access it from the Story Mode menu. This part of Challenge Mode gives you the opportunity to brush up on many of Batman's core abilities.

INTERROGATE THE PENGUIN'S ARMS DEALER

Access the Batwing on the central platform to exit the Batcave. Selecting the Batwing Drop Point in The Bowery sends Batman on his way to his destination, but something is interfering with the control towers. This must be investigated, so drop in at the Coventry GCR Tower first.

Move forward and use Detective Vision to spot armed enemies in the next room. Open the door to startle them as one grabs a hostage in the back of the room. Immediately press the Counter button to throw down a Smoke Pellet, then grapple up to the vantage point above. This puts you in a position where you can scope out the situation and plan your assault. Use Detective Vision again to notice that four armed hostiles are present. This mode also allows you to easily spot more vantage points ahead.

FAST TRAVEL

All seven districts of Gotham City and the Batcave have Batwing Drop Points, which you can select to immediately travel to that location. This allows for quick movement around the city, so that you do not have to run and grapple too far to get to your chosen destination.

OBJECTIVE MARKER

An exclamation mark icon appears on the map where your current objective is located. It is also available on your HUD's compass, so you can easily find your way to your destination. This represents your next objective in Story Mode, though you can also place markers for side missions once they become available. Pressing the Counter button on the map places a Waypoint, which you can then track on your compass.

Grapple to the point ahead, and then on to the lookout in the corner. This places you directly above one of the thugs and his captive. Press the Crouch button to hang from the platform, then press the Counter button to perform an Inverted Takedown against the foe. Hop down and pry the vent cover off the wall in the far corner.

Crawl inside and follow it to the next room, where another hostile stands just outside the vent. Press the Counter button to perform a Grate Takedown on this enemy, saving the second hostage. Climb into another ventilation shaft to the right, and take it to a hidden room. Approach the weak portion of wall on the right, and use Detective Vision to spot a hostile just on the other side. Perform a Wooden Wall Takedown on the thug to free the third worker.

»» DARK KNIGHT CHALLENGES

After performing these three Takedowns, you complete the first Dark Knight Challenge in Predator. This earns you 2500 XP and unlocks the next challenge. Always check which tasks are available in the Dark Knight System, and look for opportunities like this to complete them.

One hostile remains in the tower. Turn left, and move down the hallway until you reach a dead end. The final guy is above, standing next to the edge. Hold the Grapple button to hang from the ledge, and then press the Counter button to perform a Ledge Takedown—pulling the lone gunman over the railing.

Climb up and move through the next door to reach the Control Room. Run around the corner to find a hole in the wall. Tap the Detective Vision button to use the Evidence Scanner. Place the cursor on the body inside the wall, and hold the button to scan. This identifies the victim as David Shannon.

»» CASEFILE REPORTS

As you progress through Story Mode, Casefiles become available throughout the city. When one opens up, use your Evidence Scanner to solve the case and track down the criminal to close the report. For complete details on these cases, refer to the Casefile Reports section of this guide.

Rewind the crime scene to the beginning and carefully advance it. A red trail appears on the other side of the victim, representing the path of his keycard. Toggle the Evidence Scanner off, walk over to the vent cover, and pry it off the wall. Now you can scan in the keycard that lies inside to gain access to the Municipal Security Codes, which allow you to hack any of the network tower access panels.

Select the Cryptographic Sequencer, and target the security console. Use it to enter "UNFORTUNATE" as the password to unlock the door. Climb the ladder to reach the roof of the GCR Tower building, and enter the Coventry District. Approach the door ahead, and rapidly press the Run button to gain access to the Tower Maintenance Access.

» CRYPTOGRAPHIC SEQUENCER

There are many doors and equipment in Gotham City that are protected by one of these security consoles. Your Cryptographic Sequencer allows you to hack into the network and unlock the doors or disable the equipment. Hold the Aim Gadget button, move around until a cursor appears on the console, and then press the Crouch button to pull out the gadget. A scrambled word appears on the screen, which is separated in half. The left analog stick controls the left half, and the right handles the rest. Spin the sticks around until each half creates part of a word. If the entire word is the password, then access is gained, or the next password is required. As the game progresses, this becomes tougher, with multiple word combinations used. In a few cases, three passwords are required.

» GCR COMMS TOWER

The other six districts also have Comms Towers that are currently experiencing interference from Enigma's jammers. As you travel to these locations, make your way past Enigma's defenses to reach the towers and hack his jammers. With them out of the way, fast travel makes getting around Gotham City much easier. For more details on each tower, refer to the Enigma Most Wanted section.

Another security console protects the tower, so step inside and pull out the Cryptographic Sequencer. After a message from Enigma, use it to enter "NOFLYZONE" as the password. This frees up the Comms Tower in Coventry and allows you to fast travel to the district. Exit out the side gate, and climb the ladder to reach the top of the structure and enter the open world.

» THE OPEN WORLD

Now that you have reached the open world, the game becomes less linear, and your options become greater. The objective marker still points the way to the Penguin's men, but you can also go investigate Enigma's headquarters or explore the city. Crime has increased as delinquents take advantage of Batman's preoccupation with Black Mask's bounty. Look for the Crime in Progress tracker to appear on the right side of your HUD. Use it to find the criminals around the city and stop them for extra XP. As you explore the city, eliminating thugs, finding DataPacks, and destroying Network Relays all earn you XP.

A detailed world map from the game Arkham Origins, showing the layout of Gotham City and its surrounding areas. The map is divided into 16 numbered locations, each marked with a red icon. The locations are distributed across the city, with some areas being more densely populated than others. The map is oriented with North at the top, and the city's layout is shown in a stylized, blocky manner. The locations are numbered 1 through 16, with 16 being the largest and most prominent area at the bottom of the map.

By using the Grapnel

Gun, Batman can travel great distances without ever touching the ground. Practice using this technique as you head north toward your destination in The Bowery. Move up the Gotham City Bridge and land just west of the Wonder Tower.

Here, you must cut through the Gotham City Light & Power building to reach the desired district. Glide down to the lower level and climb over the fence ahead to enter The Bowery. Grapple up to the rooftops and continue west until you are above the destination. Drop into the opening below to find the meeting place. Batman automatically grapples up to a vantage point, where he can overlook the exchange.

ENIGMA MOST WANTED NOW AVAILABLE

After you solve the Coventry Tower Deathtrap Casefile and hack into the Comms Tower, Enigma becomes available in the Most Wanted tab of the Mission Interface menu. There are 10 Network Relays in each district that you can destroy with a Batarang. They become visible on the map once you have brought their corresponding towers back online. The city also hosts 200 DataPacks, which unlock Enigma's Extortion Files. These are all part of his side mission; track them by selecting Enigma from the Most Wanted tab.

DEACTIVATE THE JAMMING SIGNAL

A jamming signal keeps you from hacking the SIM card, so you must deal with that before continuing the Penguin hunt. This is the same interference affecting the Batwing Drop Points, so head to The Bowery Comms Tower to investigate. Head directly north and then west to find the GCR Tower.

Face the building to the west and notice the electrical current that runs along the bars, which blocks your entrance to the tower. Select your Remote Control Batarang, and throw it into the electricity. Then, guide it into the fuse box that hangs on the far wall.

This allows Batman access inside. Approach the locked door, and pry it open by rapidly pressing the listed button. Step inside the Maintenance Access, and use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "KEEPOUT" as the password. After a short conversation with Enigma, exit the tower. You now have access to another Batwing Drop Point in The Bowery District. The Network Relays appear on the map, as well.

Batman attempts to hack the SIM card again with his Cryptographic Sequencer. Move the cursor down and to the right until it is within the pulsing circle. If you are spotted, drop a Smoke Pellet and quickly grapple out of the area. Move around until they lose you again. Though you can fight these guys openly, it is much safer to stay quiet. Plus, you earn more XP that way. With the area secure, use the computer to snag the second SIM card. » ENIGMA DATAPACKS

Just after entering the Final Offer, look up and to the right to find a cover that you can pull open with your Batclaw. Use the gadget again to grab the DataPack from inside. These items litter all of the interior areas of Gotham City. The Story Mode section of this guide does not discuss each one, so refer to the Most Wanted section of this guide for full details on all 200 DataPack locations. Some of these cannot be retrieved until you return with another gadget.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: High

1 Melee Weapon

7 Enemies

2 Firearms

Go through the gate ahead and follow the hallway around to the right. Down below, you can see a deal going down in the gun shop. Continue down the steps until you are just outside that room. Open the gate, quietly approach the closest foe, then perform a Combat Takedown. Immediately, strike the second armed enemy on the left side of the room, and continue eliminating the rest of the group. Be careful: adversaries can pick up dropped firearms. Listen for a thug talking about picking one up, and take him down. With the room cleared out, approach the drone that sits in the corner to verify Batman's hunch that the first one belonged to the Penguin. Exit out the nearby door.

» GUN LOCKERS

In many combat encounters, a gun locker sits along the edge of the room, providing firearm access to enemies. It takes a little time for them to unlock this container, and as they do so, an alarm goes off. Any time you hear this sound or see someone getting into the locker, aim your next attack that way. This can save your combo, since one shot is all it takes to stop it.

Move down the corridor, toward the Crew Quarters. Open the right door to enter Deck 1. Around the next corner, you reach a flooded hallway on the right, with no way to get across. Run straight ahead to jump the gap, then enter an opening on the right side. Continue to the left to find five unarmed hostiles in the next room.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Medium

1 Melee Weapon

5 Enemies

1 Knife

Hop over to the pipe that juts out of the wall and carefully travel along it to the other side of the room. Leap over to the right, and enter the next room to find yourself with a nice vantage point of the thugs. With the blue bat-symbol above the nearest foe's head, press the Strike button to hit him with a Glide Kick. Keep the combo going as you eliminate the five enemies.

With the room secured, walk over to the east side and fire the Batclaw at the raft, rapidly pressing the given button to pull it your way. Hop on, and use the gadget again on the ring just ahead. This allows Batman to pull the raft that way. Once you are through the opening, look right and fire the claw at the next ring, pulling the raft in that direction. Repeat this move with another ring to the left. Now you should see a ring hanging from a platform on the left. Use the Batclaw one last time to pull the thing down, allowing you to grapple up to the next floor.

Turn right and ascend the steps to enter the Boiler Deck. Just ahead, a fight takes place as hostiles watch from the surrounding balcony. The Penguin can be heard stating that he is going to his office. Steam escapes from the pipes to the right, but it is intermittent, allowing you to slip through in between the bursts. To the right, grapple up to the next ledge and then up to a higher level on the left.

DEFEAT ELECTROCUTIONER

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Extreme

2 Melee Weapons

15 Enemies

2 Knives

The Electrocuter talks a big game as he shoots electricity out of his gloves. Once you tire of his big mouth, walk up to him, and strike him once to knock him out cold. This brings out 15 of the Penguin's men from the upper level. Take them out with strikes, counters, and Special Combo Takedowns until no one remains. Watch out for the knife-wielding enemies, and be ready to avoid their attacks with a Blade Dodge.

GAIN ACCESS TO THE PENGUIN'S OFFICE

Once the room is clear, walk up to Electrocuter's body and examine it. Exit through the northern door and climb up the steps to the right. Go through the door ahead to reach the Deck Access Corridor.

Descend the steps and hop off the ledge to the lower level. Follow the hallway to the left, jumping over the gap and sliding under the pipe. Climb the next wall by running through it, then turn left and crawl around to the right. Run and slide under the next wall to drop down to the lower level again. Approach the icy wall on the right, and spray Explosive Gel onto the surface. Detonate it, and listen to the voices coming from another room.

Grapple across the gap to the metal platform, turn to the left, and use the Grapnel Gun to reach a walkway above. Follow it around to the left and hop over to the balcony ahead. The security console next to the door is inaccessible at the moment, as you do not have the necessary security code. Turn left and run off the edge to jump over to the beam. Shimmy to the right until you cannot go any farther, and then look up and to the right to spot a ledge high above. Grapple up to it.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Very Low

2 Enemies

Move to the left edge, then grapple up to another ledge up and to the left. It may be tempting to perform a Ledge Takedown on the closest foe, but climb over the rail instead. Quietly approach the two enemies from the right and eliminate them with a Double Takedown. Move ahead, up the steps, and through the door to reach the upper deck.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Low

3 Enemies

1 Firearm

Use Detective Vision to spot three hostiles around the corner, including one armed foe. Toss a Remote Control Batarang, and guide it into the armed enemy to knock him down. Move in, then take all three down. Go through the gate and continue to the end of the hallway. It appears that the Electrocuter has escaped, but Batman should be able to track him down by isolating the signal from his gloves.

Look up to the ceiling and use the Batclaw to grab the ring. Rapidly press the given button to pull it down, and grapple up to the next floor. Pry the vent cover off the left wall, then crawl inside. At the other end, kick out another cover. Follow the path left and then right to reach the bar.

Enter the double doors to reach the casino. Three of the Penguin's men discuss their job on the floor below. Wait for the armed enemy to turn around, sneak up behind him, and take him down. Continue your combo as you eliminate the other two. Batman snags another SIM card from a walkie-talkie as Tracey shows up on the second floor.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Extreme

1 Armored Enemy

9 Enemies

2 Knives

Several more thugs emerge from the lower door—two carry a knife, while another is fully armored. Remember to use Blade Dodge against the former and Cape Stun against the latter. Watch out for projectiles that the Penguin's men throw your way, and counter the move to return their volleys. Be aware that the gun from the previous fight still lies on the ground. This is a tough fight, but remember that you can evade out of the way and still keep your combo going. After you've cleared out the casino floor, Batman deciphers the Penguin's security code.

Enter the room where the hostiles emerged from, and use the button to call the elevator. Ride the lift up to the second floor.

As Batman approaches Tracey, she reaches for some kind of weapon. Counter the strike to lock her up. Use the Cryptographic Sequencer on another security console at Tracey's desk, and enter "MAKEADEAL" as the password to unlock the door to the theater. Dive through the nearby window to quickly return to the casino floor.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: High

3 Enemies

The door ahead is locked tight, with three more hostiles on the other side. Go to the right corner of the room, pull the vent cover off the wall, and crawl inside. Use the Cryptographic Sequencer to hack into the console on the wall ahead, and enter "CLANDESTINE" as the password. This unlocks the door in the casino, sending the three guys out to look for Batman. Return back through the ventilation shaft, then sneak up on the closest thug and take him down. Defeat the other two, eliminating the armed enemy first.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Extreme

3 Enemies

1 Enforcer

1 Melee Weapon

2 Knives

Open the door to the theater before a bigger thug knocks Batman back inside. Three normal enemies are here, too. The big enemy is one of the Penguin's enforcers. Redirect his attacks, or perform a Cape Stun into a Beatdown to take him out of the fight. Clear out the room, and then proceed into the theater lobby.

» ENFORCERS

Enforcers charge at Batman, picking him up along the way. When an enforcer reaches the wall, Batman is pinned against it and thrown to the ground. Watch out for the red bolts over the foe's head, which signifies that his next attack cannot be countered—whether it is this charge attack or just an attempt to grab Batman. If he manages to grab Batman, rapidly press the Run button to break free and knock him down. You can avoid this charge by redirecting the foe as you evade over his head. Performing a Cape Stun and rapidly striking at his midsection can also stop this attack. Once you are able to finish off the Beatdown attack, Batman slams the big guy to the ground, which knocks him out cold.

PREDATOR ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Medium

6 Armed Enemies

Feel free to use the Final Offer display ahead to hear more about it. Once you are ready to move on, continue straight into the theater. Here, you are presented with a Predator encounter, so immediately grapple up to a vantage point to survey the room. Six hostiles roam the big room, with one of Falcone's thugs being held hostage in the middle. Floor grates litter the room, along with weak walls that can be exploded next to a hostile. There are many ways to take down the enemies in this room, and mixing it up goes a long way in increasing the XP earned. If you immediately grapple to the best vantage point as you enter the room, you can get a quick Inverted Takedown. Eliminate all six foes, and then talk to the hostage to learn that the Penguin is dealing with Alberto Falcone. Approach the exit opposite of where you entered the theater while the Penguin attempts to persuade Falcone.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Low

1 Melee Weapon

Batman interrupts the party and gets into a fight with four of the Penguin's men. The biggest threat is the thug with a knife, so be ready with a Blade Dodge. Once they are taken care of, Batman interrogates the thug for information on Black Mask. At this point, another assassin shows up—Deathstroke.

TRACK DOWN THE PENGUIN

DEATHSTROKE ATTACKS

The fight is taken into the middle of the Boiler Deck. During the fight with Deathstroke, always be ready with a counter, or at least evade if you see a strike coming. Be ready for Deathstroke to perform a few attacks in succession. Follow up a successful counter with a couple strikes to the boss.

After tossing the assassin, quick-fire the Batclaw to bring him toward you, then perform a Batclaw Slam to damage Deathstroke.

Continue to counter Deathstroke's attacks, getting in your own strikes and Batclaw Slams when the opportunities arise. Eventually, Deathstroke escapes with the use of a Smoke Pellet and performs a jump attack. Rapidly press the Counter button to fend off the series of blows. After Batman head-butts Deathstroke, perform a Beatdown on him to knock his health down a bit. This may knock the villain's helmet off, and if Batman grabs his staff, he breaks it in two. Deathstroke pulls out his sword at this point.

If Deathstroke pulls out his gun and starts firing, use the Batclaw Quickfire to interrupt him, giving you time to close in and possibly get in a Batclaw Slam. If you are too far away to use this gadget, throw down a Smoke Pellet to mask your movements.

Deathstroke carries a cool new gadget called the Remote Claw. He jumps into the air and fires it into Batman's chest. The other end is attached to a red barrel that sits on the balcony. This device brings the two together with an explosive result. Press the Counter button as it heads your way to catch it and throw it at the boss.

The tactics are the same to defeat Deathstroke when his sword is out. Counter his strikes, and get in Batclaw Slams whenever possible. His jump attack is the same as with the staff. Knock his health down with a Beatdown. Eventually, you knock Deathstroke out, but the Penguin escapes with his assistants. Before pursuing the villain, snatch the Remote Claw from the unconscious assassin.

REMOTE CLAW

A sophisticated projectile gadget that runs a line between two objects—enemies, certain items, or anchor points. Once the projectile attaches to two targets, a powerful internal reel uses the rope to pull the two targets together. This has various effects depending on which targets are chosen. It can create a tightrope between anchor points, smash adversaries together to stun them, or launch explosive objects at foes to knock them out. Aim the Remote Claw at the first object or enemy. Press the Grapple button to connect one end, and then aim at the second desired point and press the button again. If a green line appears between the two points when you first aim the gadget, simply press the Crouch button to place a cable between them.

Immediately, there is a use for your new gadget. High on the walls at each end of the Boiler Deck are anchor points. By connecting a cable between the two, you can grapple up to it and use it to reach higher levels. As you aim the Remote Claw at one of these points, a green line appears between them. This means that you can simply press the Crouch button to fire the cable. Otherwise, you must press the Grapple button at each desired point to connect the wire.

Once you are on the cable, walk to the far north end, and drop onto the balcony. There is no way into the Penguin's office, but you do learn about a murder at Lacey Towers. Defeating the Penguin must wait for another day. Right now, you need to head to the apartment building and investigate the crime. Exit the ship out the south end in pretty much the same manner as you came. When you reach the flooded corridor, use the Remote Claw to place a cable between the anchor points.

ANARKY MOST WANTED NOW AVAILABLE

As you exit the Final Offer, Anarky appears on the monitors in the Gun Shop. As the "voice of the people," he announces himself to Gotham City and declares that he will take care of the city's problems. Listen to his plea on the main deck of the ship to get things started. Refer to the Most Wanted section of this guide for full details.

Lacey Towers is located in Coventry, so access the map and select the Batwing Drop Point in that district. Alfred has notified Batman that the police found Black Mask murdered inside an apartment there. Travel south a short distance to find the apartment building and land on the rooftop just to the west, where the police have set up a mobile satellite dish. Three SWAT members patrol the roof and attack Batman as soon as he appears. Take them down, then use the Cryptographic Sequencer to hack into their network. Place the cursor inside the circle to decrypt the signal.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Very Low

From there, Batman spots a balcony that can be used to gain access to the crime scene. Grapple over to that location, but do not climb over the railing. Shimmy around until Batman is directly below the two SWAT guards, and perform a Double Ledge Takedown to eliminate them. Enter the door behind them to access Lacey Towers.

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

Go into the kitchen and look to the right of the sink to find more DNA. Scan it in to learn it is from the female victim. Rewind this part of the crime, then play it back. Watch the red trail that follows the object she was messing with. Her phone is located in the living room and holds key evidence. Scanning it in closes the case but gives you more to investigate. Leave the apartment building the way you came in.

ACQUIRE THE CONCUSSION DETONATOR AT THE BATCAVE

Next to the exit, a SWAT member stands guard with a shield. Normal strikes are no use against this protection. Watch out for his shield bash, since it cannot be countered. Hit him with a Cape Stun, then press the Run button twice to perform an Aerial Attack. Finish him off with a Ground Takedown.

In order to find out who else was at Lacey Towers, Batman must break into the Gotham City Police Department and hack into their computer network. Follow Alfred's suggestion, and fast travel back to the Batcave.

Walk past the Batcomputer and descend the next set of stairs to find the workbench on your left. Grab the Concussion Detonator off the table, then head back upstairs. Talk to Alfred for easy XP, and then return to the Batwing. GCPD is located on the south side of Burnley. Select the Coventry Batwing Drop Point and travel southeast to the desired district.

CONCUSSION DETONATOR

A non-lethal explosive munition designed for crowd control scenarios, this tool blinds and confuses anyone caught in the blast radius. Throw a small explosive that adheres to your target. After a few seconds, it detonates, creating a powerful blast that can blind and confuse nearby enemies, diminishing their effectiveness and making them a hazard to one another. It's an excellent crowd control device. Quick-fire the Concussion Detonator by pressing the Aim Gadget button + Cape Stun button during combat.

ACCESS THE GCPD SERVERS

Now that you have the Remote Claw, you can hack into the Burnley Comms Tower. Continue to the police station to the far south. Since Loeb's death, extra guards have been stationed at all police precincts, so finding a way to sneak in may prove tricky.

INVESTIGATE THE NEW VILLAN

Grapple up to one of the vantage points that surrounds the center tower of the GCPD and move around to the back side. Several armed guards patrol the rooftop, including two snipers on the platform below. Quietly drop behind him, perform a Silent Takedown, and return to your perch. Over to the right, a lone officer walks the helipad. Take him down silently.

Remove the two guards who patrol to the left, then grapple to the top of the roof access in the southwest corner of the building. Only the two men who guard the door remain. Use your Remote Claw to knock them both out, and then hit them with Ground Takedowns. Now you can enter the building to reach Rooftop Maintenance.

Descend the steps and place Explosive Gel on the weak brick wall of the elevator shaft. Detonate it, then climb inside. You hear two officers below, but they are inside the elevator car. Hop to the lift, and ride it down. Climb up the ledges to the right and walk through the access area that runs alongside the GCPD bullpen.

At this point, Alfred marks the location of the GCPD server room on your map.

Through the door on the right, you reach the manager's office. Crouch down and move over to the open door, and snap to cover. There are 22 hostiles nearby, but only three occupy the next room, and they all have their backs turned. Sneak up behind them, take two of them out with a Double Takedown, and counter the third foe's strike.

The far right door leads to the locker room and is inaccessible at the moment, as it requires a gadget that you haven't found yet. Instead, look above the next door to the left to spot another vent cover. Use your Batclaw to pull it off, and grapple up to it. This takes you to the conference room, where many of the SWAT officers are meeting. Instead of trying to take them all on, use the Remote Claw to span a cable across the two anchor points ahead. Walk the tightrope to the next room and silently drop to the ground.

Aim at one of the cops, and throw a Concussion Detonator. This gives you time to swoop down and get in some free strikes before they revive. Concentrate on taking out the armored officer first, then eliminate the rest. Approach the east gate and use the button to open it up.

The next door leads to the Infirmary. Move to the opposite corner, where the elevator has been sealed up with concrete. Place Explosive Gel on this wall and detonate it to gain access to the derelict elevator shaft. Steam leaks block the routes to the right and left, so you must go up. Grapple to a small platform high above, and then look up to find a couple of anchor points. Fire the Remote Claw to place a cable between them, then grapple up to it.

Walk a tightrope into the ventilation shaft at the end of the cable to access the evidence locker. In the opposite corner, grab the Disruptor off of the desk. Drop back down the elevator shaft, then return to the holding cells. The gate is locked and the switch is on the other side. Fortunately, you can hack a security console sitting on this side, but a jammer interferes with your gadget. Pull out the Disruptor, and use it to disable the jammer that hangs above the console. Then, use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "LOCKDOWN" as the password, opening the gate.

DISRUPTOR

A broad-spectrum design in a collapsible carbine form, this device remotely disables technologies such as security systems, enemy firearms, and jammer devices. Enemies are not alerted to firearm disruption until they attempt to fire their weapon. You can also use this gadget to disable automatic sentry guns. Two consecutive uses of the Disruptor trigger a cooldown period due to excessive heat output. You can also grab upgrades to disable PA systems and mines, too. »»VENOM USERS

This enemy is hopped up on Venom, a narcotic, and is stronger than the typical thug. Red marks above his head signify that the upcoming attack cannot be countered. You can avoid his grab attack by evading over his head. He also employs a regular strike that can be countered. Complete a Beatdown or perform a Special Combo Takedown to pull out the hose from his back, devolving him to just a normal thug.

Use your Disruptor to disable the jammer next to the server room door, and then pull out the Cryptographic Sequencer. Use it to enter "AUTHORIZEDONLY" as the password, then proceed inside. Seven Black Mask mobsters hang out in the big elevator to the left. The middle guy is a martial artist and the front one is fully armored. Target the martial artist and take him down as you initiate a fight with the group. Once you've cleared out the elevator, use the button to activate it.

After discussing the Lacey Towers case with Alfred, Batman has found his next destination: Gotham City Merchant's Bank. Exit out the door on the right.

ACCESS THE GOTHAM CITY MERCHANT'S BANK

Solving the Lacey Towers murder leads Batman to Gotham City Merchant's Bank in The Bowery. Head right and climb the ladder to exit the Burnley Sewers. Step up to the security console on the right wall and enter

"HATSHOP" as the password to return to the open world. Once you are ready to move ahead in the story, select the Batwing Drop Point in The Bowery.

Travel along the buildings to the south, then grapple up to the bank's rooftop on the west side. The door to the roof access is locked, so run around to the backside to find a weak section of the wall. Place Explosive Gel on it and blow it open. Enter the hatch inside to access the Gotham City Merchant's Bank.

MAD HATTER MOST WANTED NOW AVAILABLE

After exiting the Burnley Sewers, Batman is greeted by three criminals in bunny masks. Along with the Mad Hatter, they invite him to a party at the Hat Shop in The Bowery. This begins a side mission. Refer to the Most Wanted chapter in this guide for more information.

JEZEBEL PLAZA FALL CASEFILE

As you near Jezebel Plaza, you learn of a victim who died after falling from a nearby building. The location appears on your map with a magnifying glass icon. This starts a string of cases that you can solve on the side for extra XP. For information on all of the cases that you can solve around Gotham City, see the Casefiles chapter of this guide.

This puts you behind the clock. The Bank Access is to the right, with a security console protecting it from unwanted entry. A jammer above the door interferes with your Cryptographic Sequencer, so use the Disruptor to disable it. Now, you can enter "OPENSESAME" as the password and access the bank.

Bodies are strewn all around the bank, so proceed cautiously. Glide over to the left walkway, then run to the far end of the room. Using Detective Vision, you can see that there are six armed enemies inside the vault, so you should find a less risky way to get inside. Use the Batclaw to pull a vent cover off the east side of the wall and grapple up to it.

Follow the vent around to the right, bust open the cover at the other end, and drop into the access area. Spray Explosive Gel on the structurally weak floor, then detonate it to take out two of the men. After a confrontation with the bank robbers, an explosion knocks Batman out of the vault and takes the life of a bank manager.

1 Jammer Enemy

Immediately, grapple up to one of the vantage points, as the Joker's men now occupy the room. One of them carries a portable jamming device, so your Detective Vision is scrambled at the moment. This enemy should be your first target so that you can survey the situation without interference. You can see where the source of the interference is, since he shows up as a red icon with an exclamation point. You can also get an idea of where other thugs are as you scan the room because they show up as targets for Batman's Glide Kick.

Quietly drop down near the jammer enemy and get behind him to perform a Silent Takedown. Or, if you see him headed toward a vantage point, you can use an Inverted Takedown to eliminate him from the fight. You can also use the Disruptor to disable the device. With him out of the way, you can better plot your course around the room as you eliminate the Joker's men. Use the different sections of the bank to isolate the foes, then take them down from the floor grates and vents, or through the windows and structurally weak walls. The last thug surrenders, so approach and interrogate him to find out about the Steel Mill. This is Batman's next destination.

INVESTIGATE THE STEEL MILL

Before leaving the bank, run over to the vault and find the bank manager's body. Use the Evidence Scanner to scan it in; it shows that she died from a poison. With added guilt, exit the bank through the front door. Beware of the SWAT members who are huddled up just ahead. Take them down, and then head east to the Industrial District.

Grapple up to the walkway on the right and perform a Silent Takedown against the sniper. Climb onto the railing, then scope out the remaining five foes. One hangs out above the door, and the other four guards patrol the grounds in front. Isolate each one, then eliminate them with various takedowns. Do not forget about the Disruptor, which you can use to disable two of the enemies' firearms.

Once the area is secure, Alfred informs you that he has isolated the electromagnetic signal from Electrocutioner's gloves. This needs to wait until after the Steel Mill, though. Go through the front door to enter the building's loading bay.

Several thugs roam the lab, but a portable jammer keeps you from getting a complete picture at the moment. Use the vantage points to move to the other end of the room and spot the foe who is interfering with your equipment. Hit him with the Disruptor, or drop down and eliminate him for good with a Silent Takedown. There are a few explosive canisters around the room that you can attach to one of the foes with the Remote Claw, resulting in an easy takedown. The venting along the left side and the floor grates all throughout the room serve as good locations for quick takedowns. Once you've cleared the room of all enemies, climb the steps in the far left corner from the entrance, and open the door to reach Black Mask's office. Approach the man who is tied up on the right to release his shackles.

SCAN A SAMPLE OF COPPERHEAD'S POISON

As you interrogate the villain, the assassin known as Copperhead shows up and gets the jump on Batman, managing to poison him. Now you must scan a sample of the poison so that an antidote can be created. Turn on the Evidence Scanner, and find the perspiration on the tiled floor. Scan it in so that you can track her movements. Hold down the button to reconstruct the event. Advance the reconstruction, and watch out for the red tracking line. Trace it up to the ceiling, and scan in the droplet of poison left behind. Batman sends the analysis to the Batcomputer so Alfred can deliver the cure. You need to get up to ground level to reach the airdrop.

REACH THE ANTIDOTE DROP POINT

Due to the poison, Batman's vision is blurred and his movements are slow and awkward. Stumble through the lab and down the hallway. Ride the elevator up to the main floor, and continue toward the warehouse. Before you can get there, Copperhead attacks.

FOLLOW HIS TRAIL

POISONED MELEE

Due to the chemicals in Batman's body, it looks like there are three Copperheads, but only one is really the assassin. Counter and strike the three just as you would normal enemies. Whenever she grabs Batman, rapidly press the Run button to throw her down. Now you can continue into the warehouse.

There, the ninja drops in alongside several illusory duplicates. Counter and strike the hallucinations as well as Copperhead herself. The fake ones just evaporate, but hitting the real boss knocks her back and causes damage. If a ninja evades your attack and causes you to whiff, continue on to another foe, since this action does not break your combo.

Occasionally, the ninja attack with their claws. Look out for the yellow marking above Copperhead's head, and be ready to evade the lunging attack with a Blade Dodge. Prepare a regular counter from all sides, as two or three ninja may attack simultaneously.

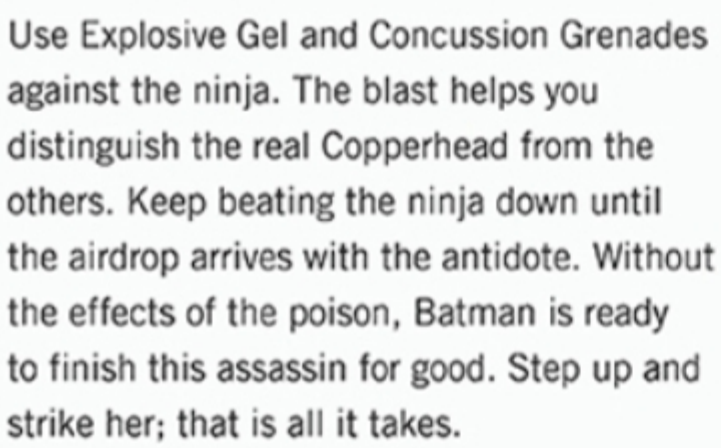

Just as before, Copperhead jumps onto Batman and wraps him up. Rapidly press the Run button to grab her and throw her to the ground. If you throw the real assassin, the move deals significant damage. Otherwise, the illusion just disappears.

Late in the fight, Copperhead starts using a Dash attack. Watch for a flash that telegraphs its arrival, and evade out of the way to avoid taking damage.

In order to pick up Electrocutioner's signature, Batman must get to higher ground. Head to the central pillar on Gotham City Pioneer's Bridge, and grapple to the top. There, Batman is able to get a bead on the signal. A tracker appears on the right side of your HUD. The big number represents the distance to Electrocutioner, turning red if you move away from him.

HELICOPTER CRASH CASEFILE

As you near the bridge, Alfred informs you of a disturbance nearby. In The Bowery, an S.O.S. broadcast needs to be investigated. Once you check out the signal, begin another Casefile. You can find full details on the crime and solution in the Casefiles chapter of this strategy guide.

TRACK THE ELECTROMAGNETIC SIGNATURE

The tracker leads you to the Gotham City Royal Hotel on the far east side of Diamond District. As you approach from the west, move along the alley, just south of the GCR Tower, and land on the right, on the lower rooftop. A sniper guards the front of the building just ahead. Eliminate him with a Silent Takedown. Several other officers assess the situation inside the hotel down on the street. It isn't necessary, but if you want the extra XP, hop down and take them out.

Alfred informs Batman of a security room that he can use to track down his target. Turn left, and enter the doors ahead to reach the hotel lobby. Armed thugs litter the room, providing a good opportunity to use your Predator skills on them. Sneak over to the barrels on the left, and snap to cover against them. When an enemy gets close, knock him out with a Corner Takedown. Sneak onto the walkway that spans the middle of the room, and eliminate another foe with a Silent Takedown. Grapple up to one of the vantage points and attempt to survey the room. A Mobile Jammer interferes with your Detective Vision, so he should be your next target. Swing around the perimeter of the room until you can see where he is, then use the Disruptor to disable the jamming device. Now you can see that six hostiles remain. Pick them off one at a time using a variety of takedowns.

» THERMAL GOGGLE ENEMIES

From here on out, you will usually see at least one enemy in a Predator encounter wearing Thermal Goggles. This allows the foe to scan vantage points and spot the presence of Batman. A distinct sound signifies that an enemy is using the equipment, so quickly grapple to another perch if you are about to be discovered. It's not too difficult to kill these guys. Move to a nearby location as your enemy scans, then immediately grapple to that vantage point to score an Inverted Takedown.

With the room cleared out, drop down to the floor, and run over to the security room that is located at the base of the statue. Use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "EYESPY" in the security console, and step inside. The cameras reveal where the villains are holding their meeting. After exiting the room, Batman collects a shockingly powerful new gadget.

SHOCK GLOVES

This gadget is extremely helpful in exploration and combat. Electrical subsystems and portable generators can be charged with the device, allowing you to reach previously inaccessible locations and items. Each strike of an enemy during a fight charges up the Shock Gloves. Once the battery meter fills up, click both analog sticks to activate the gloves. This rapidly increases your combo multiplier with each attack, allowing use of more advanced techniques. This gadget also ignores various armors, shields, and weapons.

GAIN ACCESS TO THE PENTHOUSE

Climb into the lift, and use the Shock Gloves on the generator to get it moving. When it comes to a stop, grapple up to the beam above, and then crawl through the open window on the 10th floor of the East Tower. Run around the corner and through the doors. Charge up the electrical subsystem on the wall to slightly raise the gate ahead.

Eight armed men present another opportunity for predatory tactics. Grapple up to one of the vantage points and survey the room. There is no jammer device to take care of this time, but there are mines strewn about, along with men carrying them. With the correct upgrade, you can disable mines with the Disruptor. Attach the explosives scattered around to unsuspecting foes for easy knockouts.

The HVAC system gives you places to perform Vent Takedowns on each side of the room. These lead to the showers below the pool, which is pretty isolated from the rest of the room. If available, use a Sonic Batarang to attract a foe to the area, and then knock him out with a Silent Takedown.

After you take down a few of the enemies, mines are armed on each of the vantage points. Stay in the grates and vents if possible. If you must escape to one of the perches, do not stay long, or the blast will take you out. Once the room is clear, drop down and walk around to the elevator, which is accessed on the lower floor in the back by the bar.

Use the Cryptographic Sequencer on the security console to enter "SPLASHDOWN" as the password. Step inside the elevator, and ride it up to the Penthouse. After taking a beating from the assassin Bane, you regain control of Batman in another room.

DEFEAT BANE

BATTLE BANE

Bane is extremely big and strong, with venom pumping through his body. He has a regular strike that can be countered, and you are able to hit him without stunning him. When you get an opening, perform a Cape Stun into a Beatdown to knock his health down. Be ready to counter, though, as he can strike at you during this move.

Bane has two moves that cannot be countered. If he is next to Batman and red marks appear above his head, he grabs Batman and punches him across the room. From a distance, he charges at the hero and picks him up. Evade over his head to redirect the boss.

DEFEAT VENOM BANE

After taking a little abuse, Bane removes his jacket and increases his venom intake. This makes him bigger, tougher, and stronger. His health bar fills with venom and a simple strike does not cut it anymore. This is his venom state.

To open Bane up for attack, you must perform an Ultra Stun by hitting him with three successive Cape Stuns. This makes him vulnerable to a Beatdown. You must be quick with the three Cape Stuns, since he can break this move with a powerful strike. If you see the red marks above his head, perform a Redirect evade, and immediately hit him with the Ultra Stun. Go directly into a Beatdown, and then once you hit the necessary multiplier, throw in a Special Combo Takedown to damage his venom pack and return him to his normal state. In the normal state, you can attack him with normal strikes.

Evade the giant whenever you see the red bolts. But even if he manages to get ahold of Batman, you can counter his powerful punch and avoid taking big damage.

Eventually, Bane grabs Batman and tosses him out of the window to the balcony below. He increases the venom, then stomps the ground and charges at Batman. Evade this move, as it cannot be countered. Be ready to do this twice. He follows this up with a ground-pound move. You want Batman to be in the air when he makes contact, so time the dodge as he swings.

Once the Shock Gloves are charged up, activate them so that your combo multiplier increases faster. Spin the camera around so that you can see two of his men join the fight. Evade Bane's attacks as you use the two thugs to increase the multiplier. Once it is available, perform a Special Combo Takedown against Bane to damage his pack further.

Continue increasing your multiplier by striking the thugs or performing a Beatdown against Bane. When you get a chance, damage his venom pack with a Special Combo Takedown. More of his men are tossed into the fight, making it easier to build up your combo. Be ready for his venom episodes, and evade his deadly attacks. After a number of takedowns, the cops show up, and Bane manages to get away. Fortunately, Batman tags him with a tracker.

While all of this is happening, The Joker is sent to Blackgate Prison, where a psychology intern checks him in. As he discusses what he is feeling, you must fight off a room of thugs. Once you've taken care of them, follow the straightforward path to avoid the gas fire.

TWO ASSASSINS STILL AT LARGE

>> LOCATE THE TRACKER PLACED ON BANE

ACQUIRE THE GLUE GRENADE AT THE WORKBENCH

You regain control of Batman at the Batcave as he learns that Bane or one of his men has turned up at the morgue. Alfred informs you that the Glue Grenade is ready and can be found on the workbench. As you head to the Batwing, talk to Alfred for extra XP. Fly to the Burnley Batwing Drop Point (or nearest tower if Burnley is not available).

GLUE GRENADE

Directly apply this non-lethal projectile to restrain a single enemy. You can use this effectively in combat situations via Quick-fire controls; just quickly tap the Crouch button twice. The unique buoyancy effect of the Glue Grenade adhesive allows it to create a platform, which can float temporarily on water. You can also use it to plug leaky pipes.

SCAN THE CORPSE IN THE GCPD MORGUE

Return to the sewer entrance that you used to reach the GCPD Telecom Room. Watch out as you get close—a sniper stands guard from the GCPD helipad. Additionally, a group of SWAT members hangs out just in front of the station. Use the Disruptor on the sniper once you are in range, or guide a Remote Control Batarang into him. Enter the Gotham City Works building, and drop into the manhole to reach the Burnley sewers.

Follow the corridor until you reach a point where steam blocks your progress. Plug the pipes by quick-firing a few Glue Grenades in that direction. Continue around the corner until you reach a ledge. Glide down to the lower level, and enter the door. Follow the path to the derelict elevator shaft. Use Glue Grenades to plug two more leaks as you proceed under the morgue's sign.

Climb the ledge ahead, and use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "DEADHOUSE" as the password in the security console. This unlocks the hatch above, giving you access to the morgue. Batman quickly recognizes the body on the gurney as one of Bane's men: the one seen earlier in the holding cell.

Use the Evidence Scanner to scan the corpse. Then, walk over to the computer on the nearby table, and use it to learn about a new drug similar to Venom that greatly strengthens a person but can cause loss of memory. At that point, Batman picks up the signal for the tracker placed on Bane.

BIRD MOST WANTED NOW AVAILABLE

After scanning the corpse at the morgue and starting on your way out, a report sounds over police radio about a scuffle that may involve chemical weapons. To start this side mission, head to the southwest corner of the Coventry District and investigate the gang fight. For full details, check out the Most Wanted chapter of this guide.

Exit the police station through the Burnley sewers. Travel to the north, along the length of the bridge, and then angle to the left. Enter Park Row on the west side and cautiously move to the north, since snipers are placed above your destination and on two nearby rooftops. Take cover if you see their distinctive laser targeting beams. Get on the walkway that runs along the top of the west wall, then take out the sniper who stands above your objective. Drop straight down and eliminate the four thugs guarding the entrance.

spot five hostiles below. Target the thug farthest away, knock him down with a Glide Kick, then use an Aerial Attack on the foe with the shield and a Cape Stun/Beatdown combination on the Venom User as you secure the room.

Spray Explosive Gel on the destructible surface, detonate it, and approach the ledge ahead. Look down at the water, and quick-fire a Glue Grenade to form a raft. Hop on and use the Batclaw on the rings ahead to guide Batman around the corner to a walkway on the left.

Open the double doors, and a group of Bane's men knocks you back. This posse includes two Venom Users and a shield-wielding enemy. Keep an eye on these enemies as you beat them all down. Use your Special Combo Takedowns on the Venom Users to simplify the fight. Go through the next door to enter Bane's Field HQ.

Descend the stairs, and rapidly press the Run button to open the reinforced door. Step into the office on the right, and inspect the tape on the right to unlock an Extortion Audio File in his Profile. Inspect the screen on the left, exit the room, and take a closer look at the gurney. Step up to the walkway ahead, and follow it left and into the back room. Here, Batman discovers Bane's other obsession. Exit Bane's headquarters as the hero warns Alfred to secure himself in the Batcave.

RETURN TO THE BATCAVE

Run back to the sewer and use a Glue Grenade raft and the Batclaw to traverse the water. The GCPD dispatcher mentions a flying suspect with a jetpack over the police radio. It looks like Batman must make a detour on his way to the Batcave. Once he's on dry land, Batman hacks into Firefly's communication channel. With the Cryptographic Sequencer open, place the cursor into the circle and decode the broadcast.

APPREHEND FIREFLY AT PIONEER'S BRIDGE

Travel to the Gotham City Pioneer's Bridge. Once he reaches the end of the bridge, Batman programs the Batwing flight pattern to distract Firefly.

WARN GORDON ABOUT THE BOMBS

COMBAT ENCOUNTER

THREAT: High	1 Melee Weapon
4 Enemies	1 Firearm
1 Armored Enemy	1 Shield

With the assassin out of the way, grapple north along the bridge, and land on the eastern edge of the middle pillar. Gordon has already entered the bridge, but a few of his men guard the door below. An armed foe stands on a platform next to the door, while four more cops are gathered up near the water. Drop onto the enemy with the gun and finish him off with a Ground Takedown. Eliminate the rest of the group, and then enter through the door.

LOCATION: Pioneer's Bridge

- 1 Bridge Entrance
 - 2 Maintenance Room
 - 3 Freight Elevator Shaft
 - 4 To Boiler Room Maintenance

This takes you to the maintenance room of the bridge's middle pillar. Move down the steps, and Batman attempts to warn Captain Gordon about the bombs.

LOCATE FIREFLY'S BOMBS

Go over to the elevator and enter "COASTGUARD" into the security console. Step inside and grapple up to the left ledge. Climb the ladder, then continue around the perimeter until you reach a dead end. Use the Batclaw to pull an HVAC system cover off the wall and climb inside. Around the next corner, another ladder leads you to a portable generator.

Charge the generator up with the Shock Gloves to open the gate, allowing access to a ledge on the other side of the shaft. First, you must quick-fire three Glue Grenades to plug a line of pipes, and then you must jump across the gap. Follow the walkway to the right and grapple up a couple of floors. Around the next turn, run off the edge, and jump over to a beam that runs along the far side. Shimmy to the right until you can drop down to another platform.

LOCATION: Pioneer's Bridge

1 Boiler Room	3 Maintenance Elevator Access

Continue around the edge of the elevator shaft, grappling up when you hit a wall. One more ladder leads you directly to the Boiler Room Maintenance Access door. Turn right in the maintenance corridor, and grapple up another level. Select the Batclaw, pull the vent cover off the wall, and climb inside. Knock out the cover at the other end, then climb out onto a vantage point.

1 Jammer Enemy

The boiler room is a big square room with vantage points hanging all around the outer walls. A boiler in the middle blocks the center of the room, as vantage points give you a perch at each corner. A lower platform with walls around the outside allows an enemy to hide from plain sight. The usual takedowns are available throughout the map. Floor grates run along many of the walkways. A weak ceiling on the backside allows for a takedown from above. An enemy who hangs out near the railing is ripe for a Ledge Takedown.

The jammer enemy tends to initially patrol the lower level. Therefore, if you want to get rid of him first, you must either get his attention with a distraction or go in after him. Pick off each enemy with a Silent Takedown, an Inverted Takedown, or any of the numerous finishing moves at your disposal. The final hostile gives himself up with hands thrown in the air. Move over to his location and interrogate him about the bombs. He states that there are four bombs in all and discusses where they can be found.

DISARM THE BOMB IN THE BOILER ROOM

Step up to the explosive device that sits in front of the boiler, and remove the cover. A security console sits inside the box and requires three passwords to disarm the bomb. A timer has been added to the detonator, providing extra pressure toward the situation. First, you have 21 seconds to enter the password "PYROMANIAC." Take fewer than 19 seconds to enter "EXPLOSIVES." Finally, 17 seconds is all you get for the final password, "FLAMMABLE."

DISARM THE BOMB IN THE TRAIN STATION

2 Freight Elevator Shaft

The second bomb is located just above in the train station. Exit the boiler room to the right and follow the Maintenance Elevator Access around the corner.

Step inside the elevator, then push the button. When it comes to a stop, move to the back of the elevator shaft, climb onto the ledge, and continue up the ladder until you are just outside the electrical room. Charge up the portable generator on the right to bring the elevator the rest of the way up.

Step over to the wood paneling and knock it down with one punch. Four thugs have captured two police officers inside. Avoid the Stun Baton-wielding enemy's attack as you disarm the two enemies with firearms. Keep the combo going as you defeat the quartet. With the room secured, talk to Branden around the corner, and when he attempts to punch Batman, counter him to knock him out. Climb the two ladders on the right, and enter the door ahead to reach the train station.

STUN BATON ENEMY

Attacking a Stun Baton-wielding enemy head-on knocks Batman back and causes damage to his Combat Armor.

These foes' attacks cannot be countered, either. You must redirect them with a Redirect move and attack from behind.

PREDATOR ENCOUNTER

THREAT: Low

4 Armed Enemies

Four hostiles hold a group of hostages in a train car on the platform ahead. Two stand guard next to the railing above, while the other two patrol the area below. Grapple up to the platform next to the two men, and perform a Double Ledge Takedown on them. Move around to the backside of the train or find a vantage point to avoid detection. This leaves only two thugs. Dispose of them with Silent Takedowns or something a bit louder, such as an explosive to the face.

On the north side of the station, enter the door marked "Control Room." Climb upstairs, and activate the lift by pressing the big red button. This lowers the train car. Dive through the window, grapple up to the platform, and approach the second bomb. Remove the cover to expose another security console. This detonator requires three passwords, with the same time restrictions as before. Quickly use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter the following: "UPINFLAMES," "ACCELERANT," and "NITROGLYCERINE." This disarms the second bomb, but your attempts to gain access to the north end of the bridge are unsuccessful. You must take care of the southern bomb next.

DISARM THE BOMB AT THE SOUTH PILLAR

You can talk to the hostages through a window on the side of the train car. Once you are ready, exit through the open door to the southeast and continue into another opening on the right. Charge up the electrical subsystem next to the door, then move into the south maintenance corridor.

Slide under the pipe as you run south, spraying Explosive Gel on the destructible surface when you reach the dead end. As you do so, an explosion rocks the bridge, sending you down to a rubble platform below. Move forward and, once you have an angle at the train car on the left, grapple inside. At the opening on the left side, hop over to the curved beam and then on over to another. Select the Remote Claw, and fire it at an anchor point inside a dangling car to the south.

Hop over to the high-tension cable, walk to the right, and grapple into another train car. Use the Grapnel Gun again to get atop a more stable car. Three snipers stand guard along the bridge ahead, but they are spaced out enough that you can knock each one out without bothering the others. Sneak up on the first foe and perform a Silent Takedown. Quickly escape up to one of the vantage points that lines the corridor.

When the far sniper moves away from you, drop down and take out the second enemy. Get behind the final man, and eliminate him with another Silent Takedown. Continue down the path, and enter the door on the left to find the south pillar electrical room.

A variety of enemies are standing in a circle inside the next room. Hop in the floor grate, and follow it to the middle of the room. You can select almost any enemy in the group to eliminate first, so pick the one who gives you the most trouble, such as the Stun Baton, armored, or shielded enemies. Once the room is secure, walk east to the switch, and use it to gain access to the fenced-in area. The third bomb sits inside, so step up to it and remove the cover. With the same time limitations as the other two, enter "COMBUSTION," "SMOLDERING," and "INCENDIARY" as the three passwords.

DISARM THE BOMB AT THE NORTH PILLAR

Return to the corridor, head north, and jump the gap. Step inside through the hole in the wall and continue along the left edge. At the far end of the room, leap across the gap to the right to reach a destructible surface. Spray Explosive Gel on the wall and detonate it to return to the spot where you previously fell through the floor. Jump across the hole, then slide under the pipe to return to the barred door. Charge the electrical subsystem with the Shock Gloves, and open the door to find yourself back inside the train station.

Five armed hostiles guard the station now, including a sniper. As you move up the right corridor, one of the enemies heads your way. Snap to cover against the left wall and take him down as he moves through the doorway. Your next target should be the sniper just inside on the right platform. Grapple up to the scaffold, shimmy around to the sniper, and pull him over the railing with a Ledge Takedown. Knock out the final three thugs with a variety of takedowns, and then move north to the fire gate.

Grapple up to a beam to the north, run off the other end, and jump over to the platform. Shimmy around to the left as you close in on Firefly. Grapple up to the street sign on the side of the bridge, where three thugs wait on the other side. Watch out for the fire that spreads along the road as you drop down to the street and pummel these opponents into unconsciousness.

APPREHEND FIREFLY AT PIONEER'S BRIDGE

This brawl gets Firefly's attention, and he attempts to fry Batman with his flamethrower. Once you regain control, fire the Batclaw by pressing the button shown. This grabs the villain's left arm as he decides to take the vigilante for a ride.

A FIERY MENACE

After breaking free, Batman takes cover behind a van to avoid being scorched by the assassin's fire. Firefly also tosses grenades, so watch out for the grenade icon that signifies one is incoming. Evade to the side to avoid the explosion.

The red bolts above Firefly's head let you know that he is readying his flamethrower. As the fire flows Batman's way, dodge to the side. The attack knocks Batman down, damaging both his Combat and Ballistic Armor. Quick-fire Batarangs whenever you get the chance to disrupt the assassin.

The villain's weapon misfires regularly, giving you a chance to hit him with an attack. Bind him up with a quick-fired Glue Grenade. It takes Firefly some time to free himself, so rapidly toss Batarangs to knock his health down a tad. Be ready, he attacks as soon as he has rid himself of the glue.

Continue hitting Firefly with Glue Grenades and Batarangs until you knock him out. Take advantage of this state by quick-firing the Batclaw at the boss. Once you have grabbed him, rapidly tap the Run button in an attempt to pull him down. If unsuccessful, the claw simply breaks loose. The first time you are able to pull him all the way in, Batman uppercuts the assassin. The second time, Batman hops on his back and punches him a few times.

This sends Firefly into a fit of rage, and he covers the bridge in a stream of fire. This uncovers the bomb detonator, but fortunately, the villain's attempt to blow up the bridge fails. This changes the location of the boss fight, since you no longer have a vehicle to hide behind. The bad guy tosses six grenades at once at Batman, who evades this attack and jumps into a hole in the bridge.

(CONTINUES ON NEXT PAGE)

Once you get the chance, grapple over to a beam on the side of the bridge, where Firefly immediately fires his flamethrower your way. Quickly walk the length of it until you are able to get up to the bridge ahead. When you reach the street, evade backwards as he sprays a line of fire from the right to the left. Run to the right, jump over to the pickup, and then head back to the left, sliding under the semi to avoid being hit by the assassin's fire again.

This sets the fight up at another location. Now, Firefly launches three grenades at a time. Avoid the blast by quickly running to the other side of the area or using an evade roll if the grenades are close.

The red marks above the villain's head still signify that a stream of fire is coming, so avoid the attack by evading to the side. Two vehicles seem to offer protection, but once Firefly's flame hits a car, it is sent flying to one side or the other.

Watch out when Firefly flies directly at Batman, spraying a line of fire along the way. Dodge to the side, and turn around to face him. His gun jams again, so swiftly quick-fire a Glue Grenade at him. Follow that up with a series of Batarangs.

Continue to barrage the assassin with the projectiles while watching for incoming grenades. Once you've knocked him out, grab him with the Batclaw, and pull him in. Just as before, the first time you get him in, Batman uppercuts the foe. After reeling him in a second time, Batman hops onto Firefly and gives him a couple of quick punches.

With very little health left, Firefly flies around to the other side of the bridge. Evade his numerous grenade attacks by rolling to the sides. Once you gain the ability to grapple onto the villain, do so. This sends you both flying along the bridge. You get a couple of opportunities to counter the enemy while you hold onto him—as he dives toward the road just before the middle pillar and when he aims his weapon at you. With a successful counter, Batman grabs onto the flying assassin and finishes him off.

THE FINAL SHOWDOWN

RETURN TO THE BATCAVE

After finishing up at Pioneer's Bridge, Batman heads straight for the Batcave. The place has been destroyed and Alfred is nowhere to be found. Move down the steps to the Batcomputer and repair it.

RESCUE ALFRED

Detective Vision reveals that Alfred is trapped beneath the platform. Climb onto the left railing, and glide down to the rocks below. Jam on the Run button to remove the rubble that lies on top of the butler. You must remove three boulders to reach him. Activate the Shock Gloves, and then press the strike button to shock Alfred. Repeat this four times to bring him back. Meanwhile, the police dispatcher reports that there is trouble at Blackgate Prison.

Batman takes the Batwing down to the main entrance of Blackgate. Grapple up to the top of the gate ahead, and observe the prisoners there, who have captured three guards. There are 10 men in all, and one is fully armored. Start the fight by using the Remote Claw to attach the armored enemy to the explosive on the right. Follow this up by knocking a thug or two down with a Glide Kick. Projectiles and a gun locker allow the prisoners to add more difficulty to the fight, so be alert as you bounce between the thugs. Spin the camera around so that you can keep an eye on the foes with guns, batons, and shields. Once the area is clear, Batman talks to the prison guards. At this point he asks for help from the police department.

GAIN ACCESS TO BLACKGATE PRISON VIA THE SEWERS

A nearby manhole cover provides Batman access to the sewers. Follow the path around to the left until you reach a destructible section of the floor. Spray Explosive Gel on the weak point and detonate it. This sends Batman down through another section of the floor. When he reaches the bottom, grapple up to the middle level. Run off the ledge ahead, then fire the Grapnel Gun to cross the gap. An anchor point is located under each platform if you would rather walk a tightrope to travel across.

Move around the left bend and drop down to the lower platform. Electricity in the water prevents making a raft, so use your Remote Claw to place a cable to the walkway ahead. Do this again to the right to reach a small ledge in the corner. Climb up to the narrow walkway and follow it to the left. Place Explosive Gel on the destructible surface, then blow it open.

Spot the platform in the far corner and glide over to it. On the side of the right wall, a control panel allows electricity to flow through the water. Destroy the panel by pressing the Run button. This clears the water, allowing for raft access.

Quick-fire a Glue Grenade into the water ahead and hop on to the resulting raft. Fire the Batclaw at a ring in the flooded corridor, then continue through the narrow opening. Keep moving north until you can grapple up to a walkway above. Enter the Sewage Flow Control Room on the left, and press the button on the console to create an electric current on the opposite wall. Throw a Remote Control Batarang through that small opening, so that the Batarang picks up an electric current. Once you're inside the next room, guide the Batarang into a fuse box that hangs on the left wall. This closes the water gate below and fills up the central area with water.

Create a Glue Grenade raft in the water, jump over to it, and pull it over to the destructible surface ahead. Use Explosive Gel to bust a hole in the wall, and step into the adjoining room. Steam blocks your access to the next area, so plug the two pipes with a couple of quick-fired Glue Grenades. Toss some more down at several more steam pipes, and then create a Glue Grenade raft below. Hop down to the float as the current immediately pushes forward. Duck as it continues under the pipe and, once Batman is upright, quick-fire a Glue Grenade at the steam pipe on the left.

Climb on top of the elevator car, and then grapple up to the floor above. Enter the nearby door to reach the prison nexus, where 10 hostiles have taken a few prison employees hostage. You start in a ventilation area that connects to a lower floor through the right HVAC shaft and to an upper area through the left. This is a great location to escape to if you are discovered. The nexus has various small rooms and areas where you can isolate an enemy for a Silent Takedown. Vantage points hang around the outside wall, as well as at each corner of a central chamber, where the hostages are being held. Destructible walls and floor grates allow you to vary the types of takedowns you can employ.

There are many ways that you can clear out the room, but this is a good option to start the encounter. Crawl into the right shaft and bust out the cover straight ahead. Sneak up behind the nearby convict, and then knock him out with a Silent Takedown. Move down to a second thug who has his back turned straight ahead and eliminate him in the same manner, setting up for a quick exit to one of the central vantage points as you do so. Prisoners converge on your first victim, so a hasty exit is necessary. Work your way around the four central perches so that you can drop behind the sniper who stands guard atop the middle room. With this guy out of the way, move to the outside vantage points and survey the situation. Watch out for the two guys with Thermal Goggles, and make sure you don't get stuck on a spot that they scan.

Once you've secured the room, talk to Harleen Quinzel, who inform you that your objective is in the Panopticon. There are half as many guys in this fight, but an Enforcer, two Venom Users, and a Martial Artist mean that you must be ready with the proper attack at all times. Add a gun locker to the room, and any of the prisoners can become a significant threat. Save your Special Combo Takedowns to weaken the Venom Users as you flow between the convicts. Exit through the north door to finally reach the Panopticon, where Warden Joseph is being held hostage on a platform above.

A SERIOUS THREAT

Bane wears a heartbeat monitor that charges up an electric chair with every beat, so Batman must make a decision to kill Bane or whoever sits in the chair. Bane starts the fight with the same moves that he presented before. Evade his three charge attacks. Then, as he performs a ground pound, evade toward him so that you are off the floor when he makes contact.

Hit Bane with an Ultra Stun by performing three quick Cape Stuns against the hopped-up villain. Quickly follow this up with a Beatdown, and finish it off with a takedown, bringing him back to normal by pulling out one of his venom hoses. Quickly get away as he stomps the ground and repeats his attacks.

Four prisoners are tossed into the ring. Bounce between them to build up your combo multiplier, and use the Special Combo Takedown against the big guy to knock him down a peg. As you fight the hostiles, be sure to keep sight of the charging Bane by spinning the camera around. One tactic to keep him away for a short time is to quick-fire a Glue Grenade. This keeps him busy as you obtain the necessary multiplier.

As Batman attempts to perform the second takedown, Bane cracks him across his knee and tries to finish him off. The hero activates his Shock Gloves and breaks free, which starts the second phase of the boss fight.

Several thugs drop in, including a Shock Baton-wielding foe and an armored enemy. This really complicates things, since you must avoid Bane's charges while fending off a variety of attacks.

Stay alert as enemies come after Batman from all angles. Fortunately, Bane's vicious moves knock down anyone in his way. If you are having trouble building up the combo multiplier, take advantage of the time when the thugs are on the ground to hit the main villain with an Ultra Stun, Beatdown, and takedown.

After three takedowns, Batman stops Bane's heart with the Shock Gloves. When you are prompted to do so, use the gloves to shock Bane five times, bringing him back to life. This seems to be a bad idea, as he takes more of the TN1 drug and grows to an enormous size.

A SECOND BATTLE

Batman and Bane both fall into the Maximum Security Ward on a lower level. The assassin is now too strong to fight directly, so Batman must use his predatory skills instead. Alfred reveals that Bane must be taken out within 10 minutes, or he will take out Batman in one hit. A figure-eight of hallways provides floor grates and ventilation shafts around the outside for hiding and performing takedowns. Along the corridors, many of the gates block access to electricity that flows between metal rods. This is where you can cause serious damage to your rival. Once you have control, sneak up behind the boss and perform a Silent Takedown to get things started.

This ticks Bane off, as red warning markings signify that he is preparing to charge your way. Drop a Smoke Pellet and escape around the corner. Wait for him to turn his back, or hop into a floor grate and perform a takedown when given the opportunity. Ideally, you want to perform a Silent Takedown near the metal rods. If you are on his back at one of these locations, perform a Wall Takedown to throw him into the electricity.

This stuns the big fellow, so strike him until he is knocked all the way back.

Bane does not take kindly to this, so quickly move into a ventilation shaft or floor grate, grabbing or hitting him any chance you get. Take advantage of the fire extinguishers that lie around, or throw down a Smoke Pellet to create a smoke screen. This allows Batman to sneak up on him unnoticed.

Continue hitting Bane with various takedowns, aiming for the electric current whenever possible. When Bane's health is nearly drained, Batman lets his guard down and is thrown through the wall into the Control Room.

The assassin then charges directly at him, but the hero pulls out the Remote Claw and aims at an anchor point on the left wall. Fire the gadget at points on both sides of the corridor. This reels the beast in as electricity flows through him, finishing him off for good.

STOP THE JOKER

That leaves one villain left that you must take care of. Move to the far corner of the Control Room, and grapple up to a small opening above the door. Crawl through the ventilation system to reach Death Row. Climb down to the first floor to find Warden Joseph, who warns you about a sniper at the other end of the room. ENIGMA

UNLOCKS

Cryptographic Power Amplifier	Complete an Extortion File by collecting an entire set of Enigma DataPacks
Cryptographic Range Amplifier	Destroy all components of Enigma's Network Relay in one district

Enigma's Most Wanted is the most extensive of the side missions and requires the most time to fully complete. He has placed jamming devices at each of the GCR Comms Towers. There are seven in all, one in each district. Batman must figure out how to get inside the Tower Maintenance Access of each tower and hack into the security console. Once you've removed this interference, you then have access to the Batwing Drop Point in that district. Plus, the locations of 10 Network Relays in the area are revealed on the map. You must destroy these devices with a quick-fired Batarang.

Enigma has 20 Extortion Files that he is threatening to release. In order to prevent this, you must collect all of the pieces that compose each file. Each Extortion File consists of 10 DataPacks for a total of 200 pieces that are hidden around Gotham City. Collect a full set to decipher the file. For each Extortion File, there is an Enigma Data Handler, who reveals the locations of the 10 DataPacks when interrogated.

Enigma's Most Wanted becomes available after Batman solves the Coventry Tower Deathtrap Casefile and hacks into the Coventry Comms Tower. This is when you first have access to the open world. At this point, Enigma's headquarters appears on your map in the northwest corner of Burnley District. Look for the green Gotham City Rail billboard, and bust through the weak point in the middle to find the entrance. Ride the elevator down to hear from the villain. You are unable to destroy his computer initially, as it is protected, and the security console that keeps the left door shut cannot be hacked because of interference. You must destroy all 70 Network Relays to access Enigma's server. Find all 200 Enigma DataPacks to unlock his secret room.

For each district, this guide shows a map with the DataPacks, Network Relays, and Data Handlers called out. You can also read how to hack each GCR Comms Tower and collect the DataPacks.

>>PARK ROW

The GCR Comms Tower in Park Row is located in the far northwest corner. Glide down to the low roof east of the tower, and take care of the five thugs who hang out there. Hop into the floor grate and crawl through the ventilation to get inside. Face south, and toss a Remote Control Batarang through the slit in the fence. Guide it close enough to the electric current on the left to pick up the charge, and then plow it into the fuse box on the far wall. Pull open the door, step inside the maintenance access area, and use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "IDONTTHINKSO" as the password.

Three of the Park Row DataPacks are located indoors, with one at each of the following locations: Bane's field headquarters, the courthouse, and the church.

ENIGMA DATAPACKS

EXTORTION FILE #1-1

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Glide around the right side of the building, located just east of the Comms Tower. Land next to the small shack in the back, and use Explosive Gel to get inside. Collect the DataPack from within.

EXTORTION FILE #1-3

Gadgets Required: —

On the lower roof, south of the Comms Tower, a pressure pad is lit up and ready for you to start a challenge. Across the street, another switch has been placed on the side of a building, while a third one is just below the first on the side of that structure. Once you step on the first one, you have 10 seconds to press the other two to unlock a DataPack down on the street. Step off of the roof after activating the first switch, and glide across the street to the second. Push off of the wall, and then sail toward the third one, touching it to unlock the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #1-5

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

On the southwest roof of the church is a pressure pad. Stepping on it unlocks a DataPack on the back of the church's tower, but you only have seven seconds to collect it. Once the switch is activated, immediately grapple onto the main roof, closer to the item. Pull out your Batclaw and use it to grab the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #1-2

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves

Access the roof just west of the GCR Comms Tower, and approach the portable generator. Get it back online with your Shock Gloves, and then immediately run across the four pressure pads to the left. This unlocks the DataPack that hangs on a cable behind you.

EXTORTION FILE #1-4

Gadgets Required: —

Behind a northeast building, directly next to the highway, is a small fenced-in area. Hop the fence, and destroy the computer to gain access to the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #1-6

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Find the big apartment building with the Soder Cola neon sign on the side of it, then grapple to the roof. Use Explosive Gel on the weak wall of the roof access area to get

EXTORTION FILE #1-8

Gadgets Required: Batarang

On a landing on the back side of the big building with the pink neon sign, a DataPack hangs on the wall, below five switches that light up from left to right and turn off in the opposite order. Aim a Batarang at the rightmost switch and, once it lights up, let it fly to score the reward.

EXTORTION FILE #1-10

Gadgets Required: —

Inside the church, enter either ventilation shaft to the right or the left of the organ. Follow it to the back to find the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #1-7

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Glide over to the Transatlantic by Air billboard on the far west side of the district, and drop off the backside. Turn around, and use your Batclaw to grab the DataPack that hangs from the back of the sign.

EXTORTION FILE #1-9

Gadgets Required: —

Inside the main room of the courthouse, search on the northwest platform to find a DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #2-1

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

On the roof of the building, east of the Monarch Theater, a roof access area is located next to a water tower. Use Explosive Gel on the weak wall to get the DataPack inside.

Gadgets Required: —

From a perch on the church tower, glide southeast toward the Light & Power logo. Land on the lower roof, just to the right of the water tower. Search next to the ventilation shaft to find the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #2-3

Gadgets Required: —

On the north side of the Light & Power building, find a cage below the light bulb logo. Inside, a DataPack hangs on the wall. Slide under the gate, and collect your reward.

EXTORTION FILE #2-4

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

On the west side of the farthest southwest building in the district, a DataPack is locked up in a box on the wall. Use your Cryptographic Sequencer to hack the security console with the password, "Quandary."

EXTORTION FILE #2-5

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Remote Control Batarang

Look for the residential building on the far south side of the district with a Cale-Anderson billboard on the side. Grapple up to the roof to find a DataPack hanging on a smokestack next to a fuse box. Approach the nearby portable generator and charge it up with your Shock Gloves. Immediately, pull out your Remote Control Batarang and throw it through the electric current to the right. Guide the weapon into the fuse box to unlock the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #2-6

Gadgets Required: Remote Claw

Grapple to the top of the Ace Chemicals building, and face east to find soft wood paneling barricading a small room that holds a DataPack. Fire your Remote Claw at the anchor point just above the weak wall, then step onto the cable. Perform a zip line move to smash through the boards and collect the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #2-7

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

From the Ace Chemicals building, glide down to the building to the northeast. Run east and drop onto the roof down below. A portable generator sits in front of five pressure pads, along with five corresponding lights. Use your Shock Gloves to charge up the machine—three lights turn on (1, 3, and 4, if counting from the left). You do not have much time, so run over to the left switch and quickly move around the second one, and then across the third and fourth to unlock the DataPack on the wall. Use your Batclaw to collect the prize. If you step on the second or fifth pads, the puzzle resets.

EXTORTION FILE #2-8

Gadgets Required: Glue Grenade, Cryptographic Sequencer

Glide down to the street north of the Ace Chemicals building, and enter the nearby alley. Quick-fire a Glue Grenade to stop the steam flow, then crawl into the cage. In the back corner, use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "TRICKERY" as a password and unlock the nearby DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #2-9

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang, Remote Claw

Enter the door in the far west side of Park Row that leads down to Bane's headquarters. Crawl through the ventilation shaft, and drop into the Sewer Access. Take the steps down, and look across the room to spot a DataPack lying on the floor and a switch on the wall. Launch a Remote Control Batarang and guide it through the slit, hitting the switch to make a bigger opening in the bars. Fire your Remote Claw at the anchor point above the switch, glide toward it, and then grapple up to the cable. Move into the enclosed room, and drop down to get your prize.

EXTORTION FILE #2-10

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Enter Bane's field headquarters from Park Row, and follow the path until you reach an office on the right. Step inside, and aim your Batclaw up at a vent cover on the right. Pull it off, and then use the gadget to collect the DataPack from inside.

>>THE BOWERY

The GCR Comms Tower in The Bowery is located on the north side of the district, close to Park Row. During Story Mode, after you take the SIM card from the Penguin's thug, you must deactivate the jamming signal to hack the card. This is covered in detail as part of the Story Mode section of this guide.

Find one of the DataPacks inside the Hat Shop, and two more inside Gotham City Merchant's Bank.

ENIGMA DATAPACKS

EXTORTION FILE #3-1

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

A DataPack is locked inside a lockbox on the back of the building. Use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter the password, "Chronicles."

EXTORTION FILE #3-2

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves

The DataPack hangs in a lockbox on the wall, with four pressure pads on the ground. Use your Shock Gloves on the generator to have four lights above the box light up in order. Walk over the pads in the same order: top left, top right, top left, bottom left, bottom right, bottom left. Grab the item from the unlocked box.

EXTORTION FILE #3-3

Gadgets Required: —

This DataPack rests on a small ledge near the top of the Soder Cola building. You are unable to grapple up to the small platform, so you must use your advanced gliding skills to reach it. Use the Batwing Drop Point in Bowery District, and as you drop, hold down the Glide button while turning right. As soon as you are lined up with the Soder Cola building, and shortly after you start to lose altitude, dive to build up speed, and then pull back so that you can reach the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #3-4

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

This DataPack sits inside the cage to the right of two busted pipes. First, use your Shock Gloves to jump-start the nearby generator and open the gate. Then, use your Batclaw to rip open the pipe above the cage. This releases the steam pressure, allowing Batman to crawl through the cage and get the item.

EXTORTION FILE #3-5

Gadgets Required: —

Grapple up to the tall building on the west side of The Bowery, and face toward the GCR Comms Tower. Jump off the railing, glide toward the tower, and land on the roof to get a DataPack. You might need to use a Dive Bomb to pick up enough speed to make it.

EXTORTION FILE #3-6

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang, Batarang, Batclaw

This DataPack hangs on the hotel wall in a lockbox. The pressure switches on the right and left sides of the building turn on three more switches above the box. Stand on the right bridge so that you can see the right switch. Use the Remote Control Batarang to press the far button, quickly switch to the Batarang to hit the right one, and then quick-fire three Batarangs toward the final switches above the box. This unlocks the DataPack, which you can grab with your Batclaw.

EXTORTION FILE #3-7

Gadgets Required: —

A DataPack sits inside a fence on a rooftop, which you cannot climb. From the top of the Ace Chemicals building, jump off the south side, and dive bomb into the fenced-in area to get the item.

EXTORTION FILE #3-9

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Enter the Hat Shop in The Bowery, and then rip the vent cover off the left wall with your Batclaw. Follow the venting all the way back to a hidden DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #3-8

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

Use your Shock Gloves on the electrical subsystem on the wall to unlock the DataPack. Grab it with the Batclaw.

EXTORTION FILE #3-10

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

After entering the Gotham City Merchant's Bank from the roof access area and descending the ladder, look up on the big left gear to spot the prize spinning around. Pull out your Batclaw, and use it to snag the DataPack when it appears again.

EXTORTION FILE #4-1

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves

The DataPack is locked up in a box on the wall. First, use your Shock Gloves to start up Enigma's puzzle. Three pressure pads on the ground control nine lights on the wall. If a pad is lit up, stepping on it moves the corresponding light up one, or to the bottom if it is already at the top. Once you have the three middle lights lit up, the item is unlocked.

EXTORTION FILE #4-3

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel, Batclaw

To unlock the DataPack that hangs on the right wall, you must climb into the cage. Place Explosive Gel on top of each of the three switches. Exit the cage, and step onto the pressure pad to light them up. Detonate the explosive, and then use your Batclaw to grab the item.

EXTORTION FILE #4-4

Gadgets Required: Remote Claw

On the south side of the museum, just west of the Gotham City Merchant's Bank, a cage holds five pressure pads and a DataPack. The idea is to avoid touching any of the pads, or else a gate keeps you away from the item. Enter the cage from the east side, then use your Remote Claw on the two anchor points inside. Grapple up to the wire, and follow it to the other end. Hop off and grab the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #4-2

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang

Down a short alley in front of Gotham City Merchant's Bank, a DataPack hangs on a wall inside a cage. Step onto the nearby pressure pad to raise the gate. Toss your Remote Control Batarang through the opening, and hit the switch on the far wall. Slide inside and grab the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #4-5

Gadgets Required: Batarang

Near the Gotham City Light & Power building, a DataPack hangs on a smokestack in a lockbox. Step onto the nearby pressure pad, and throw a Batarang at a switch that lights up on the Light & Power building to the left. Grab the DataPack from the unlocked box.

EXTORTION FILE #4-6

Gadgets Required: —

Grapple up to the top of the building that sits in front of the Gotham City Light & Power sign and is adorned with a face on three sides. Hop off the east side and land on the balcony to find this DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #4-9

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

From the top of the Gotham City Merchant's Bank, hop off the back, and look for the small shack on the west side. Use Explosive Gel to break down the weak wall, and gather the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #4-10

Gadgets Required: —

Inside the bank, hop into the floor grates at the south end by the steps. There is a T-intersection in the ventilation just in front of the safe. Go into first person point of view at that point to find the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #4-7

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Glide or take the steps down to the lower level, and head all the way to the south. Take out a weak wall with your Explosive Gel to gain access to the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #4-8

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

Glide down to the bridge just north of the building from DataPack #4-6, and approach the structure. Hop over the left rail to the balcony and find the security console in the corner. Hack it with the password "SHELLGAME," jump back over the railing, and continue ahead to another balcony. Climb onto the air conditioner unit to get the reward.

The GCR Comms Tower in Amusement Mile is located on a small island in the northeast corner of the district. Land at the base of the building on the south side, and face the structure. Create a raft in the water by quick-firing a Glue Grenade, and glide over to it. Use the Batclaw on the ring ahead to pull yourself inside. Enter the door on the right, grapple up to the ledge, and plug the steam leaks with Glue Grenades. Proceed through the gate on the right, and pummel the eight enemies inside. Fire the Batclaw at the ring on the ceiling, and pull down the weak portion. Fire the Remote Claw at the two anchor points high above, then grapple up to the cable.

Follow the hallway around to the right, and then enter another gate to meet up with five more thugs. Take them all down and continue along the path. After climbing up to the top floor, pull open the door to the maintenance access area by rapidly pressing the Run button, then step inside. Hack the security console by entering "UWILREGRETTTHIS" as the password.

Twelve of the DataPacks in the Amusement Mile District are located inside the Final Offer. The other 18 are in the open world.

>>CARGO SHIP

EXTORTION FILE #5-3

Gadgets Required: Glue Grenade

Grapple onto the top of the casino in Amusement Mile and head over to the southwest side. There, a DataPack sits inside a vent, but steam coming out of a busted pipe blocks your access. Quick-fire a Glue Grenade to stop it up, then crawl inside to get the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #5-4

Gadgets Required: Batarang, Remote Control Batarang

Land on the roof on the northeast side of the casino, and look for venting that goes through a big cage with two switches on one side. A DataPack sits inside the ventilation unit on the other side. The left one is lit up initially. Hitting it with a Batarang causes a door to open as another shuts. On the northeast side of the unit, there is an opening where Batman can crawl in. Start out by hitting the left switch, and then ducking inside. Once you are inside the middle section, toss a Remote Control Batarang back out the way you came in. Use the brake to control its movement, then hit the right switch to open the other gate. Continue through the new opening to find the reward. Once you've picked it up, both gates open to provide an easy exit.

EXTORTION FILE #5-5

Gadgets Required: —

From the casino, glide over the highway to the right side of the residential building to the south, and climb over the fence to land on the first of four pressure pads. Immediately run over all four to unlock the DataPack. You only have two seconds to complete this once you've triggered the first switch.

EXTORTION FILE #5-6

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

On the rooftop just south of the church, find the portable generator sitting next to the Steel Mill billboard. Use your Shock Gloves to jump-start it, immediately step to the left, and fire your Grapnel Gun at the ledge just above the unlocked DataPack on the other side of the roof. Cancel this when you get within range of the item, then use your Batclaw to grab it out of the box. You have seven seconds to get from the generator to the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #5-8

Gadgets Required: Glue Grenade, Remote Claw

Enter the Final Offer and make your way to Deck 1. Follow the path until you reach the flooded corridor on the right. Look down to the right to find a frozen DataPack. Create a raft with a Glue Grenade next to the item so that you can pick it up. Use your Remote Claw to create a zip line overhead to exit the room.

EXTORTION FILE #5-10

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Immediately upon entering the Final Offer, look to the right to find a valve cover. Fire the Batclaw at it, and pry it open. Use the gadget again to collect the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #5-7

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Continue through Deck 1 until you reach the raft puzzle. Before pulling it over, look up to find a weak ceiling with an anchor point. Use your Batclaw to grab it and pull it down. Grapple up to the floor above, then search the crew quarters to the right to find the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #5-9

Gadgets Required: Glue Grenade

After entering the boiler room, use your Glue Grenade to close up the two pipes on the right. Go right, and grapple up a couple ledges. Avoid the steam that comes from the pipes above, and use your Grapnel Gun to reach a higher level. Here, you find a DataPack behind bars. Quick-fire your Glue Grenade again to block another busted pipe, then crawl through the small hole to gather up the reward.

EXTORTION FILE #6-1

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

From the casino, glide toward the Gotham City Train Station, and slip through the open gate on the middle level. Use your Cryptographic Sequencer on the security console inside to enter the password of "CLEVERSCHEME" and unlock the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #6-2

Gadgets Required: Remote Claw

Find the big Dixon Docks sign on top of the building in Amusement Mile, then stand on the metal scaffolding under DIXON. Look west, and use your Remote Claw on the anchor point above the weak wall on the next building. Grapple up to the wire, and press the Zip Line button to smash through the barrier and get the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #6-4

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Grapple up to the rooftop of the building located east of the train station, and look for the roof access area. Place Explosive Gel on the weak wall, and detonate it to get the prize inside.

EXTORTION FILE #6-3

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

Land on the southern roof of the building west of Dixon Docks to find a portable generator against the wall. Bring it back online with your Shock Gloves, and then use your Batclaw to collect the DataPack just above.

EXTORTION FILE #6-5

Gadgets Required: —

Glide over to the Comm Tower island to the northeast, and find the cage on the northwest side. Slide under the small opening on the south side to collect the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #7-3

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Look for the building that sits across the highway from the Gotham City Sea Pier, and grapple up to the southwest corner. Use Explosive Gel on the weak wall, then grab the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #7-5

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang

Grapple onto the roof of the Dixon Docks building, and look for a locked DataPack resting on a wall inside a small fenced-in area. Walk over to the north, and throw a Remote Control Batarang into the open vent. Guide it around to the right, and hit the switch on the wall. Hop the fence and collect the prize that waits on the wall.

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves

Land on the north side of the Final Offer, and find the portable generator that sits next to a locked DataPack. Three pressure pads are connected and positioned on the deck nearby. Once you use your Shock Gloves to jump-start the generator, you have 39 seconds to press each one without touching any other part of the ship. You can do this in any order. Note that walking to the first switch does not count. Stand on one, look up at the crow's nest high above, and fire your Grapnel Gun to get into the air. Use a Grapnel Accelerator maneuver to get a rapid ascent so that you have enough time to glide down to another pressure pad. Quickly repeat this to activate the final switch and unlock your reward.

EXTORTION FILE #7-4

Gadgets Required: —

Look for the big metal scaffold that sits over the highway just west of the pier. Grapple to the top of it, and jump across the beams until you reach the DataPack that rests in the middle.

Enter the upper deck, and follow the hallway to a gate. Throw a Remote Control Batarang through the electricity above the door, and guide it up into a hole in the ceiling ahead. Plow it into a fuse box on the far wall to unlock the nearby DataPack. Grapple up to the next level, and collect the item from the box.

EXTORTION FILE #7-9

Gadgets Required: Remote Claw

Before exiting the boiler deck through the east door, look up to the right to find a pair of anchor points. Use your Remote Claw to create a zip line, and grapple up to it. Walk over to the ledge to grab the DataPack.

Grapple to the roof of the Gotham City Rail building, where a cage holds a DataPack. Plug the steam leak with a quick-fired Glue Grenade so that you can enter and collect your prize.

EXTORTION FILE #8-3

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Find the twin smokestacks with a platform in between them, and grapple to the top of one of the stacks. Face west, and look for a weak wall down on the building ahead. Dive and rise to get yourself into the tight opening, and then use Explosive Gel to destroy the weak wall. Collect the DataPack inside.

EXTORTION FILE #8-5

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Grapple onto the top of the Amertek building in the northeast corner of the district, and walk over to the west side. Climb over the rail, and place Explosive Gel on the weak wall of the roof access area to find the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #8-2

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

Find the smokestack that is built on top of the tall tower with billboards on two of the sides. Grapple up to the highest platform, and use your Cryptographic Sequencer to enter the following passwords: "COMPLICATE," "ENTANGLE," "PERPLEXITY." This allows you to collect the DataPack.

EXTORTION FILE #8-4

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Look for the Gotham City Hardware building next to an Amertek entrance gate. Climb the fence toward the hardware store to find a pressure pad and a DataPack hanging on the wall. Step onto the switch, and use your Batclaw to collect the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #8-6

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel, Remote Control Batarang

Just west of the Amertek building, down on the ground, a DataPack is locked up on the wall. A switch hangs on each side: one can be accessed, but the other is inside a fence. Just to the east is a pressure pad that starts the puzzle. First, place Explosive Gel on the left switch, and then step on the pad. Detonate the gel, and then throw a Remote Control Batarang into the now open cage, through the right opening so that it hits the right switch. Use your Batclaw to collect the prize from the middle cage. If you step off the pad, the cage closes up, so you must use the gadget.

EXTORTION FILE #8-7

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

Grapple up to the rafters inside Sionis' office, and move to the far east side as you look over the loading bay. Use your Batclaw to grab the DataPack that sits on the arch ahead.

EXTORTION FILE #8-9

In the loading bay depot, look for a weak point on the west-central wall. Place your Explosive Gel, and bring the wall down to collect the DataPack from inside.

EXTORTION FILE #8-8

Gadgets Required: Explosive Gel

Climb the staircase northwest of the loading bay to find Sionis' office. A turret protects the entrance, so grapple up to a ventilation shaft above. Drop into the room, and find a weak wall to the right. Place Explosive Gel to create an entrance to a secret room, where a DataPack lies on the ground to the left.

EXTORTION FILE #8-10

Northwest of the Comms Tower, find a line of four pressure pads that sit between a brick wall and a building. On one end, a portable generator leans against the wall, and at the other end, the DataPack hangs on the wall behind a chain-link fence. Jump-start the generator with your Shock Gloves, and run across the switches, sliding under the new opening in the fence to collect the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #9-4

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

Find the Hell's Gate Disposal Service building just in front of the Steel Mill, and make your way to the backside. On a platform to the right of Loading Bay 6 is a security console and a locked DataPack. Use your Cryptographic Sequencer to hack the device with the password, "UNTRUE," and grab your prize.

EXTORTION FILE #9-6

Gadgets Required: Shock Gloves, Batclaw

Grapple up to the Sionis Industries sign that sits atop the main building of the Steel Mill, and move to the backside. Continue up to the higher platform to find an electrical subsystem and a DataPack. Activate the equipment with your Shock Gloves, and then use the Batclaw to grab the DataPack above.

EXTORTION FILE #9-8

Collect the DataPack that you find inside.

EXTORTION FILE #10-1

Gadgets Required: —

Land on the lower rooftop just west of the main Sionis Industries sign, where a DataPack lies in the snow inside a cage. Get a running start, and slide under the bars to gather up the reward.

EXTORTION FILE #10-2

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang, Batarang

Behind the Steel Mill, land on the walkway that connects the buildings. Walk over to the southern building to find three switches on the side of the structure. A DataPack hangs on a nearby wall; unlock it by hitting all three switches within their time limit (nine seconds once one is activated). Stand in front of the middle one, and use Remote Control Batarangs to hit the outside ones. Follow that up by quick-firing a Batarang toward the final switch to unlock the reward.

EXTORTION FILE #10-4

Gadgets Required: —

Travel to the far southeast corner of Sheldon Park to find a DataPack inside a cage. Run toward it, and slide underneath the fence to gather up the prize.

EXTORTION FILE #10-3

Head over to Sheldon Park, and land on the bridge just north of the Wonder Tower. A pressure pad activates three switches on the side of the building, with a DataPack resting above the middle one. Step onto the ground switch to start a 15-second timer, and then aim at each one with your regular Batarang to hit them before time runs out. Once you've unlocked the reward, walk up to it, and use your Batclaw to grab it.

EXTORTION FILE #10-5

Gadgets Required: Batclaw

South of Sheldon Park, a crane holds up a platform over a barge. Dive down from the crane, and land on the pressure pad, which starts a nine-second timer. Quickly turn around and grapple up to the platform, then use your Batclaw to snag a DataPack that hangs on the chain above.

EXTORTION FILE #10-6

Use your Batclaw to grab the DataPack that sits in a cubbyhole on the left.

EXTORTION FILE #11-7

Gadgets Required: Remote Control Batarang, Batclaw

Enter the electric room, approach the ladder on the right, and turn around. Use the Batclaw to open the valve cover on the wall. Step onto the pad to play a sequence of lights. Turn to the left, and quick-fire a Batarang at the left switch. Next, turn so that you are looking northwest, and use your Remote Control Batarang to maneuver around the pillar and hit the second switch. Now, you should be able to face northeast and see the third switch. Hit it with a Batarang. Finally, turn right and use a Remote Control Batarang to maneuver around the big crate and hit the last switch. Pull out your Batclaw, and grab the DataPack that hangs above.

EXTORTION FILE #12-6

Gadgets Required: Cryptographic Sequencer

EXTORTION FILE #17-9

Gadgets Required: Glue Grenade

As you climb the ventilation shaft, you come to a point where you can use the Remote Claw to place a cable directly in front of you. This allows you to clear the gap. Quick-fire a Glue Grenade at the busted pipe on the left, and then duck into the small locker room. A DataPack hangs on the wall to the right.

The GCR Comms Tower in Burnley is found on the east side of the district, northeast of GCPD. On the south side of the building, a window gives you access inside the structure. Use the Remote Claw to place a cable between the anchor point above this window and another on a nearby tower. Grapple up to the wire, and press the Run button to zip line inside. Use the Cryptographic Sequencer to enter "IMPROPRIETY" into the security console found inside. Look above the right door to spot an HVAC system cover, pull it down with the Batclaw, and crawl through to reach the upper roof. Climb the nearby steps, and pull open the door to get inside the maintenance access area. Enter "STOPPEDYOU" into the security console to restore the Comms Tower.

Ten of Enigma's DataPacks are found inside the police station, four are inside the Burnley sewers, and one is within Enigma's headquarters.

Enter "DEADHOUSE" as the console's password, and climb the ladder to find the morgue. Place Explosive Gel on the weak section of floor, and detonate it to drop into a tight crawl space, where a DataPack hides. The busted pipe and security console may have already been taken care of if you have been through this area before.

MOST WANTED

ANARKY

UNLOCKS

Concussion Detonator—Blast Radius Upgrade

As you exit the Final Offer after trying to get to The Penguin, Anarky makes an appearance on the monitors of the gun shop. As the “voice of the people,” he announces himself to Gotham City and declares that he will take care of the city’s problems. On the main deck of the cargo ship, he continues his plea, stating that three bombs have been placed around Gotham City. It is up to Batman to stop the madness and destroy the explosives.

>>DEFUSE ANARKY'S FIRST BOMB

Grapple up to the crow's nest on the back of the Final Offer, then talk to Anarky's supporter. A three-minute timer starts counting down, so immediately start gliding to the west. The first bomb is located on top of the Gotham City Merchant's Bank in The Bowery. Use your gliding skills with Grapnel Accelerators to get there quickly. Take down the six enemies who guard the explosive, and then destroy the bomb.

>>DEFUSE ANARKY'S SECOND BOMB

You can find Anarky's second supporter in the northwest corner of the Diamond District. He is standing on the west side of the high-rise with the Soder Cola sign. Talk to him to kick off another timer, with 3:49 counting down. This one is back in Old Gotham City in the northeast corner of Park Row. Find a group of thugs guarding the device on the opposite side of the bridge from the church. Defeat the eight hostiles, and destroy the bomb.

>>DEFUSE ANARKY'S THIRD BOMB

Head to northern Coventry and look for the backside of a big factory to find Anarky's third supporter. Speaking to this anarchist starts a timer with 2:39 on it. The final bomb is found behind the GCPD precinct in the Burnley District. Glide over the top of the building, and dive bomb into the group of enemies on the ice below. Thrash the eight adversaries, and destroy the bomb.

>>CONFRONT ANARKY AT THE COURTHOUSE

With the bombs out of the way, it is time to deal with Anarky himself. Travel to the abandoned courthouse in Park Row District, and take care of the hostiles behind the building. Enter the rear door, and follow the hallway into the courtroom. Defeat the six enemies who immediately attack. Once you've knocked them all out, another set of six hostiles drops in. During this fight, stay on the move, as Anarky tosses Molotov cocktails from above. As you finish up the second fight, Anarky joins in, along with four more of his supporters. He carries a Stun Baton, so be sure to evade over his head and attack from behind. Take everyone down to complete his Most Wanted.

THE PENGUIN

UNLOCKS

Unlocks: Disruptor— Disable Weapon Box Upgrade

After Batman escapes the Gotham City Police Department, Barbara Gordon contacts him and asks for a favor. Evidence crates have gone missing from the precinct. She gives you the locations of six arms crates, which need to be destroyed with the Disruptor. These show up on the map as penguin icons.

>>USE THE DISRUPTOR TO DESTROY THE PENGUIN’S SIX ARMS CACHES

ARMS CACHE 1

District: Burnley
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Satchel

Find this weapons crate behind the Burnley GCR Comms Tower. Four SWAT members guard it, so knock them out, and then use the Disruptor on the crate.

ARMS CACHE 2

District: Diamond District
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Case

Travel to the Gotham City Daily in northern Diamond District, and move around to the backside. The arms cache sits in the back of a delivery truck behind the building. Take out the five enemies, then destroy the weapons with the Disruptor.

ARMS CACHE 3

District: Coventry
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Case

In northeast Coventry District, this arms cache sits near the water behind a big warehouse. Penguin’s men guard the weapons, so take them out before disabling the crate.

ARMS CACHE 4

District: Sheldon Park
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Crate

In Sheldon Park, north of the Wonder Tower, grapple up to the left side of the balcony on the Light & Power building. Sneak behind the left guard, take him out quietly, and hang over the side. Eliminate the other two armed men in the same manner, and then destroy the weapons cache.

ARMS CACHE 5

District: Amusement Mile (Final Offer)
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Crate

Travel to the Final Offer in the Amusement Mile District, and land on the southern balcony. Use the Batclaw to open the back of the freight container that hangs from the crane, and destroy the arms cache inside.

ARMS CACHE 6

District: The Bowery
Unlocks Multiplayer: Cobblepot Premium Container

Find the horse statue in the northwest section of The Bowery. Enter the Jezebel Center to the east, turn around, and move past the subway entrance to find a group of Penguin’s men. Knock them out, and then use Explosive Gel on the southern wall to find the sixth arms cache. Destroy it with the Disruptor.

THE MAD HATTER

UNLOCKS

Reverse Batarang Upgrade

After setting up a connection to the National Criminal Database and exiting the Burnley sewers, Batman is greeted by three criminals in bunny masks. Along with the Mad Hatter, they invite you to a party at the Hat Shop in The Bowery. Travel to the shop (located north of the Gotham City Merchant's Bank), and step inside.

- 1 To The Bowery
- 2 Mad Hatter
- Datapack

Pull the HVAC system cover off the left wall with the Batclaw and crawl inside, following it until you reach an opening on the left. Drop into the room, and take down the seven hostiles inside. Talk to Mad Hatter to get sent to Wonderland.

Run along the path until you reach the bridge, where three sections of the structure are wired. Wait at each one for the electricity to stop before you move on. Quick-fire six Batarangs at the end of the walkway to knock out the lights on each side of the keyhole. This lowers a bridge so that you can proceed.

Two more electrified sections of the road require you to pause before running off the right side. Batman hops over to a narrow ledge. Sidle to the right until you can drop down to another path. Continue around the corner, and then climb into a hole in the wall on the left side. Hop off the other side to end up in a building in front of three doors. Enter the one with the picture of the rabbit three times to continue in Wonderland.

In the next room, Mad Hatter thugs attack from a reflection ahead. Keep defeating them as they advance until you've knocked out 10 enemies, revealing a door ahead. Go through the door and follow the path to the right, avoiding more electricity. Place Explosive Gel on the portrait at the dead end, and detonate it.

Move through the hole, and step onto the floating saucer. Use the Batclaw on the two rings ahead to pull yourself across the water. Go through the door, and hop onto a ledge along the back wall. Shimmy to the right until you can climb up to the walkway, and then crawl into the small space, following it up the incline.

Once you are standing again, climb the ladder, and then walk onto the cable that spans between your ledge and another picture of Mad Hatter. Zip line through the card, and immediately run to the left, staying ahead of the pendulum that knocks out the bridge behind you. Enter the keyhole door, and use the Remote Claw to place a cable across the two anchor points above.

Climb the ladder, and pause at the next ledge. Once the pendulum moves back behind the wall, run and jump across the gap. Carefully walk across the narrow pipe, and again, wait for the pendulum to move away before you jump another gap. Through the next door, gears sit between two platforms. Grapple up to the right one, and wait for it to lower completely before grappling into an opening in the ceiling.

Grapple up to the wire, and glide down to a platform just below you. Step up to the device, and activate the gear. This raises one of the anchor points up so that it is directly across a third point. Fire a high-tension cable between them, and grapple up to the new wire. Jump down to the door, and move into the next room.

Move forward onto the pipe, and follow it around to the left. Continue along the path as you climb a couple ledges and a ladder. This returns you to the back of the Hat Shop, where Mad Hatter holds Alice in front of him. Aim your Batarang at the villain, and press the Grapple button. This causes it to fly past him, make a U-turn, and hit him in the back of the head. This gives Batman the chance to knock him out, completing the Mad Hatter Most Wanted.

SHIVA

UNLOCKS

Critical Strikes Upgrade

During Story Mode, after exiting Gotham City Merchant's Bank, you can hear a baby crying. Locate a carriage in the center of The Bowery, and investigate it. Soon, Shiva attacks Batman from behind. Counter her move, and she presents you with Shiva's Test of Worth. An "innocent man" is about to die in New Gotham City. Check your map to discover that he is located on the far south side of the Diamond District. Use the Burnley Batwing Drop Point to fast travel near the location.

>> LOCATE AND SAVE THE "INNOCENT MAN"

Head north from the drop point until you hear a distress call ahead. (You will actually be in the southeastern corner of Coventry District until you open the door, and then you are in a shopping complex in Diamond District.) A man hangs above an electrified pool of water. Grapple up to the left ledge, and walk through the opening in the bars. Step up to the panel on the far wall, and destroy it. At this point, three female ninja attack Batman. Counter this initial attack, and then start pummeling the trio.

Ninja have a single strike that you can counter as normal and a blade attack that requires a Blade Dodge to avoid taking damage. They also have the ability to evade your attack, but this does not count against your combo.

Once you've taken care of them, look up, and use the Remote Claw to fire a cable between the anchor point above and another across the room. Grapple up to the wire, and use it to cross to the other side. Destroy another panel to disable the electricity in the pool. Three more ninja strike; knock them out before getting back on the cable. Drop down to the middle of the room, and Batman releases the prison guard with a Batarang. Talk to him to learn about his partner and more ninja.

>>SCAN THE AREA FOR A TRAIL

Enable the Evidence Scanner, and scan in a drop of blood at the other end of the pool. Use Detective Vision to follow the trail out the door you came in. Continue directly along the street and down the ramp. Stay on the trail as it climbs onto a van and then across a rooftop. After dropping back to the ground, the blood leads over three fences before ending at a body.

>>CONFRONT SHIVA

Shiva attacks again. This time, she tells Batman to meet her at Sheldon Park. Fast travel to the Industrial District, and then go west to reach Wonder Tower. Enter the front door to reach the lobby as the assassin emerges from the elevator.

>>DEFEAT SHIVA

After a short talk with her, four ninja attack. Counter this move, and then start thrashing the five women. Shiva strikes three times in a row, so be ready to counter each one. Once you have dealt enough damage, the ninja are replaced by martial artists. It takes many counters to finish off this group. Always be alert for incoming attacks, and if you find yourself in trouble, evade out of the group. With only Shiva remaining, whittle her health down to one line on her health bar. She evades your attack and strikes with her sword. Rapidly press the Run button to push her back. The assassin decides the fight is over and escapes. Her Most Wanted file may be pending, but for now, it is complete.

BLACK MASK

UNLOCKS

Increased Smoke Duration Upgrade

During Story Mode, after investigating the Steel Mill, Batman comments that the nearby chemical container should be destroyed before exiting the building. Spray Explosive Gel on the barrel, and destroy it. This starts Black Mask's side mission, where you must destroy six more drug stashes hidden around Gotham City.

>> DESTROY BLACK MASK'S DRUG STASHES

DRUG STASH 1

District: Park Row

Travel to the abandoned courthouse in northern Park Row, and move around to the back of the building. Take out the hostiles who protect the container, and then approach the wall to the north.

A security console keeps it locked up, so pull out the Cryptographic Sequencer and enter "THESOCIETY." Detonate Explosive Gel on the stash.

DRUG STASH 2

District: The Bowery

Enter the Light & Power building that connects Sheldon Park and The Bowery. Take out the two thugs at the upper level, and enter the southern hallway to find the container.

DRUG STASH 3

District: Pioneer's Bridge

On the southwest side of the Pioneer's Bridge middle pillar, five of Black Mask's men guard a container that sits on the western walkway. Use your Disruptor to disable the two firearms, and then grapple up to the ledge. Take the foes out and destroy the drug stash.

DRUG STASH 4

District: Coventry

In the southwest corner of Coventry District, two Black Mask thugs patrol a small platform next to the water. Drop in on them, and take them down. Use Shock Gloves to charge up the portable generator to open the gate. Find the container inside the tunnel.

DRUG STASH 5

District: Burnley

From the rooftop just east of the GCPD, drop off the back, and eliminate the four thugs who guard the stash. Once you've secured the area, destroy the container.

DRUG STASH 6

District: Park Row

This container is located in southern Park Row just west of the Ace Chemicals building, and four of Black Mask's men guard it. Take care of them, and then destroy the stash.

>>CONFRONT BLACK MASK AT THE CHURCH

Once you have destroyed all six drug stashes, travel to Park Row and enter the church. Grapple up to a vantage point and survey the situation. Six armed thugs occupy the building, so you must make your way around the room and take each one down without being seen. Once the area is clear, move to the back of the church, and hack into the security console on the wall. Enter "DEADPARENTS" as the password, and destroy the last drug stash.

Black Mask shows up with eight more of his men, including two martial artists and an armored enemy. A gun locker adds to the threat level of the group. Take down all nine of the enemies to complete this Most Wanted mission.

Batclaw Disarm Upgrade

SIDE MISSIONS  169

>>CONFRONT DEADSHOT AT THE GOTHAM CITY MERCHANT'S BANK

Deadshot patrols the upper walkways with his wrist-mounted guns. He is extremely accurate and can ricochet his rounds off multiple walls. When he is aiming his weapon, a red laser shows you the path his bullet will take. The assassin is armored and therefore immune to Silent Takedowns. Quickly hit him with a Knockout Smash, or he will just break free.

This makes it a loud takedown, so be ready to make a hasty escape.

Once you eliminate Deadshot's five men, it is just you against him. Work your way behind the assassin, and use a Knockout Smash to hurt him. Offices on the side of the room make for good locations to wait for him, if needed. Once the boss has taken enough damage, he hops down to the ground floor, and more hostiles join the fight. Knock him down again, and another group of enemies enters through the front door. These reinforcements may include a Thermal Goggles-wearing or jammer-wielding enemy.

Five armed enemies, along with a minelayer, roam the lower floor and occasionally join Deadshot on the walkways. A hostage is being held in the middle of the ground level, but there's no need to worry about him yet. Use the same takedowns that you have employed in other Predator Encounters. Spray Explosive Gel on the destructible walls, toss the Sonic Batarang nearby, and once you get the message that a hostile is within range, detonate it. Use the vantage points, vents, and grates to hide from and take down the thugs. You can attach fire extinguishers to a hostile with the Remote Claw to knock him down. Be careful of loud takedowns that immediately attract the assassin's attention; always be ready to flee to a safer location.

Once his health is down to about 25 percent, the assassin grabs the hostage, holding him in front. Without being seen, you must again work your way behind the guy and perform a Silent Takedown. This knocks Deadshot out for good.

UNLOCKS

Special Combo Disarm and Destroy Upgrade

During Story Mode, after scanning the corpse at the GCPD Morgue and on your way out, a report sounds over police radio about a scuffle that may involve chemical weapons. To start this side mission, head to the southwest corner of the Coventry District and investigate the gang fight.

>> INVESTIGATE THE GANG FIGHT

This is a pretty good-sized fight consisting of 19 enemies, including several with knives and melee weapons. You can take advantage of the fighting between the two gangs and keep your strikes to one side. This way, the other hostiles will continue battling each other. The final enemy gives up, allowing you to interrogate him.

Your second objective is to investigate another gang fight at Dixon Docks in the Amusement Mile District. This fight includes 22 enemies with knives and melee weapons. The two gangs are even more dispersed in this turf war. Again, interrogate the last standing hostile. Search to the south for an open container, and scan in the birdcage with the Evidence Scanner. This leads Batman to My Alibi Nightclub in the Coventry District.

>>ENTER MY ALIBI NIGHTCLUB AND CONFRONT BIRD

Your final objective is located in the northeast corner of the district. Enter the door on the southeast side of the building, descend the stairs, and step into the nightclub. Follow the hallway left, and continue around the perimeter of the room until you spot Bird and his men harassing a man on the dance floor. Glide kick one of the hostiles, and then work your way through the group, which includes two Venom Users. After you have taken out everyone but the assassin, interrogate him to find out who he is.

- 1 To Coventry District
- 2 Bird
- 3 Private Room

ESCAPED BLACKGATE PRISONERS

After completing Story Mode, six Case File Reports, and six Crimes in Progress, Batman gets a call from Captain Gordon about some escaped convicts. All 20 locations are added to your map and to the Most Wanted section of your Mission Interface. This guide also includes these locations on the Most Wanted world map.

Travel to a prisoner's location. With the guy in his sight, Batman matches him to the database to confirm his identity. Drop in on him and his buddies, and take them all down. The convict surrenders, so walk up to him and interrogate him. Whenever Batman takes one down, he calls it in to Captain Gordon to let him know that a prisoner is ready for pick up.

GOTHAM CITY INTEL

You can collect Gotham City Intel by scanning in Cyrus Pinkney Plaques and Anarky Tags around Gotham City. Note that Anarky Tags only show up in Detective Vision. Once you find a plaque or tag, hold the Detective Vision button to scan the item in and unlock the Intel. You can view the Intel inside your Database.

The first Cyrus Pinkney Plaque scanned unlocks his Character Profile. Many of the plaques also unlock Journal Entries, which show up on his Profile page. These are part of the Audio Files that unlock throughout the game. Select one from the Profile page to listen to it.

The plaques and tags are listed below in the order they appear in the Database. This guide lists the district or location where you can find the Intel, along with a description of how to find it. In general, the Intel is found on or near the structure that the Gotham City Intel is named after.

CASEFILE REPORTS

Throughout Story Mode, Batman must use his detective skills to figure out several unsolved cases. There are nine Casefiles in all, but you complete two of them just by progressing through the main story. Helicopter Crash unlocks after Batman investigates the Steel Mill, and after you solve that one, the Deadshot's Most Wanted side mission becomes available. The other six Casefiles are each unlocked one at a time as you solve the previous one.

When you reach a crime scene, tap the Detective Vision button to bring up your Evidence Scanner. A red triangle points you to the next piece of evidence. Hold the Run button as you highlight the item, marking, or body to scan it in. This often reconstructs the crime scene. You can then rewind and advance the scene with the Aim Gadget and Crouch buttons. Use these tools to solve the cases and apprehend the criminals.

COVENTRY TOWER DEATHTRAP

LOCATION: Coventry—north side in Coventry Tower

CASE TYPE: Manslaughter

VICTIM: David Shannon, technician

SUMMARY: This tower malfunction is not from storm damage.

The Coventry Tower Deathtrap case takes place as part of Story Mode, just before you gain access to the open world. Solving this crime introduces you to Enigma and his Most Wanted side mission. Refer to the Story Mode section of this guide for more information about solving the murder of David Shannon.

LACEY TOWERS MURDERS

LOCATION: Coventry—Lacey Towers

CASE TYPE: Double homicide

VICTIMS: Unknown

SUMMARY: The police believe the Penguin murdered Black Mask.

After you visit the Penguin at his cargo ship, he mentions a murder at Lacey Towers. This apartment building is in Coventry, so travel there to investigate. This is also part of Story Mode and is covered in full detail in the Story section of this guide.

HELICOPTER CRASH

LOCATION: The Bowery—west side

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIMS: Unknown

SUMMARY: I witnessed a helicopter crash; looking for survivors.

After investigating the Steel Mill, Batman heads to Pioneer's Bridge to scan Electrocuter's electromagnetic signature. Along the way, Alfred informs him of an S.O.S. broadcast in The Bowery. Travel to the far west side of the district, then grapple up to the balcony of the tall building. A flare has been set off on the west side of the building, so approach the distress call.

A police helicopter shows up to take Batman in, but before they can do so, the chopper crashes into the street below. Dive down to the scene to find out there are no survivors.

Walk over to the body on the eastern side of the crime scene. Enable the Evidence Scanner and scan in the body. This reconstructs part of the crime and shows that the pilot died from impact and not by gunshot.

Grapple up to the rooftop where you started, and find the point where the chopper made contact. Scan it in to further rebuild the crime scene. Now you know that the tail rotor was severed when it hit the building. Walk around to the right side of the sign, then rewind the scene. Now, move it forward and watch for the red trail, which shows the path of the tail. As it plays, follow it around the corner to the other side of the building to find a piece of the helicopter.

Walk over to its location and scan in the tail. This reconstructs the scene all the way back to when it was taken down. Evidently, a high-powered round hit the tail, causing the chopper to spin out of control. Rewind back to when the bullet hit to see the path it took from a rooftop across the street. Glide over to the new location, and scan in the body of a SWAT member found there.

The same bullet that took down the chopper also killed this SWAT team member. Only one person is capable of a ricochet shot like this—Deadshot. In Detective Vision, you can trace the full path of the bullet to a distant platform to the east. Travel over to that metal platform, and scan in the shell casing left behind to confirm Batman's hunch. Numbers on the side of the casing represent a radio frequency. With the Cryptographic Sequencer open, move the cursor to 451.00 along the bottom and 326.00 on the side. This starts Deadshot's Most Wanted. This side mission is covered in full in the Most Wanted section of this guide.

DIXON DOCKS SHOOTING

LOCATION: Amusement Mile—Dixon Docks

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIM: Unknown

SUMMARY: According to the police report, the victim died from a single gunshot wound to the chest.

Find Dixon Docks on the east side of the Amusement Mile District. Grapple to the rooftop of the warehouse located just west of the district's Batwing Drop Point. There, a body lies at the base of a slanted portion of the roof. Use the Evidence Scanner to scan the corpse. This identifies the victim as Owen Grant, an investigative journalist.

Next, scan in the marking at evidence marker 3. This reconstructs part of the scene, showing that the victim crawled to his present location. Scanning in the splatter at the ledge recreates more of the crime, revealing that the shot came from below.

Scrub through the crime scene, watching the camera in his right hand. A red line traces its movement as the victim releases it. Follow it into the corner, then scan it in. Batman uploads the contents to the Batcomputer so that Alfred can identify the subject in the pictures.

The suspect is Chucky Berks. His last known location is in the Diamond District. As you approach him, located on a rooftop just south of the Furniture Company, he is identified as your target. Six thugs accompany Chucky. Knock them all out and interrogate the suspect to close the case.

AMUSEMENT MILE MAULING

LOCATION: Amusement Mile—Gotham City Casino

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIM: Unknown

SUMMARY: Body, mid 30's, no witnesses, injuries consistent with repeated blunt force trauma.

The murder victim lies on the grounds of the casino in northwest Amusement Mile. Scan the body to identify the body as Matthew Kadai and discover that the cause of death was one massive blunt force. Scan in the spatter pattern at the corpse's feet to reconstruct the crime. Rewind and scrub through the scene, watching the object that strikes the victim. Follow it as it goes over the ledge. Hop down and scan it in to identify fingerprints on the object belonging to Andrew Carter.

Alfred gives Carter's last known location as Park Row on the street south of the Comms Tower. Travel there to find him with 13 of his buddies. Be careful, because Andrew Carter is a Venom User. Take care of the group, and then interrogate the suspect.

BURNLEY HIT AND RUN

LOCATION: Burnley—street in front of GCPD

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIM: Unknown

SUMMARY: Officer Meyer reported a hit and run just outside the GCPD precinct.

On the street just in front of the GCPD, an officer radios in a hit and run. Before they find someone to look into it, glide down to the street, and spot the body at the intersection. Scan it in to identify him as Nate Ramo, a SWAT officer. Move a little to the west, and scan the impact point to begin reconstruction of the crime.

Farther to the west, scan in the spatter pattern to find out more about the incident, such as the vehicle weight and speed. Hop over the barrier that blocks the road to the north, and scrub through the crime to see if anything else was hit. The vehicle lost control as it turned toward the tunnel and hit the right wall. Scan in the point of contact to get details on the car.

A search produces one name, John DeMarco, a fellow SWAT team member. His current location is very close. Grapple to the highest point of the next building to the east. Look over the opposite side to find the suspect, fully armored as he hangs out with three more officers. Eliminate his buddies, and then interrogate him.

COVENTRY FIRE

LOCATION: Coventry—northwest

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIM: Unknown

SUMMARY: Dispatch got a call. Fire's almost out. They have a body. Cause of death currently unknown.

A fire in northwest Coventry leaves a man dead, but the cause of death is currently unknown. Drop into the street in front of the Mendo Soap Factory, and scan the body. This identifies him as Alex Cane, an arms dealer who occasionally works with the Penguin. He was apparently taken out with a gunshot to the heart. Scan in the spot at evidence marker 3 to start reconstructing the crime. This shows that he was shot from close range.

A burn mark in between the suspect and victim can be scanned in next to show that a Molotov cocktail was tossed. How did the killer get away? Rewind the scene, and play it back to show him climb the nearby wall. Grapple up to the ledge, and scan in the mark on the wall and then the ladder on the ground.

The prints on the ladder point to Qing Lu. Find him on the Final Offer in the Amusement Mile District with five thugs. The suspect is a martial artist, so be ready to counter his numerous attacks. Interrogate him once you've knocked out the rest of the group.

JEZEBEL PLAZA FALL

LOCATION: The Bowery—northeast in Jezebel Center

CASE TYPE: Murder

VICTIM: Unknown

SUMMARY: A 187 in the Bowery, reports the victim appears to have fallen from a nearby building.

As you travel near Jezebel Center, you hear a report of a man falling from a nearby building. A hole in the center's ceiling shows the body's location. Drop down to the street, and scan the corpse to identify him as a Merchant's Bank account manager named Bryan Murphy. Scan the body again to reconstruct the crime. Grapple up to the balcony above to discover that the railing is broken. Scan the mark on the ground to show a second set of footprints and evidence of a briefcase.

Advance the crime scene, and follow the red trail from the briefcase. It leads down to a ventilation shaft that juts out of the building in between the balcony and the street below. Hop down to its location, then scan the item in to find fingerprints from a con artist named Robert Haynes. Alfred pinpoints his last known location as the west side of the Diamond District. Fast travel to New Gotham City, and grapple up to the roof of the Furniture Company. You then find the suspect on a lower roof to the north. Drop in on the group, beat up his five buddies, and interrogate Mr. Murphy to close the case.

CRIME ALLEY SHOOTINGS

LOCATION: Park Row—behind Monarch Theater

CASE TYPE: Double homicide

VICTIMS: Unknown

SUMMARY: Two victims in Park Row, both shot dead. I know them.

Two victims are found in the alley behind Monarch Theater in southeastern Park Row. Scan both bodies to identify them as Horace Riley and Clarissa Rodriguez. Scan the spatter pattern at Clarissa's feet to reconstruct the crime, showing that they were taken out by a single gunshot. Playing the scene shows that the casing fell through a nearby grate.

Cancel the Evidence Scanner, and pry the vent cover off the side of the building. Scan the casing in to identify fingerprints as Ian Chase's. Alfred gives his last known location as the far south side of the Industrial District, behind the Steel Mill. Drop in on him, take out his five acquaintances, and interrogate him his existence

Conflicting reports—is he one man—or many?

From GCPD files: Suspect is believed to be responsible for multiple assaults against both criminals and law enforcement officials. Identity of suspect currently unknown—may be a single individual or multiple individuals working together. Conflicting reports of suspect physiology range from “dark specter” to “large winged creature.” Lack of photographic and forensic evidence makes it difficult to confirm or refute these claims.

First sighting reported nearly two years ago, though frequency has recently increased. Multiple reports of suspect employing custom-built armored vehicle and unlicensed low-flying aircraft.

ATTRIBUTES:

Long time butler of the Wayne family
Legal guardian of Bruce Wayne in his youth
Trusted friend and loyal companion

Alfred claims to have been an accomplished actor before he signed on to be the Wayne family butler, but records hint at a history with military intelligence. Being an actor could have been a cover, or acting could just be a very useful skill for an intelligence officer to have. For Alfred's part, he's not offering up details, but his extensive medical knowledge suggests he's more than a common thespian. Alfred is still having trouble accepting the reality of Bruce Wayne's double life and continues to push Bruce to give up his crusade for more mundane pursuits.

Gordon has been appointed the head of the Vigilante Task Force and charged with bringing in the Batman, and he takes this job very seriously. Batman is no friend to the police and should tread with extreme caution when engaging officers, particularly since many of them maintain criminal associations in the pay of Black Mask, the Penguin, or worse. ATTRIBUTES:

Slick, deeply corrupt police commissioner

Politically untouchable

Alleged to have connections to Gotham City's major crime families

As much politician as policeman, Gillian Loeb is a blight on Gotham City. He runs the city like a criminal kingpin, and the police under his command are used as his personal enforcers. He is particularly close with Lieutenant Branden and his "shoot first" SWAT teams. Under Loeb's watch, the city has experienced relative peace between the various crime families. This peace has allowed them to exploit and extort the citizens who live and work on their turf. As long as Loeb remains in power, so too will the kingpins.

He was hired because of his administrative abilities and tasked with finding ways to increase prison profitability. While he has experienced some degree of success, it has come at a cost. The number of inmates has ballooned while maintenance expenditures have been cut, causing the facility to fall into disrepair and disrepute. There are more and more guards on the payroll of Black Mask and the Penguin, and the prison has become a haven for criminals and criminal activity. He appears to be a highly resourceful psychopath with a sadistic intelligence, who delights in causing chaos, destruction, and human suffering. Skilled with explosives and firearms. He displays personality traits consistent with criminal insanity, though his mental instability did not hinder his ability to infiltrate and take over Black Mask’s criminal organization. > KILLER CROC

REAL NAME	Waylon Jones
OCCUPATION	Career Criminal
BASED IN	Gotham City
EYES	Yellow
HAIR	None
HEIGHT	9 ft 8 in
WEIGHT	850 lbs+

ATTRIBUTES:

Instinctual hunter with heightened senses

Dynamic physiology—appearance continually changes

Medical records classify Jones as suffering from a rare form of an epidermolytic hyperkeratosis, which normally causes skin to scale. But there's more to Jones than that. It's true that his skin has grown dense enough to repel gunfire, but that doesn't explain the rest of the changes: his size, sense of smell, unexplained dental eruptions, and warped digits. The degree to which he has been affected is remarkable and suggests this may actually be a form of atavism that simply resembles hyperkeratosis. It may also be the result of intentional genetic manipulation. Further study is required. Regardless of their origin, his strength and ferocity make him an immense physical threat.

> MAD HATTER

REAL NAME	Jervis Tetch
OCCUPATION	Clothing Retailer
EYES	Blue
HAIR	Red
HEIGHT	4 ft 11 in
WEIGHT	115 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Delusional

Obsessive

Knowledge of mind-controlling chemicals and devices

Records suggest tenuous grasp on reality

Former neurologist

While not a physical threat, Tetch's research into brain chemistry and hypnotism makes him a menace to the unsuspecting. Tetch's name is listed in connection with several cold cases and appears on many watchlists. Law enforcement seems to be waiting for him to take the next step. He has an unhealthy fixation with Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and believes himself to be a character from the book.

> FIREFLY

REAL NAME Garfield Lynns
OCCUPATION Pyrotechnics Expert
BASED IN Mobile
EYES Brown
HAIR None (was brown)
HEIGHT 5 ft 11 in
WEIGHT 165 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Obsessive-compulsive pyromaniac

Multiple instances of severe burns all over his body

Utilizes custom-made flamethrower, jetpack, and incendiary grenades

Lynns has specialized knowledge of incendiary devices, yet often gets burned by the fires he's creating. What little is in his medical records suggests he does not seek treatment for the pain: it seems to invoke a pleasure response in him. This is a dangerous combination. His obsession with fire is driving him to take ever-larger risks, and if he is not stopped, he's going to destroy himself and potentially much of the city with him.

> THE PENGUIN

REAL NAME	Oswald C. Cobblepot
OCCUPATION	Black Market Racketeer
EYES	Blue
HAIR	Black
HEIGHT	4 ft 10 in
WEIGHT	175 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Up-and-coming crime boss

Extensive underworld connections

Cunning and paranoia make him a difficult foe to nail down

The Penguin operates a black market on his modified luxury liner, the Final Offer. Cobblepot is tapped into Gotham City's underworld like no other—if there's a deal going on somewhere in the city, Cobblepot knows about it and is probably involved in some way. He is careful about maintaining a low profile when it comes to his gang's dealings, which makes it difficult to pin this criminal activity directly on him. While he doesn't offer much in the way of a physical threat, he does carry concealed weapons and keeps a large number of his thugs around to protect him.

> LEFTY LEBLANC

REAL NAME	Richard Leblanc
OCCUPATION	Arms Dealer
EYES	Blue
HAIR	Brown
HEIGHT	6 ft 3 in
WEIGHT	220 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Like most bullies, he breaks when faced with someone stronger
Leblanc has mid-level connections all over the city
Could be a potential informant, given his contacts
Works for Oswald Cobblepot

Leblanc was a small-time gunrunner who fell in with the Penguin's crew and now works exclusively for Cobblepot. Leblanc conducts arms deals with various buyers and sellers all over the city. He fancies himself a comedian and a ladies' man, but he's nothing more than a common criminal who should be behind bars.

> CANDY

REAL NAME	Unknown
OCCUPATION	The Penguin's Assistant
EYES	Brown
HAIR	Black
HEIGHT	5 ft 8 in
WEIGHT	135 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Using the Penguin for income
Criminal record exists only in association with the Penguin
Potential for rehabilitation

Candy was raised on the streets but managed to pull herself up and earn a business degree. Unfortunately, lean times and a contracting job market caused her to fall in with the Penguin's crowd. The recession has driven many well-educated people to take desperate action to support themselves, but that's no excuse for criminal behavior. Her crimes are minor, however, making her an excellent candidate for rehabilitation.

> TRACEY BUXTON

REAL NAME	Tracey Buxton
OCCUPATION	The Penguin's Assistant
EYES	Brown
HAIR	Blonde
HEIGHT	5 ft 8 in
WEIGHT	130 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Streetwise and tough
Mid-level leadership position

Tracey's earned her status in the Penguin's operation owing to a tough-as-nails, no-nonsense attitude. The Penguin uses her to keep his crew in line when he's not around. It's not clear why she would have fallen in with Cobblepot. It's likely that the two met while he was living abroad. Perhaps he's grooming her to take over his operation some day. While she represents only a minimal physical threat, she is as dangerous as anyone else who picks up a gun and is willing to use it

> ALBERTO FALCONE

REAL NAME	Alberto Falcone
OCCUPATION	Professional Criminal
EYES	Dark Brown
HAIR	Black
HEIGHT	5 ft 8 in
WEIGHT	150 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Son of mob boss Carmine Falcone
Medical records indicate history of mental illness

The Falcones are one of Gotham City's most powerful crime families. Carmine Falcone has ruled his part of the city for years but has started losing ground to newcomers Black Mask and Cobblepot. Still, the Falcone family remains active throughout Gotham City, posing a threat to the safety and security of its citizens.

> ENIGMA

REAL NAME	Edward Nashton
OCCUPATION	GCPD Cyber Crime Division
EYES	Blue
HAIR	Black
HEIGHT	6 ft 1 in
WEIGHT	183 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Incredible intellect, but also highly insecure
Compulsive need to prove his superiority
Master hacker

Enigma seems able to defeat almost all forms of network security. Batman's own network is under threat of attack, and steps must be taken to ensure no future incursions. If Enigma was able to access the Batcomputer, there's no telling how much damage he could do. Fortunately, his insecurities cause him to act out. The more he draws attention to himself, the easier he becomes to track down and take out. Enigma has been revealed to be a man named Edward Nashton, head of the GCPD's Cyber Crime division. This revelation explains how he was able to access the city's communications network and obtain the extortion data he planned to release. Though his current whereabouts are unknown, having obtained his true identity should make tracking him down easier.

> ELECTROCUTIONER

REAL NAME	Lester Buchinsky
OCCUPATION	Pit Fighter
HAIR	Brown
HEIGHT	6 ft 4 in
WEIGHT	225 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Street tough out to make a name for himself
Has surprising skill in electrical engineering
Big mouth

More brawns than brains is the initial assessment of Buchinsky, but he has been able to create some kind of custom-made weaponized gloves that pack a powerful electrical discharge. However, their craftsmanship suggests there is more going on between his ears than the sound of his own boasting, though he may have had help constructing them, or perhaps even had them made by someone else. His arrogance and overconfidence are his weaknesses.

> ANARKY

REAL NAME	Unknown
OCCUPATION	Political Activist
EYES	Unknown
HAIR	Unknown
HEIGHT	5 ft 6 in
WEIGHT	145 lbs

ATTRIBUTES:

Self-titled "voice of the people"

Extremist who will do anything to achieve his goals

Sees corporations and government as enemies that must be destroyed

Growing following among youth and disillusioned

Anarky wants to purge Gotham City of corruption, but his methods involve wanton destruction. His idealism is matched with a self-importance that makes reasoning with him nearly impossible; he needs to be dealt with physically and imprisoned to keep this city safe. Should be approached with caution.

CHALLENGE MODE

Among the many tools Bruce Wayne uses to keep in top crime-fighting shape is his Training Console. This virtual reality environment allows Batman to practice any scenario.

Predator maps simulate sneaking around a heavily armed force, with the goal being a silent, stealthy clearing of the room. Clearing out the room is the baseline expectation; you can go above and beyond the call (and earn medals) by completing certain objectives along the way. These maps (along with Predator scenarios during the single player campaign) are decent acclimation for the Invisible Predator Online mode, though the AI henchman can't compare to humans!

Combat maps also involve clearing the room four times over by fighting up to a dozen or more enemies at a time for four waves. (Those simulations disregard the “silent and stealthy” bit.) The baseline goals here are to survive and to incapacitate all opposition. The medal-winning goal is to clear three score benchmarks—basically bronze, silver, and gold scoring challenges.

Combat maps test your Free Flow Combat mastery. Clearing all Combat map scoring medals requires you to maintain perfect Free Flow combos while varying your gadgets and maximizing your general actions for the sake of points.

In addition to the Combat maps, Combat Training Programs give you a score-free environment to hone basic skills.

The Training Console is accessed from the Batcave, so you can't try out Challenge Mode maps until you've found the Batcave in the single player campaign. (That doesn't take long; you head to the Batcave immediately after the first boss fight.) Once you can access the Training Console from the Batcave, then you can also access Challenge Mode from the main menu without loading up the campaign itself.

Most maps aren't available at first. You can unlock extra maps by fulfilling certain parameters in the single player campaign, such as progressing to certain points in the adventure or acquiring new gadgets/abilities.

There are three different types of play in Challenge Mode, and one option in which three maps are strung back-to-back-to-back:

Ranked: You'll take on a single map, selected from the Combat and Predator maps you've unlocked. The results are stacked against your friends and the online community at large. No modifiers are active.

Campaign: Each Campaign is unlocked once the three included Challenge Maps are available. See Combat Maps and Predator Maps later in this chapter to find the Unlock Condition for each. In each Campaign scenario, you must complete three of the Combat and/or Predator maps in a row. You can fail and retry the current map up to three times in a single Campaign. Some Campaigns are a mix of Combat maps and Predator maps, while others focus on one or the other. To succeed, you must clear all three maps. Each Campaign is assigned a set of modifiers. The modifiers can be assigned to any of the three maps. Modifiers last for one map, and you must use up all modifiers by the end of the Campaign. (During the third map, any modifiers you didn't voluntarily assign on earlier maps become activated automatically. Conversely, if you stack every modifier onto the first map for whatever reason, you'll have no modifiers to assign for maps two and three.)

Custom: In Custom mode, you can tackle any Predator or Combat maps you've unlocked, with any modifiers active that you please. Rooms can become much easier or much harder with certain mods active. Since this mode is a sort of playground, results don't get posted to leaderboards as they do in the standard maps of Ranked mode.

Combat Training: As you earn new abilities or encounter new enemy types, they'll probably be highlighted somewhere in Combat Training. These Training Programs are like Combat maps, except without the pressure for a high score.

»» MEDALS

288 medals are spread throughout Challenge Mode, with three medals per map. As you accrue more medals, you unlock pieces of concept art (accessible from the main menu). Collecting all the medals in each Challenge Mode map type also unlocks several Achievements/Trophies.

MODIFIERS

Modifiers change the parameters of Combat and Predator maps. Most mods increase difficulty, though a handful decrease it. In Campaign mode, you must use up the assigned modifiers before all three Campaign maps are complete; any mods you haven't assigned by the third map become mandatory.

Modifiers are also available in Custom mode, where you can elect any combination of mods you want for a run through a single map. Mods aren't available in Ranked mode or in Combat Training.

DETRIMENTAL MODS

-  DANGER ZONES: During Combat, gun racks are activated during the challenge, allowing enemies to obtain firearms. During Predator, the environment contains booby-trapped vantage points.
-  DECREASED HEALTH: Begin the challenge with reduced health.
-  GADGET MALFUNCTION: During Combat, all gadgets are disabled. During Predator, Detective Vision is scrambled.
-  INCREASED AGGRESSION: Enemies are stronger, faster, and tougher!
-  ONE HAND TIED: During Combat, all special combo moves are disabled. During Predator, the player cannot perform a Silent Takedown from behind.
-  PROTECTIVE AURA: One adversary is surrounded with a protective aura that prevents them from taking damage. The aura moves from enemy to enemy over time.
-  SCATTERED WEAPONS: During Free Flow Combat, enemies pick up and throw objects at you. During Predator Encounters, the environment starts pre-mined with proximity-activated explosives.
-  TIME LIMIT: Adds a time limit to complete the challenge. Defeat enemies to extend your time.

BENEFICIAL MODS

-  FREE MEDAL: Player is automatically given a medal if they don't complete all three objectives at the end of the challenge.
-  REPLENISHING HEALTH: Your character slowly regains lost health over time.
-  SUPER POWERED: Gain the ability to punch through shields, armor, and tasers without getting blocked. In Predator Encounters, you move faster when crouched down.
-  TAKEDOWN PROJECTILES: Upgrades your primary projectile weapon to knock out enemies with a single hit when thrown with the Quick-fire button.

COMBAT MAPS

Combat maps are judged by your score. Keep the Free Flow combo going, and you'll build up a multiplier. To maximize point accrual, try to maintain unbroken combos, vary your gadget use mid-combo, and exploit the growing multiplier by using high-value actions like Blade Dodge Takedowns and Ground Takedowns.

>>INTENSIVE TRAINING

This Combat map is an unwelcoming introduction, but it doesn't get any friendlier from here. The normal version of this room requires basically nothing but strikes until the fourth wave, at which point it becomes a good time to learn to deal with a knife user. By the time you've unlocked Intensive Training (Extreme), the waves should be no problem, until perhaps the fourth wave. This unique staggered wave starts out with a ton of your expected rabble of lowlifes (not literally a ton, but it's 14 guys). Just as you're thinning them out, though, poof! Several ninja blink into existence, in an apparent show of ninja magic. You'll have to deal with them, too; fighting them is like fighting a more devious martial artist. To simplify things, use Combo Takedowns on them if possible.

>>25 TO LIFE

Here, you'll begin running into guys stabbing at Batman with broken bottles. In behavior, they're just like knife-wielding thugs. You can redirect over a knife user and land a striking combo from behind, and you can just dodge their knife flurries easily by holding away plus Counter. But the best thing to do for Challenge Mode high scores is to weave Blade Dodge Takedowns into your combos. This isn't too hard once you've become familiar with Blade Dodge Takedowns in the first place. Just be ready to drop whatever your current plan was if you see the knife user coming in for his combo. You can somewhat skirt the issue entirely by simply fighting as far away from the knife users as possible; whenever they get close, dodge roll away, and then attack whichever unarmed enemy gives you the most extra distance away on top of the roll. (This tactic won't break your Free Flow combo.) This can be useful if you're avoiding blade users, like when you're saving them for your Special Takedowns.

25 to Life Wave 4

>>OVERFLOW

The Extreme version of this room is the first place you'll encounter Stun Baton users. As with knife users, it can be effective to simply avoid the Stun Baton thugs, fighting around and away from them until you're ready to deal with them directly. Otherwise, while these rabbit-eared sewer rats are maybe more strangely attired than previous Challenge Mode combatants, they aren't different in behavior, so the same methods apply.

>>DEATH SENTENCE

The Death Sentence map introduces Venom Users into the mix. Watch out for and be ready to dodge roll away from their charging grab attacks, and save your Combo Takedowns for them. Be ready for another Enforcer during the fourth wave. Death Sentence (Extreme) ups the ante of bad guy diversity, as already by Wave 2, you'll have to contend with both an Enforcer and a juiced Venom User simultaneously! During Wave 4 of the Extreme version of this map, you'll have the largest array yet of targets whom you cannot simply attack head-on: the armored guys, the martial artists, and the Enforcer all shrug off standard frontal Strikes. Dance around them, building up your Free Flow combo on standard thugs (and, if you've acquired the Shock Gloves, energy for enhanced punching power), biding your time for clear openings to take down all the men who require specific takedown methods.

The final Combat map pits you against a generous serving of almost everything. In particular, this map is about fighting Venom Users. The final wave of Panopticon (Extreme) has three Venom Users at once, and it isn't like these are the only villains you'll face; fifteen assorted underlings accompany these chem-buffed brawlers! Work up Shock Glove energy on the baddies surrounding the Venom Users, and be very wary of their uncounterable charging grabs. But aside from encountering multiple Venom fiends at once, and the sheer number of baddies during later waves, there's nothing here you won't be able to handle if you've made it here in the first place!

Title	Free Flow Combat	Combo Takedown	High Multiplier
Goal	Reach x3 multiplier to enter Free Flow Mode.	Reach x8 multiplier and perform one Combo Takedown.	Reach x15 multiplier.
Description	While in Free Flow Mode, your strikes have increased range and power, allowing you to flow between enemies and knock them to the ground with each strike.	Press Y + B (or △ + ○ to perform a Combo Takedown when a special move token is available. A special move token is earned every time the multiplier increases by 8.	Perform 15 strikes and Counters in a row without being hit. Increasing your multiplier improves your score in Challenge Mode and your combat grade in Story Mode.

This is pretty straightforward. The average maniac demanding Batman's attention can be knocked out by a steady diet of regular strikes, though any gadgetry you mix in adds flavor and style. Mastering Free Flow Combat Mode is crucial to getting high scores and taking out lots of enemies efficiently. It also just makes the combat much more fun. Once you're acclimated to the basics of combos, this is a good place to also practice mixing in evades, redirects, and using quick-fire gadgets in a low-pressure, consequence-free environment.

Medal Details	First Medal	Second Medal	Third Medal
Title	Counter	Double Counter	Blade Dodge
Goal	Counter an enemy attack while in Free Flow Mode.	Counter two attackers at once.	Completely dodge a Blade Attack.
Description	Keep your multiplier above 3 to maintain Free Flow Mode, then counter an enemy attack. Countering enemy attacks is an important skill to master.	When two opponents attack at once, press  /  twice to perform a double counter.	Hold  /  and pull away from foes armed with melee weapons to effectively dodge their attacks.

Counters are just as important as strikes, and they keep Free Flow Mode combos going, too. Apart from the icon above the heads, enemies also pretty obviously make a beeline right for Batman when they're going to attack. Use both cues to alert yourself to counter opportunities. If you tend to kind of mash on the Strike button to dole out combos, try to get out of that habit. That technique tends to earn you many headaches throughout the Arkham series, because if you've started up a punch, then you won't be able to counter. Slow down your attempts to strike back a little bit—you have more time than it seems!—and don't commit to an offensive action (whether strike or using a gadget) when a punch that you must counter is incoming! Similarly, don't make the mistake of mashing counter, either, because a whiffed counter equals a broken combo.

>>BEATDOWN EXPERT

UNLOCK CONDITION: After acquiring the Concussion Detonator

THUGS: 4 standard, 1 armored

Title	Cape Stun	Stun Beatdown	Armored Enemies
Goal	Stun two enemies with one Cape Stun.	Perform three Stun Beatdowns.	Complete a Stun Beatdown on one armored adversary.
Description	Press B/C to stun up to three foes in front of Batman. Cape Stun helps manage crowded encounters by stunning a group of opponents for a limited time.	Perform a Stun Beatdown by repeatedly striking an attacker after stunning them with the cape. Completing the Beatdown knocks out the hostile.	Armored foes block normal strikes and reset the combo meter. Use the Stun Beatdown to take them out.

Armored enemies will block your strikes, so use the Cape Stun attack to drop their guard. Pummel cape-staggered foes with strikes to start up a special mini-combo, the Stun Beatdown. Since this involves punching the same guy up to a dozen times, it can be tough to get a full Stun Beatdown when surrounded, so evade out to the fringes and try to separate enemies. Otherwise, knock all but one down before going for the cape swing into Stun Beatdown. Note that Stun Beatdowns are a terrific way to build up the combo multiplier quickly, since Batman pummels the same target over and over. If you can safely use a Stun Beatdown to open a Free Flow combo, you'll already have enough hits to be in Free Flow Mode, and maybe even to use a Combo Takedown on the toughest nearby enemy immediately.

>>MIXED WEAPON GROUP EXPERT

UNLOCK CONDITION: After completing the Prison Riot FFC in GCPD

THUGS: 2 standard thugs, 2 baseball bat, 1 shield, 1 assault rifle

Title	Quick-fire Batclaw Slam	Aerial Attack	Quick-fire Batarang
Goal	Perform a Batclaw Slam.	Perform an Aerial Attack on an enemy with a shield.	Use the Quick-fire Batarang to knock three foes down.
Description	Hold L1 + Y (or L2 + A) to quick-fire the Batclaw. Press X/C during the Batclaw attack to perform the Batclaw Slam.	Press B, A, A (or C, X, X) to perform an Aerial Attack. The Aerial Attack is an effective tactic against opponents with shields.	Tap J/L2 to use the Quick-fire Batarang. When in Free Flow Mode, the Batarangs hit harder and can knock targets down.

This Training Program's point is two-fold: to teach you to vary your gadgets, and to teach you to fight a real diversity of thug fauna. Varying your gadget use (especially within unbroken Free Flow combos) goes a long way toward your Combat score, in both Challenge Mode and the main story campaign. And certain tools are better against certain thugs, so when you're facing down a dozen punks at once, it helps to know whom to hit with what. (Especially when some of them might have only one weakness.)

>>MARTIAL ARTS EXPERT

UNLOCK CONDITION: After fighting two Martial Artists in the last fight in the sewers

THUGS: 3 standard, 3 Martial Artists

Title	Counter Attack	Dual Attack	Combo Chain Attack
Goal	Reach x8 multiplier.	Counter a martial artist Dual Attack.	Counter a martial artist Combo Chain Attack.
Description	The martial artist can counter your attacks. Be prepared to respond to these Counters in order to maintain your combo multiplier.	Hit Y/A twice to counter the Martial Artist's Dual Attack. If you fail, the attack will score two hits against you.	The martial artist can chain attacks one after the other. Time your counters to each attack to counter the entire chain.

Bruce Wayne isn't the only capable fighter in Gotham City. Agile Martial Artist enemies can perform counters and combos of their own. When they counter, be ready to counter back immediately; when they strike, be ready to counter three times consecutively before you counterattack. They can also use a leaping attack that must be sort of double-counterred: you must press Counter twice quickly, like when two minor enemies both strike at Batman at the same time.

>>STUN BATON EXPERT

UNLOCK CONDITION: After the Stun Baton FCC encounter in the electrical room after defusing the bomb
THUGS: 4 standard, 2 Stun Baton

Title	Redirect	Stun Baton Enemy	Glue Grenade vs. Stun Baton Enemies
Goal	Perform a Redirect three times.	Perform a Redirect Attack against a Stun Baton enemy.	Strike a Stun Baton foe immobilized by glue.
Description	Press left analog stick + A , A (or X , X) toward an adversary to dodge over his head. This is called a "Redirect." It is an effective way to avoid attacks while maintaining your multiplier.	Redirect over a Stun Baton opponent, then press X / □ to strike him from behind. You must attack Stun Baton enemies from behind to avoid their weapon.	Press RT , RT (or L2 , L2) to use the Glue Grenade quick-fire and immobilize a Stun Baton hostile. Once he is immobilized, it is safe to strike.

Like Enforcers, martial artists, armored warriors, and ninja, it's not safe to attack Stun Baton troops from the front, but for a different reason. Since these guys have Stun Batons, striking from the front just gets Batman electrocuted. You can attack from behind with Batman's own Shock Gloves, or charge after you've immobilized them with a Glue Grenade.

>>LARGE GROUP TACTICS

UNLOCK CONDITION: After unlocking the Concussion Detonator and purchasing the Multi Ground Takedown upgrade
THUGS: 4 standard, 2 knife, 2 baseball bat, 1 assault rifle, 1 shield

Title	Concussion Detonator Quick-fire	Explosive Gel Quick-fire	Special Combo Multi Ground Takedown
Goal	Use the Concussion Detonator quick-fire to disorient two enemies at once.	Use the Explosive Gel to knock down two foes at once.	Use the Special Combo Multi Ground Takedown to knock down two adversaries at once.
Description	Press L1 + (or L2 + ○) to use the Concussion Detonator quick-fire. This gadget confuses opponents caught within its blast radius, causing them to attack blindly for a few seconds.	Press L1 + X (or L2 + □) to place an Explosive Gel trap on the ground. Press Command again to detonate it. The hostiles counter indicates how many foes the blast will knock down.	Reach x8 multiplier, then press A + B (or X + ○) to perform the Special Combo Multi Ground Takedown. This powerful move knocks out all enemies that are stunned on the ground.

When using Explosive Gel in a Free Flow combo, you can either quick-fire deploy the gel and then immediately detonate it without interrupting the combo, or you can deploy the gel and then immediately go into other actions, weaving the detonation into the combo sometime later. Getting used to quick-firing Explosive Gel becomes even more useful when you're using Batman and Robin in the multiplayer modes, as gel is even more useful there than in single player modes. The Special Combo Multi Ground Takedown works like the Combo Takedown—you get a "token" to use this once every extra multiple of 8 on the Free Flow combo counter. When executed, Batman sweeps the field with Batarangs that knock out anyone unfortunate enough to be laid prone at the time. Naturally, this is a really good special takedown to save for, say, immediately after you've knocked two foes down with shock strikes, then knocked another two down with a quick-fired gel detonation.

>>ADVANCED WEAPON TECHNIQUES

UNLOCK CONDITION: Purchased three of the following WayneTech Upgrades: (Blade Dodge Takedown, Batclaw Disarm, Special Combo Disarm and Destroy)

THUGS: 4 standard, 2 knife, 1 shield, 2 baseball bat, 1 assault rifle

Medal Details	First Medal	Second Medal	Third Medal
Title	Blade Dodge Takedown	Batclaw Disarm	Special Combo Disarm and Destroy
Goal	Successfully perform a Blade Dodge Takedown at least once to earn this medal.	Use the Batclaw Quick-fire to disarm an enemy.	Destroy one weapon using the Special Combo Disarm and Destroy.
Description	Pull back the left analog stick throughout the attack, and hold Y / △ only during the attacker's swipes to perform a Blade Dodge Takedown. Completing this move takes down the attacker at the end of his attack.	Press L3 + Y (or L2 + △) toward an armed foe to disarm them.	Reach x8 multiplier, then press × + Y (or Ⓜ + △) to perform the Special Combo Disarm and Destroy. This attack knocks the adversary down and destroys their weapon.

A crucial skill to master from this Training Program is the Blade Dodge Takedown. Sure, you can just hold the left analog stick away from the knife- or broken bottle-wielding assailant while holding the Counter button the whole time. This move easily dodges the blade user's onslaught and gives you an opening to counterattack. But a much better technique (and much better for Combat scores!) is to get a built-in takedown out of it. This takes a little practice, though. You still hold away from them on the stick the whole time, but now, you must hold down the Counter button briefly only during each actual swing. Just triple-tapping Counter in time to the triple swipe won't be enough; you have to actually hold the Counter button momentarily for each blade swipe. When you succeed, the reward is sweet, as the blade user is knocked out instantly. The best part: this is one of the few attacks that renders Batman invulnerable to almost everything around him while it goes on, so it's safe to weave Blade Dodges into Free Flow combos. It's lucrative, too: Blade Dodge Takedowns have a high point value. Blade users will drop their knives, and unarmed enemies will be sure to help themselves to the freshly ownerless weapons. You can choose to permanently remove selected weapons from the field of battle by taking out their users with Special Combo Disarm and Destroy.

>>COMBO MULTIPLIER MASTERY

UNLOCK CONDITION: Purchased three of the following WayneTech Upgrades: (Critical Strike, Focus Mode, Power Gadget)

THUGS: 4 standard, 2 knife, 2 baseball bat, 1 shield, 1 assault rifle

Medal Details	First Medal	Second Medal	Third Medal
Title	Critical Strike	Focus Mode	Power Gadgets
Goal	Perform three Critical Strikes.	Reach x12 multiplier to enter Focus Mode.	Use one quick-fire gadget while in Focus Mode.
Description	Press  just after finishing the previous strike to perform a Critical Strike on your next attack. Do not tap  repeatedly. These powerful attacks increase your multiplier by 2 for each strike.	Focus Mode slows your enemies in combat and increases the damage of your attacks.	Reach x12 multiplier, then quick-fire the Batarang, Batclaw, Explosive Gel, Concussion Detonator, or Glue Grenade to perform a Power Gadget attack.

This Training Program helps highlight the advantages of keeping combos unbroken, ticking as high as possible. Not only can Batman ping-pong back and forth with acrobatic attacks against enemies several meters apart without missing a beat, but the action slows down to favor your reflexes once you get the combo up high enough. Power Gadgets also become available. Once you've unlocked the ability to deliver Critical Strikes, you can perform them by pressing the strike button again just as the current Strike in progress hits the target. (Holding the left analog stick in the direction of the desired enemy is fine.)

BATMAN: ARKHAM ORIGINS MULTIPLAYER

Batman: Arkham Origins is the first title in the Arkham series to include multiplayer modes. In the multiplayer modes, created by developer Splash Damage, two of Batman's greatest adversaries are at war with each other for control of Gotham City's criminal underworld. Players in an online multiplayer match are distributed randomly onto three teams with different allegiances—there's the Hero team, the Joker gang, and the Bane gang.

HEROES VS. ELITES VS. ELITES

Players who end up on Batman's team take up the cowl of either Batman himself or his sidekick Robin, and they are naturally tasked with disrupting the activities of the lowlifes who serve two of the most notorious villains in the DC canon. The Hero team stays true to Batman's code, swooping down from vantages up above to dole out sudden, silent, and nonlethal (yet surely painful and discouraging) punishment to Elites running amok in various Gotham City locales.

>>THE PRE-GAME LOBBY

Pre-game, players will be broken up at random onto either Joker or Bane gangs, or the Hero team. (A preference toward either the Joker or Bane can be set under options, which the game will try to honor when possible.) While waiting for a match to start, players can vote on the upcoming map, choose between their gang loadouts, and select any delectable Cobblepot Consumables to use, which provide boosts during the match.

Members of Bane's or the Joker's team have no such scruples: these hardened murderers pack firearms and other deadly gadgets. Players who end up in either Bane's or the Joker's gang assume the role of elite thugs. The goal of each gang is to exterminate the other gang as the Joker and Bane battle for control of criminal resources in Gotham City.

Gang members have an advantage over Batman and Robin at ground level—the Heroes are outnumbered against criminals who use guns and grenades (along with other murderous devices specific to either gang). When the Joker or Bane shows up on the field of battle, these criminals are the most dangerous individuals in the room. However, they cannot move as freely as Batman and Robin, who Grapnel into the rafters, duck into air ducts and maintenance tunnels, and survey the whole area from rooftops and perches up above the fray. It's basically a struggle between the Heroes' ability to be patient and pick good spots, while the Elites try to maintain maximum situational awareness.

The main objective of each Elite group isn't necessarily to defeat the Heroes—the gangs are out for each other. The gangs' shooting at each other provides ideal opportunities for Batman and Robin to bide their time, picking off stragglers and distracted Elites from the shadows.

Each multiplayer mode follows these general themes: the Elites war with each other while staying wary of the Heroes, while Batman and Robin try to intimidate the gangs into submission, but there are crucial distinctions.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Working together is crucial for success. Keep an eye on each other and work to coordinate attacks in order to maximize effectiveness.

Stick together. Elites are harder to take down when they're with their teammates, and Batman and Robin are always more powerful than Batman alone."

INVISIBLE PREDATOR ONLINE: EIGHT PLAYERS

Invisible Predator Online pits two teams of three gang members each (three under the Joker, three under Bane) against both each other and against a team featuring Batman and Robin: 3 versus 3 versus 2.

HEALTH

The health bar is visible in the top-left corner of the screen. Sustained damage is shown on this bar. If about five seconds pass without further damage being taken, then the health bar will begin to rapidly refill. Your survival between encounters may increase dramatically if you simply lay low and allow health to refill whenever you can.

Heroes and Elites have 100 health, while the Joker has 750, and the mighty Bane has a whopping 1250 health! The health bars of the Joker and Bane don't refill over time, however.

>>HEROES: INTIMIDATION

The goal of the Heroes is to fill up the Intimidation meter, which is the Bat-Symbol located in the top-center of the screen. Intimidation is built up by taking down Elites. The more the Heroes vary their takedown methods, the faster Intimidation builds. A great deal of Intimidation is also built up if the Heroes manage to take out Bane or the Joker. The Hero team loses Intimidation if either Batman or Robin is killed. There is no limit to the amount of times the Heroes can respawn, though dying excessively has quite a negative effect on Intimidation.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Variation in attacks adds bonus Intimidation. Keep the Elites on their toes with unpredictable attacks, and try to use a variety of attacks whenever possible.

Since heroes only knock Elites unconscious, no reinforcement tokens are taken from the faction that gets attacked by a hero."

>>ELITES: REINFORCEMENTS

The goal of each gang is to try to totally deplete the Reinforcements of the other gang. Both gangs start out with 25 Reinforcements, not counting the three Elites who start the level out. Take Reinforcements away from the other gang by killing its members; your gang loses Reinforcements when you or an ally is killed. Reinforcements are not lost if you or an ally happens to fall prey to Batman or Robin—Batman and Robin don't kill, after all! But an Elite taken out by a Hero still has to go through the respawn process and is out of commission for a bit, so suffering a Hero takedown is not exactly penalty-free.

DEVELOPER TIP: “As an Elite, only hunt Heroes if they are close to victory or if your team is out of Reinforcements. Focus on victory (Team elimination), and stay clear of the Heroes whenever possible.”

»»RESPAWNING

At the beginning of each match, each gang spawns on opposite ends of the map, and the Heroes spawn somewhere safe in the rafters above. Respawns after dying or getting knocked out can be generated all over the map, depending on several factors. The game avoids having an Elite respawn near enemies, in the field of vision of opponents, and even where adversaries are looking using Detective/Enhanced Vision.

When a gang has no Reinforcements left, any Elites killed will not respawn. When all Elites on a team are killed, that team loses (along with the Heroes). It's possible for the last Elite standing to resurrect his fallen teammates by killing Batman or Robin! This can be a total game-changer, especially in close matches, as a comeback victory can be mounted from what seemed like last-gasp, garbage time. (Note: killing the opposing team's Super-Villain, while awesome, does not respawn your down-and-out teammates.) And the Hero who falls as an Elite's team is resurrected will be penalized with an extra-long respawn timer!

Apart from kills, Reinforcements are also influenced over time by the alignment of Control Points.

DEVELOPER TIP: “As a Hero, when one of the Elite teams is close to victory, focus your attention on the losing team. Hero takedowns do not cost Reinforcements, and the winning team will have a hard time finding its target if you are always taking out the losing team.”

>>CONTROL POINTS
(INVISIBLE PREDATOR ONLINE)

It isn't all running and gunning for the gangs, since the gangs can also capture Control Points. The contesting of Control Points leads to natural king-of-the-hill style gunfights and a dynamic frontline. Each map contains three Control Points—one located centrally, and two near the initial spawn areas for each gang. Owning Control Points causes a slow drain on the Reinforcement total of the other team. Wins are earned just as much through Control Point attrition as by killing off the other side.

Gang members can capture Control Points merely by standing within the boundaries of the Control Point for long enough. A bar indicates the progress of the capture attempt. When a Control Point is captured, the opposing gang loses one Reinforcement. Opposing Elites can halt the capture attempt's progress by simply entering the Control Point. They'll have to be killed or pushed out of the Control Point in order to finish the capture attempt.

Every 45 seconds, the game takes a Control Point tally and deducts Reinforcements from each team, based on how many Control Points the other team owns. If it's tied 1-1 on Control Points during a tally, both teams lose one Reinforcement. If one team has all three Control Points locked down, then the other team loses three Reinforcements during a tally!

In Invisible Predator Online mode, all three Control Points are active immediately at the start of the match. Almost inevitably, each gang will quickly capture the Control Point closest to itself before making an initial play for the central Control Point. So, for at least the first possible tally or two, the teams are likely to be tied 1-1.

DEVELOPER TIP: “As a Hero, it is preferable to keep the Elite teams even. Use the Scrambler to neutralize Control Points owned by the winning team and force them to fight for a much longer time. Scrambling Control Points prevents one gang from controlling the match and getting a quick victory.”

While fighting with each other over Control Points, both gangs must keep in mind the presence of the Heroes, who might just snatch victory away if Intimidation isn't kept in check. The inevitable gunfights that occur around Control Points create natural opportunities for Heroes to set traps and snag easy takedowns against preoccupied Elites.

>>SUPER-VILLAINS: THE JOKER AND BANE

In each match, one of the Super-Villains (the Joker or Bane) can show up, drastically increasing the lethal ante. When the baddest of the bad guys sense victory slipping away, they'll demand to be let into the fray to oversee things personally. Each map has several Super-Villain doors, and one of them can open when one of the following becomes true:

80% Intimidation for Heroes

Half of total gang Reinforcements gone

When any one of these conditions is met, the Joker and Bane demand that their gangs allow them into the fight. At this point, whichever player opens the Super-Villain door first gains control of either Bane or the Joker! The Heroes actually get notice of which Super-Villain door will open before the Elites do; this allows Batman and Robin to set up traps to snare Elites who rush for the door over-eagerly! Elites also require time to actually open the door; time during which a careless Elite may find themselves taken down by a Hero or killed by an opponent.

The Super-Villains can't take cover, and they don't have access to Detective or Enhanced Vision. But apart from that, the Super-Villains are all about advantages:

Bane and the Joker have ridiculous and unique weapons of their own (detailed in their own sections).

The Joker has 750 health and Bane has 1250, both far more than the standard 100 health possessed by Elites and Heroes, and it takes three consecutive Hero takedowns to bring one of the Super-Villains down.

They can sprint indefinitely (just like the Heroes).

All opposing gang members are plainly visible onscreen (as though marked by Tactical Darts).

The Super-Villains are invulnerable while executing Heroes and Elites with their marquee moves; the best their opposition can hope for is to reposition during a Super-Villain execution.

While Super-Villains see the opposing gang's members clearly, they don't get any kind of indicator for the Heroes. Elites fighting alongside their side's Super-Villain should communicate and coordinate to help keep Batman and Robin off the boss's back.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"As a Hero, it is not always best to desperately try to prevent Elites from reaching the Super-Villain Door. Use it to bait enemies into a few takedowns, but also try to ensure that the losing team reaches the door first. This will give them an edge and a chance to get back into the game and to keep on fighting. Remember, the longer the game, the easier it is for Heroes to win."

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Super-Villains stun people around them when getting up. You are vulnerable if you are near them when this happens."

MULTIPLAYER PROGRESSION

>>OVERALL LEVEL

XP always goes toward “Overall” progression, detailed in the following table. Gaining levels of Overall account progress earns passive always-on bonuses to certain abilities for both Heroes and Elites. For Elites, Overall progress unlocks more guns, opens more Loadout slots so you can prepare for different maps and situations, and increases the max duration of Elite dashing and Enhanced Vision mode. For Heroes, Overall progress unlocks more outfits from different comic eras and permanent buffs to several Hero gadgets.

»»PRESTIGE

When you've maxed out your multiplayer level, it's time to Prestige! Earning a level of Prestige resets your online level back to the beginning and lets you gain XP toward level-ups all over again. As a reward for Prestiging, you'll earn the 'Blackest Night' costume variant!

>>GANG LEVEL AND GUN LEVEL

You can also earn XP toward increasing the level of the Joker gang and the Bane gang; while you'll always gain Overall XP, you'll only gain XP for a particular gang while you're playing on their side. And while playing as an Elite for either gang, you'll earn XP toward the gun level of whichever main firearm you're toting! Increasing gang level unlocks more gadgets and outfit customization options for that gang, whereas increasing gun level unlocks more aesthetic variants for each gun, along with performance upgrades. The level-by-level bonuses for Elites and guns are detailed later in this chapter.

 HEROES

Batman and Robin control like Batman does in the Story Modes of the Arkham series. They can sprint indefinitely, sneak to lower their profiles, grapple up onto high footholds, evade roll to avoid gunfire and explosions, and duck into vent shafts and ducts. After leaping from high places, they can swoop and glide around the map. (Though Batman, with his superior cape, can dive, while Robin cannot.) They have, in sum, vastly better mobility than the Elites and Super-Villains they hunt. Batman and Robin also both possess Batman's Detective Vision, which provides almost total information about the map. The range is essentially infinite, Detective Vision never runs out of charge, and with Detective Vision activated, the Heroes can scan an entire map, ascertaining the locations and probable activities of all gang members. The Enhanced Vision that Elites can use is a faint echo of Detective Vision.

Batman and Robin share movement and combat capabilities (although, as mentioned, Robin cannot divebomb Elites like Batman can), along with some gadgets. They are differentiated by certain gadgets unique to each Hero. But the Elites have firearms, and strength in numbers. Don't attack Elites head-on, and don't be afraid to zip away if Elites see you. Enter situations that are to your advantage, and take what develops organically. The Invisible Predator rooms of Challenge Mode are good offline practice to get used to taking what comes your way, and not forcing the issue.

GADGETS SHARED BY BOTH HEROES

GADGET	DESCRIPTION	QUICK-FIRE COMMAND
Batarang/Shuriken	Technically, these are different, but they're the same in application. The standard Hero projectile can be fired one or several at a time. Pegging an unsuspecting Elite from up above can knock them out briefly; tossing one directly at an Elite's front just briefly staggers them. These projectiles are also great for knocking UAVs and RC Airship Bombs out of the sky.	Tap
Scrambler	The Scrambler can be manually placed on Control Points in Invisible Predator Online in order to neutralize control, or in Hunter, Hunted mode to force the next Control Point to become active. Using the Scrambler this way helps the Hero team control the flow of gang combat. The Scrambler can also be quick-fired (or fired contextually) when Elites are nearby; if they have Enhanced Vision active, their EV mode will be blown out and disabled for 30 seconds!	 +  , or contextual cue shows up when Elites activate Enhanced Vision nearby
Explosive Gel	Explosive Gel allows Heroes to set traps, particularly effective around Control Points. Explosive Gel can also be used offensively to take down dazed foes or Elites who are busy piloting UAVs/airships. Quick-fire once to set the explosive, and quick-fire again to detonate it. To set more than one Explosive Gel at a time, lay them down manually (when Overall level is high enough). Explosive Gel loses effectiveness if the enemy knows where it is; if they face the Gel as it detonates, they'll brace themselves and resist the bulk of the damage.	 +
Smoke Pellet	Select the Smoke Pellet manually, and throw it from up above to set up a distraction for Elites, who naturally start looking in the direction of the smoke. When you're under fire, a contextual cue allows you to deploy the Smoke Pellet, which creates cover for the Hero to escape or counterattack.	Contextual cue shows up when under fire

Both Heroes are capable of Silent Takedowns from many different positions. Elites will be down for the count if they step unsuspectingly in front of the ledge you're dangling from or under the overhang you're perched upon. But, critically, note that Heroes cannot perform Silent Takedowns on Elites who face the Heroes. If an Elite is wise to your location, you won't get your easy K.O. Relocate to another shadowy position and try again. Heroes can also initiate takedowns from inside floor grates to Elites passing above, from roof overhangs to Elites passing below, and from the side or behind any unaware Elite. Takedowns cannot be initiated if the Elite faces toward Batman or Robin—smart Elites may thwart your takedown attempts by peering at perches and grates as they pass by.

This is true during ground combat, too: face-up against an Elite, you can't initiate a takedown. Instead, if close enough, you'll have to try to knock them out with melee strikes. This is clumsy at best, and it leaves you totally open to assault from any of your enemy's nearby friends. If you can get close enough by running, rolling, or falling in from above, you can somewhat exploit the whole "they have to be facing you to avoid takedowns" thing by continually running or rolling toward the back of the Elite you're fighting, trying a different takedown each time. If they don't turn to keep up with you (or roll away), you'll score the takedown eventually. It's in your interest to be quiet, and go for Silent Takedowns whenever possible; using loud noises (like melee K.O.s, knockout smashes, glide kicks, and so on) causes a noise alert for other Elites in the area; Batman or Robin will be briefly marked as an enemy just by the noise they produce!

DEVELOPER TIP:

"An Elite's Enhanced Vision has a limited range and duration. Retreating when spotted can keep you from getting caught in a losing ground fight.

As a Hero, do not push your luck after failing an attempt at a surprise takedown. Make an escape, and find a new unsuspecting target. Dying can be a big setback for the Hero team, and it is rarely worth the risk going face to face with an Elite."

You can also initiate Glide Kicks from perches above when there's a clear path to glide toward an Elite. Successfully hitting an Elite with a Glide Kick (or simply falling right onto or directly dive bombing an Elite) can knock him down for a moment, stunned. (You may also stun an enemy using a Batarang or Shuriken to the head.)

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Hero players can hold down RT/L2 while gliding to perform a dive. Use this technique while passing over Elites to knock them down."

Quick-fire Explosive Gel can take out a dazed or distracted enemy just as well as a ground takedown.

While he's stunned, you can easily knock the Elite out with a ground takedown, provided none of his friends is doing something distracting, like shooting at you. To take slightly less time (and add some style), try quick-firing Explosive Gel right by the dazed Elite, then detonate it for the K.O. before you Grapple back into scouting position. If you have the stunned Elite isolated, you can wait directly behind him as he struggles back to his feet and score an immediate standard takedown he can't avoid; if there's a floor grate nearby or a perch above, you can enter those positions just to start a takedown from them, too. This is important when maximizing the variety of your takedowns to build Intimidation most efficiently.

"Heroes aren't lethally armed like Elites are, but make up for it by having a wide selection of gadgets. Stay out of the line of fire, and use every tool at your disposal.

Deploy your Scrambler on a Control Point, then place Explosive Gel nearby to take out Elites who don't watch their footing.

Waiting for the right moment can make the difference between getting shot in the back or taking down an Elite. Take your time and pick your targets. Elites are dangerous in groups but much more vulnerable when on their own."

The Dark Knight himself. You can't deal with close-range threats by countering everything like you can in single-player modes, but apart from that, the spirit of Arkham Batman is alive and well online. The feel is basically exactly as intended: you're playing Invisible Predator rooms, except against other people instead of against the A.I.

GADGET	DESCRIPTION	QUICK-FIRE COMMAND
Cluster Batarang	This special Batarang must be manually selected and carefully aimed. Thrown at a group of Elites with a proper lock-on, it can knock them all out flat, making the whole gang briefly vulnerable! Tagging foes from above with this also makes a great distraction and paranoia-building tool, even if you don't follow up with a takedown attempt.	None
Explosive Batarang	Whether manually aimed or quick-fired, using this device deploys a Batarang that sticks in place wherever it lands, briefly giving warning with a red pulse and a beeping noise before exploding. The explosion isn't quite lethal force, but it's enough to knock out anyone caught in the blast. Because Explosive Batarangs have a warning period built-in, they're not great as direct assault weapons, but they ARE great to throw preemptively where you think enemies want to go soon, or to throw as intentional distractions or coaxing tools. (Like throwing an Explosive Batarang to the right of an Elite you're hoping goes left.)

Batman's unique gadgets drive home his ranged advantage: his ability to survey and influence the situation from afar. Cluster Batarangs are a beefier interference tool than regular Batarangs or Robin's Shuriken. And Explosive Batarangs can serve both as remotely set, timed traps and as noisy, distracting red herrings.

“Explosive Batarangs are good for more than just knockouts, especially when Elites know to avoid them. Throw one to influence their movements and set them up for surprise takedowns. Or throw an Explosive Batarang in the predicted trajectory of dashing Elites. With a well-timed throw, by the time your target reaches the Explosive Batarang, it will be too late to escape from its blast radius.”

UPGRADE	HERO LEVEL	DESCRIPTION
Cluster Batarang Upgrade 1	Level 5	Lock-on increases to three enemies (from two).
Explosive Batarang Upgrade 1	Level 11	The explosive radius of the attack increases by 16%.
Cluster Batarang Upgrade 2	Level 20	Lock-on increases to four enemies (from three).
Explosive Batarang Upgrade 2	Level 24	The cooldown goes from 60s to 45s.
Cluster Batarang Upgrade 3	Level 28	Lock-on increases to five enemies (from four).
Explosive Batarang Upgrade 3	Level 30	The explosive radius of the attack increases another 16% (32% total above stock).

>>ROBIN

The Boy Wonder is as formidable a threat as Batman is against the Joker and Bane gangs. Whether Robin is around depends on the mode. Robin accompanies Batman on the Hero team during matches of Invisible Predator Online. However, Robin isn't present during Hunter, Hunted mode. Batman takes on the gangs alone there.

ROBIN'S GADGETS

GADGET	DESCRIPTION	QUICK-FIRE COMMAND
Bullet Shield	The Bullet Shield works as advertised: it allows limited protection against frontal gunfire. A Hero team with terrific coordination can use Robin's Bullet Shield as a distraction, creating easy takedowns for Batman. The Bullet Shield also lets Robin wait out a gang's fusillade from an expected direction, like a Control Point they're capturing; when the Elites reload, Robin is free to drop the shield and run in to Zip Kick or Slide Kick the preoccupied enemies. Enemies who wander close enough to the Bullet Shield can also be laid out flat with the Shield Bash move.	x2 (Shield Bash)
Zip Kick	Robin's multiplayer Zip Kick works sort of like Batman's single-player Batclaw, except in reverse: instead of pulling in the target, Robin zips toward it, dazing the victim with a flying kick. You'll still need to knock them out with a ground takedown or quick-fired Explosive Gel. This gadget lets Robin close the distance and take over the fight during surprise encounters, like in tight hallways or around blind corners. It also speeds up the process of catching up to an unaware Elite you're tailing on foot.	+

Robin's gadgets focus more on close- to mid-range combat, while Batman's unique toys are long-range focused. The Bullet Shield has obvious uses, allowing Robin to outlast an Elite's magazine when caught out in the open, with the added purpose of closing in on any foes. The Zip Kick gadget gives a big advantage to Robin against any single Elite within a certain distance; if you can score a Zip Kick hit immediately whenever you see an Elite nearby, they just won't have a chance to do anything about it.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Robin's Bullet Shield is very useful for deflecting incoming fire, but watch out for flanking enemies. This gadget reduces Robin's movement speed and makes him extremely vulnerable from the back."

ROBIN-SPECIFIC GADGET UPGRADES

UPGRADE	HERO LEVEL	DESCRIPTION
Bullet Shield Upgrade 1	Level 5	Shield goes from 500HP to 750HP.
Zip Kick Upgrade 1	Level 11	Maximum range increases by 10%.
Bullet Shield Upgrade 2	Level 20	Shield goes from 15s cooldown to 10s cooldown when destroyed.
Zip Kick Upgrade 2	Level 24	Maximum range increases by another 10% (+20% total).
Bullet Shield Upgrade 3	Level 28	Shield goes from 750HP to 1000HP.
Zip Kick Upgrade 3	Level 30	Maximum range increases by another 10% (+30% total).

ELITES

Elites are the gang thugs working for the the Joker and Bane. Elite are also what you'll be playing as most of the time in online modes. There are minor differences between Elites in either gang, like the outfits they can wear and which gadgets they can use, but Elites are otherwise the same. Each Elite spawns with a primary firearm (your choice), a Zip Gun as backup, and a grenade. With enough gang XP earned, you'll also be able to take up to two gang-specific gadgets into battle.

A well-thrown (or lucky) grenade leads to easy kills. Three grenades can sometimes be restocked at once at a specified ammo crate. Beware, Heroes get notice of which ammo crate holds extra grenades before the Elites do, and may have set up traps!

Elites can be customized in appearance for both gangs. You can select many different body types, from short to tall and gaunt to rotund. It's important to note that all Elites have the same hittable area, although smaller Elites can be somewhat harder to spot in the dark environments. Customization isn't just aesthetic—certain unlockable wardrobe choices grant gameplay bonuses, some of which are very nice indeed Elites can dash similarly to how Heroes and Super-Villains can sprint, but the difference is that it isn't indefinite. After a few seconds of sustained dashing, an Elite needs to walk for a few seconds. This forces a breather while stamina for dashing builds back up.

In addition to the guns, grenades, and gadgets Elites have available, you also have a melee swing, in case you need to get really personal. This should be a sort of last resort, though: Elites are nowhere near as nimble with melee as the Heroes are, and they're nowhere near as lethal as Bane or the Joker. Elites can also dodge by rolling, like the Heroes, and this proves to be one of the most useful moves in the Elite repertoire. Dodging can save you from takedowns and explosions. When in doubt, you can do a lot worse than dodging away from perceived trouble.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"A Hero cannot target an Elite mid-dodge. It is always safe to perform a dodge roll as soon as you suspect a Hero might be gliding or sliding toward you—Listen carefully to the noise made by Batman or Robin's cape when they are running or gliding.

Quickly vaulting over cover and down to the lower part of the level is often the safest and fastest way to avoid a dangerous situation (such as Bane coming for you)."

And then, of course, there's shooting. There are several guns to choose from as primary weapons. Elites can take cover, and they also can lean up to fire over the top of cover or from the side. Staying in cover also decreases the time needed to regenerate health and dash power, so this can be a literal breather. Interesting stalemates can develop between opposing Elites, since both sides can use Enhanced Vision during the firefight to see exactly where the other side is taking cover. Crafty use of gang gadgets, grenades, and unexpected behavior can make the difference in these scenarios. (Also, and probably not infrequently, a Hero usually comes along and takes one of the Elites out before the stalemate can be resolved, anyway.)

>> ENHANCED VISION

Enhanced Vision for Elites is activated and deactivated the same way as Detective Vision for Heroes. But Detective Vision can be left on indefinitely, whereas battery charge for Enhanced Vision depletes quickly while it's activated. Enhanced Vision energy recharges slowly over time while it's deactivated, at a rate of 3% recharged per second.

Activate Enhanced Vision to reveal enemy Elites and Heroes.

Since Enhanced Vision mode depletes quickly and recharges slowly, the best use is to activate it periodically so you can do a wide scan. In a second or two, you should turn all the way around and look up above and down below, too, so you can spot any Heroes prowling after you and see where enemy Elites are. Make a mental note of everything and get your bearings, then try to go the next 5-10 seconds without flicking EV back on (unless you're given a good immediate reason to, of course, like a Hero flitting by).

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Use Enhanced Vision sparingly to conserve battery power. Turn it on in short bursts to quickly scan the area without using too much of the battery. The last thing you want is to be targeted by a Hero while Enhanced Vision is fully discharged and temporarily disabled."

Where you look has importance beyond just what you see. Heroes can't execute takedowns when Elites are facing them, so when in doubt as you pass under a perch (for example), stare up at it and pass by quickly. Even if you don't catch anything, your gang Elite often make useful exclamations. The things your Elite and his teammates say aren't just idle chatter—pay attention to them and you'll catch warning of things you might have missed, like the briefest glimpse of a Hero or RC Airship Bomb. It's important to note that other players can see when an Elite has Enhanced Vision activated. For Heroes, this can actually be a cue to blow out the EV capability temporarily with a Scrambler.

If you deplete EV energy fully, all the way down to 0%, then Enhanced Vision becomes totally disabled until the battery fully recharges. You'll be without Enhanced Vision for 35 seconds, which in online multiplayer is basically an eternity. You're way better off even if you just stop Enhanced Vision at 1% rather than depleting it fully to 0%. It only takes 30 seconds to fully recharge from 1% rather than the 35 seconds it takes from 0%, and you can reactivate EV along the way if needed. You'll save yourself a lot of grief if you get in the habit of cutting off EV before it fully depletes and locks you out for over half a minute. Granted, the Heroes can use the Scrambler device to knock your Enhanced Vision out just the same (and with the same 35-second disabled period), but that's a whole different story.

While activated, Enhanced Vision displays enemy Elites within about 40 meters, and Batman and Robin within about 30 meters. Certain pieces of clothing “spoof” Enhanced Vision, making the wearer appear fainter to EV than they otherwise would. The functional distance of Enhanced Vision still doesn't cover even about a third of the distance across a given map (whereas Detective Vision's range is basically infinite), so this mode is hardly the all-seeing eye for Elites. Still, EV is a vital tool, especially given the superior maneuverability and trickery of the Heroes.

THE JOKER'S GANG

>>JOKER ELITES

The Joker and his gang members are a little more unhinged, a little more manic, a little less premeditated than Bane and his forces. In outfits, Joker Elites are most differentiated by an upper body piece that reduces visibility in Hero Detective Vision and Bane gang Enhanced Vision (though the latter may counteract somewhat by using lots of Tac Darts).

The Joker's gang's gadgets favor quick lethality and aggressive play. Dual Nailguns even somewhat favor rushing toward Bane, which is normally among the more suicidal possible propositions. The RC Airship Bomb can favor quick opportunistic deployment, like to break an around-the-corner stalemate, as much as it works for hanging back with (hopefully a partner's) Surprise, You're Dead droning the blimp around looking for victims. And not only is the Joker himself lethal at any range with his absurd pistols, but he also runs faster than other characters.

DUAL WIELD NAILGUNS

Like all Elite gadgets, you can assign the Nailguns to left or right on the D-Pad. Tap the assigned direction, and your Joker Elite temporarily puts away his normal firearm and draws Nailguns akimbo. Dual Nailguns deal tremendous damage at very close range, but they are useless outside of several meters. Nailguns have to be reloaded when the magazines are expended, but overall, Nailgun ammo is unlimited while the gadget remains active.

Joker Elites can't take cover while wielding Nailguns. This weapon is an aggressive tool meant for rushing enemies up close, not sitting back and taking potshots. The high damage and high rate of fire make this the perfect weapon for going toe-to-toe with Bane himself.

DEVELOPER TIP: “Worried about Bane? Roll out with some Nailguns. Fill him with holes before he makes one with you!”

The close-range dominance makes Nailguns appealing to pull out when capturing a Control Point, and the infinite ammo makes them appealing when conserving ammo for your main firearm.

DUAL WIELD NAILGUNS	JOKER GANG LEVEL	DESCRIPTION	COOLDOWN	NAILGUN-WIELDING DURATION	RECOIL	MOVING SPREAD	RELOAD SPEED
v1	Level 4	This variant has the shortest cooldown duration.	Low	Short	High	High	Slow

v3	Level 16	This variant has significantly reduced recoil.	High	Short	Low	High	Slow

RC AIRSHIP BOMB

Tap the D-Pad direction to which you've assigned the RC Airship Bomb in order to deploy the device and start piloting it. Your view switches to the perspective of the little blimp itself while you're piloting.

The little flying bomb is quite nimble, perhaps much more than you'd expect. You can maneuver the bomb itself with default controls or more traditional inverted flight controls (change this in Options if desired). Air braking allows you to almost totally halt forward momentum, which is great when taking a tight turn, or if you'd like to let a few seconds pass just to see if any potential targets cross your field of view. If the proper target presents itself, you can make the blimp jet forward to catch them. You can also detonate RC Airship Bombs manually if desired, but they'll detonate on contact if flown into something (or someone). It is important to note that Airships have a laser dot that appears on screen, similar to the Remote Batarang. Other players are able to see this dot and attempt to avoid the attack.

RC Airships are quick enough to toss on exploratory missions around corners, or to chase down escaping Heroes.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Booby-trap yourself with the Surprise, You're Dead for added protection when using the airship. Don't worry about blowing yourself up: we can always make more."

DEVELOPER TIP:

"You cannot be hurt from a teammate's SYD. Operating RC Airship Bombs near friendly SYD toy boxes grants added safety from melee and close-range attacks."

A Joker Elite is a sitting duck while piloting the flying bomb, as opposing Elites can just fire away, and Heroes can just saunter up and score a totally uncontested takedown. You can use the Surprise, You're Dead (or SYD) gadget to provide a little cover for RC Airship Bomb pilots. Stand directly on top of an armed SYD while piloting, and any Hero who attempts to take you down will be blown up. You'll be blown up, too, with your side losing a Reinforcement—unless you use an ally's SYD for cover!

SURPRISE, YOU'RE DEAD!

This toy box is essentially a proximity mine. Set the Surprise, You're Dead, and a grenade ejects from the top and explodes if an enemy gets too close. Like all forms of proximity mines since time immemorial, several potential uses for SYD are obvious. Place them just off to the side, as inconspicuously as possible, in high-traffic areas. Or use them as traps against foes trying to be sneaky, like by placing an SYD along a backdoor route to a Control Point your team owns.

Depending on the version you select, the SYD can also become basically a proximity flashbang, which deals no damage but temporarily blinds victims.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"The SYD is best used hidden behind a corner or concealed on a key Control Point.

DEVELOPER TIP:

Never deploy an SYD (Surprise, You're Dead) while under fire from enemy Elites. If a bullet hits the device, you will explode with it."

>>THE JOKER

Batman's most classic antagonist, the crazed man obsessed with proving that Batman is no saner, comes equipped with two special-purpose pistols.

THE ACE OF SPADES

The Ace of Spades, the Joker's main revolver, is an almost assured one-hit kill when on target. And not only that, but the bullets can pierce objects and ricochet off walls. A single hit can conceivably score several kills. The lag between shots is fairly long, though, thanks to the recoil.

DEVELOPER TIP: "The Ace of Spades can one-shot all enemies but takes a long time to reload, so don't underestimate how useful launching five grenades in rapid succession with the King of Hearts can be."

THE KING OF HEARTS

The Joker's alternate pistol, the King of Hearts, is basically a miniature rocket pod. The revolver drum is loaded with fast explosive rounds, and one trigger squeeze launches all of them at once. The King of Hearts can be a virtually guaranteed kill if you fire the rounds on-target, but you must reload between each salvo. (Alternately, you can unload a revolver's worth of rockets, then switch to the Ace of Spades, swapping back to reload the King of Hearts during lulls.)

The Joker's melee attack is a lethal joy buzzer handshake. Joker can't take cover, and he doesn't have a way to spot Heroes besides regular old eyesight. He does run and dodge faster than Elites do, however, and he can sprint indefinitely.

DEVELOPER TIP: "While Super-Villains cannot see the Heroes, they always see the location of enemy Elites. Communicate with your teammates to inform them of enemy locations, and make sure that they are protecting you from Heroes."

 BANE'S GANG

>>BANE ELITES

Bane’s approach is more methodical and measured than the Joker’s. This is reflected in his armaments and crew.

Tactical Darts allow Bane Elite and Bane alike to track enemies and Heroes without the need for Enhanced Vision. UAV drones allow airborne scouting, paired with attack capability anywhere on the map. And the Ultrasonic Pulse device can break close-range stalemates and melee encounters up like nothing else can. Bane Elites have access to a pair of pants that grants quicker recharge of stamina for dashing.

TACTICAL DART

Tactical Darts are fired from a small crossbow mechanism. After firing a Tac Dart, there's a cooldown before you can use the device again. A launched Tactical Dart sticks into whatever surface it touches before arming itself. An armed Tac Dart is indicated by a blinking blue light. At this point, the Tac Dart detonates if any hostiles approach it. The hostile who tripped the Tac Dart is briefly stunned, and they are "marked" for every member of the Bane gang for a few seconds. Tactical Darts are even better in Hunter, Hunted mode than in Invisible Predator Online; with only one life to live, whomever is marked with the Tac Dart will basically be forced into hiding for the duration of the effect!

DEVELOPER TIP: "The Tactical Dart can be used as a last resort to save your life. The stun effect can give you a couple added seconds to take them out."

Tactical Darts can be useful as mock proximity mines, like when capturing a Control Point. Deployed Tac Darts don't kill like the Surprise, You're Dead toy box of the Joker gang, but since they do briefly stun their victim, it can amount to the same thing. Gun down anyone briefly blinded by the Tac Dart before they recover. Bane Elites can use the Tac Darts as self-defense while piloting the UAV, sort of like how Joker Elites can set traps on themselves with SYD toy boxes while flying the RC Airship Bomb.

DEVELOPER TIP: "Placing a Tactical Dart close by before deploying a UAV could save you from Heroes trying to take you down while you are busy piloting."

The marking feature might be even more important. Effective use of Tactical Darts to keep foes marked, especially Heroes, greatly reduces the Bane gang's reliance on Enhanced Vision. It also counteracts the "spoofing" outfit choices available to the Joker's gang, which allows them to show up more faintly in Enhanced Vision mode. If you deploy a Tac Dart with one already set up, the first dart simply disappears. (Unless you're using the Tac Dart version that allows for two darts at once, which certainly has a lot to recommend it.)

UAV

This Unmanned Aerial Vehicle is available only to Bane Elites. As with the Joker gang's RC Airship Bomb, you're a sitting duck while piloting this, even though you can protect yourself somewhat with a Tactical Dart. This hovering drone's altitude can be increased or decreased with the shoulder bumpers. The unit is much more maneuverable than an RC Airship Bomb, and it won't explode if you happen to brush something in the environment.

The on-board weaponry consists of a dumb-fire rocket launcher that requires a second of targeting before a missile is fired. Hold the right trigger, and what begins as a diffuse beam like a flashlight's will focus to a laser-like point just before the rocket is launched. UAV rockets themselves travel somewhat slowly. (The highest-level UAV version unlocked addresses exactly this design shortcoming.) Still, the UAV gives the Bane gang a nimble airborne platform with which to bombard both the Joker gang below and the Heroes up above. The UAV is, in fact, the only tool the Bane gang has for chasing Heroes up into the passages and perches only Batman and Robin can access.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"UAVs are highly maneuverable and incredibly powerful. Launch one at the start of a match and use it to take out your enemies before they can get to you."

DEVELOPER TIP:

If you are going to use your UAV, don't put yourself out in the middle of nowhere. You're to blame if you do when you get shot or grabbed by the Bat."

A deployed UAV lasts until the gadget's timer expires, the UAV pilot himself is interrupted somehow, or the UAV is damaged. The UAV is not sturdy at all, and it can be easily shot down with well-placed firearm shots, Batman's Batarang, and Robin's Shuriken. To minimize this disadvantage, flit back and forth over different quadrants of the map, only exposing the UAV long enough to laze a target and fire a shot in vulnerable airspace. And note that the Joker by himself, for all his power, probably has the hardest time dealing with UAVs—both of his pistols have long lag periods in between missed shots, so a pilot who moves the UAV quickly and erratically above the Joker may have a field day peppering the opposing Super-Villain with rockets.

ULTRASONIC PULSE

The Ultrasonic Pulse is an area-of-effect crowd control weapon. When you initiate this attack, the Bane Elite plants the device in the ground before him and activates it. The USP device requires a moment to gather energy before discharging, which it does violently in an expanding sphere that deals heavy damage.

The USP pulse's range isn't extreme, but it's still very useful in situations where nothing else quite works. You might see an enemy just on the other side of a wall or barrier using Enhanced Vision; you might be involved in a stalemate shootout with Elites taking cover only a few meters away; you might realize one of the Heroes is hiding in a ventilation shaft just underneath or above you. In any of these situations, the USP provides a lethal and safe option where all alternatives are risky.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Use the Ultrasonic Pulse to kill Heroes hiding in grates or Elites behind cover without exposing yourself to danger."

Foes caught in the energy blast are both hurt and stunned. If they survive the pulse, finish them off quickly with a few shots from your gun (or a grenade) if you have a safe chance to do so.

>>BANE

Bane can take more direct punishment than anyone else. This extra cushioning allows you to plow forward with Bane to use his sickening, lethal melee attacks.

DEVELOPER TIP:

“Keep moving when you’re out in the field. You may be able to take a lot of damage, but it’s still harder to hit a moving target.”

Bane can smash the ground before him, with lethal results at the point of impact and a stunning shockwave flooring enemies nearby. Up close, you can initiate brutal grappling attacks. Grab an enemy Elite near a wall, and Bane smashes them headfirst into it, with predictable results. If no wall is nearby, Bane does something even more spectacular: he throws the victim like a ragged football in the direction you choose. This is noteworthy because it’s actually possible to score two kills at once this way. Pick up one enemy Elite, and then hurl him into another!

You can initiate grapple attacks on Heroes, too, with unique backbreaking results.

DEVELOPER TIP:

“Bane can pick up Elites and throw them at other players. There’s nothing quite like killing your enemies by hurling them at each other.”

Bane isn’t just a gigantic, bone-snapping grappler. He also has a rocket launcher! There’s quite a cooldown between rockets, so pick your places, and treat the rocket launcher as a supplemental attack rather than the main course. Bane’s still most deadly when directly in the thick of it, holding his enemies aloft like wishbones.

 GUNS

Elites have many guns to choose from. The more XP you earn toward Overall level, the more guns you'll be able to access. Every Elite carries a Zip Gun around all the time, so you'll have that sidearm available even if you run out of ammo for your main weapon.

When you fire any gun, the recoil from firing drags the gun's muzzle upward. If you continue firing, the gun's muzzle keeps moving upward, while the spread of the expected hit pattern grows wider and wider. You can compensate for the upward drag of recoil under continuous fire by aiming slightly down during continuous fire. With the correct downward tilt, you can compensate for recoil. You can't compensate for spread while firing continuously, though—after only three or four shots in a row, most weapons become totally inaccurate outside of point-blank range. Up close, this doesn't matter, of course: fire away. But with any real distance between you and the target, you'll want to stop firing for a moment every handful of shots, which allows the gun's jogging barrel to zero back in on the center of the reticle.

You can restock ammo magazines for your main weapon at ammo crates, which are scattered throughout each map. Note that merely visiting an ammo crate doesn't automatically replenish any bullets missing from your gun's current magazine; you'll still have to reload manually after using an ammo crate to restock.

>>ZIP GUN (SIDEARM)

The Zip Gun is every Elite's rigged sidearm. It's surely no Ace of Spades, but it'll do in a pinch.

The Zip Gun is semi-automatic, surprisingly accurate, and filled with infinite ammo. Individual shots are weak, however, and the magazine only holds 10 rounds, so of all the guns, it ends up dealing by far the least damage per magazine. Still, this weapon has several sensible uses. It can be quite useful to take potshots at distant enemies without wasting ammo. If you get caught needing to reload your main weapon in a hopeless spot, like just as an enemy Elite is coming for you, swapping to the trusty Zip Gun lets you get back to shooting faster than reloading your main gun. And if you're out of ammo, the Zip Gun will be all you've got.

>>SUBMACHINE GUN

The Submachine Gun is a good compromise between rate of fire, accuracy, recoil, and damage.

Default

Paint-Splatter

GCPD

Gold & Ivory

Camo & Gold

Ornate Engraved

The initial main weapon is a useful but unremarkable compact automatic. Although the Submachine Gun fires full-auto, the recoil isn't too severe, so the gun barrel climbing upward isn't as pronounced as with other automatics. The spread under sustained fire is atrocious, so the weapon is totally inaccurate outside of close range after two or three straight shots. So, stick to dual or triple round bursts unless the target is in your face.

>>AUTOMATIC SHOTGUN

The Automatic Shotgun has a fast reload but deals less damage per blast, has a lot of spread, and suffers from excessive recoil if fired too quickly.

This is the first shotgun to which you'll gain access. Using shotguns well requires a different philosophy than using assault or battle rifles. Shotguns deal tremendous damage with on-target close-range shots, but they're ineffective far away. And, with the lag in between follow-up shots, you'll pay a heavy price for missing. Focus on taking quick routes that get you close to enemies before you open fire, and make your shots count! Do these things, and enemy Elites will be terrified to see you round the corner or step into their Control Point.

>>ASSAULT RIFLE

The Assault Rifle has a high rate of fire, but it deals relatively little damage per hit, and recoil is severe if the trigger is held continuously. Only use long bursts at very close range.

The Assault Rifle is a longer-ranged automatic option than the Submachine Gun available from the start. The weapon's spread is slightly less severe, but the recoil is worse. The gun's barrel climbs upward after just a few shots, so be ready to readjust aim downward during extended gunfights. The spread pattern becomes unreliable after three or four shots in a row, so keep your bursts under that

>>MARKSMAN RIFLE

The semi-auto Marksman Rifle doesn't inflict much more damage than an Assault Rifle, but it has better range and is more accurate.

The Marksman Rifle is the entry-level tool of the aspiring sniper. When zoomed in, unlike with other guns, you'll actually look through the scope. This gives you much more actual zoom, which helps make the heads of Heroes and opposing Elites look like big, watermelon-like targets indeed, but it removes all peripheral vision. Batman and Robin could be standing on either side of you, all but tapping you on both shoulders, and you wouldn't have any idea if you're zoomed in, intent on sniping.

And, while other weapons can be hip-fired with relatively decent accuracy, the Marksman Rifle doesn't even display a non-zoomed reticle. You can still hip-fire the Marksman Rifle in a pinch, but (unless you, say, plop a bit of a sticky paper note where the reticle should be in the center of your TV) you won't have an indicator while doing so. Basically, you'll pay a price in close-range viability if you take up the Marksman Rifle to outclass distant Elites. But you can somewhat manage this disadvantage by treating the MR like a shotgun up close, hip-firing at the enemy's center of mass, and you can especially counteract the close-range deficiency by having your teammates take the fight forward and run interference while you hang back and pop heads. Gang-specific gadgets can also be helpful, allowing you to cover yourself somewhat with traps.

>>MACHINE PISTOL

The Machine Pistol deals relatively little damage per hit, has high recoil, and is not very accurate, but a high rate of fire makes up for this.

This is a sort of all-in sequel to the Submachine Gun. The Machine Pistol fires even more quickly and wildly, and it has a larger magazine to boot. At any range outside of a Control Point's dimensions, you'll probably be better off swapping to the Zip Gun to take aimed shots. But up close, you can't get a more lethal spray-and-pray weapon without equipping the Joker gang's Dual Nailguns.

>>PUMP-ACTION SHOTGUN

The Pump-Action Shotgun has a slower reload than the Automatic Shotgun but does more damage with less spread and not as much recoil.

Default

Gold & Ivory

Paint-Splatter

Camo & Gold

GCPD

Ornate Engraved

Like the Automatic Shotgun, the Pump-Action Shotgun is intimidating because of its front-loaded damage. When someone gets the jump on you with a Submachine Gun or Machine Pistol or something, at least you'll have time to wheel around and scan for your assailant, or maybe even roll away and go on the counterattack. When someone gets the jump on you with a shotgun, you just stare at the respawn screen for a moment. Shotgunners with lizard-like reflexes can be particularly useful deterring Batman and Robin. The Heroes are so fast and have so many gadgets that it's fairly routine for them to dive into a couple of Elites, knocking one out and then zipping away before the other Elite has spotted the Hero and done any kind of real damage. But keep an eye out with a shottie, and you only need to get one good shot on target to turn a Hero into a zero.

>>BATTLE RIFLE

The Battle Rifle is a good compromise between rate of fire, accuracy, and damage. Recoil is severe: at any sort of distance, use short bursts.

Default

Gold & Ivory

Paint-Splatter

Camo & Gold

GCPD

Ornate Engraved

The Battle Rifle is maybe the best compromise of all positive and negative weapon traits. It fires slower than the other automatic weapons, but with more accuracy and stability. With the Battle Rifle, you can burst-fire twice as many rounds in a row than any other automatic before you lose reliability: solid six-round bursts! The Battle Rifle does not have the up-close wood-chipper ferocity of the Machine Pistol, or the long-range strength of the Marksman Rifle or Heavy Sniper Rifle, but it's a happy marriage of extremes. It's an excellent all-around weapon.

>>HEAVY SNIPER RIFLE

The Heavy Sniper Rifle has a relatively slow reload and quite serious recoil, but it's accurate and deals heavy damage at long range.

Default

Gold & Ivory

Paint-Splatter

Camo & Gold

GCPD

Ornate Engraved

Like the Marksman Rifle, using the Heavy Sniper Rifle is putting all your gun-fighting eggs into the ranged basket. The Heavy Sniper Rifle can be hip-fired, and it's quite strong if you do indeed land a hit, but its clear strength is for shooting distant Elites and Heroes in the head. The Heavy Sniper Rifle is much more powerful than the Marksman Rifle, but note that the laser sight it uses is visible to other people. Your seeking laser sight may tip off enemies, and they'll scatter. As with the Marksman Rifle, you'll have no situational awareness around you while scoped. Cover yourself by communicating with teammates and by setting up Tactical Darts or a Surprise, You're Dead toy box.

MAPS

There are four different maps for online modes. Players can cast votes for the next map at the lobby screen, before the match countdown begins. The maps tend to be laid out relatively symmetrically (in overall layout if not in specific details and terrain features), but it's easy to differentiate between parts of the map (and to communicate locations easily with teammates) thanks to the distinctions between each Control Point. In matches of Invisible Predator Online, all Control Points are active, and thus indicated with onscreen icons immediately at the beginning of the match. In Hunter, Hunted mode, Control Point icons only appear when a Control Point is active and yet to be captured.

The Bane gang and the Joker gang will spawn on one side or the other at random, at the beginning of a match. This will usually just decide which team captures which Control Point right away. After the initial spawn, future spawns during the same match depend on the locations and fields-of-vision of all enemy combatants. The game attempts to respawn a fallen Elite somewhat near allies, somewhat far from any hostiles, and outside of the current view or Detective/Enhanced Vision scanning of an enemy.

>>BLACKGATE PRISON

There's rioting in Blackgate Prison, and both Joker and Bane are hoping to turn the proceedings into a recruitment drive. The central area here is a courtyard open to the sky, while the wings are indoor environments. Frequent bottlenecking and gunfights occur along the stairs that join the courtyard to each wing.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"RC Airships and UAVs are a great way to take out Heroes who like to stick to the upper levels."

The Joker has been secretly synthesizing Venom in this empty factory, and now he's come to gather his yield. Bane, on the other hand, has come to steal it. Meanwhile, the Heroes are here to make sure no one gets the Venom at all. Tall Venom tanks stand above each Control Point, and there's ample room for the Heroes to lie in wait up above, biding their time for unsuspecting Elites to wander below. Taking the bottom floor here to move from Control Point to Control Point takes a little bit longer, but it greatly reduces the risk of falling prey to a patient vigilante.

DEVELOPER TIP:

"Taking the low route is frequently overlooked—Heroes almost never go there, and you may get behind enemy Elites unopposed."

Predator rooms, on the other hand, task you with clearing out rooms while completing certain requirements. Being spotted by foes doesn't disqualify you from completing the rooms with the medal checkboxes marked off, but Batman would probably be a little embarrassed about it. The Predator rooms of Challenge Mode are a good way to adjust before you hop into Invisible Predator Online, although humans piloting the controls definitely makes things a lot more interesting.

BATMAN
MULTIPLAYER ACHIEVEMENTS

The game's unique multiplayer mayhem is where one quarter of the Achievements and Trophies are found. Many are self-explanatory, as well, but additional advice is provided for the ones that require a deft touch.

ICON	NAME	DESCRIPTION	GAMERSCORE (XBOX 360)	TROPHY (PLAYSTATION 3)
	Predator Paragon	Take down six different Elites in a match, using six different methods as Batman or Robin in multiplayer. You'll have to mix it all up against every Elite in sight. Use Silent/Grate/Ground/Inverted Takedowns, Explosive Gel, Explosive Batarangs, and knockout combos. Remember, you are the night!	25	Bronze
	Killing Joke	Reach max level with the Joker gang in multiplayer	15	Bronze
	Fallen Knight	Reach max level with the Bane gang in multiplayer	15	Bronze
	Gotham City All-Star	Reach max Overall level in multiplayer	20	Bronze
	Clutch	Kill a Hero to bring back your entire gang when at 0 Reinforcements on a full multiplayer server. This can be an extreme saving throw in multiplayer matches. Knowing you must kill a Hero to save your team's chances can focus your attention, and Hero players may get overexcited at the prospect of preying on a lone Elite, so your quarry may come to you.	15	Bronze
	Tales of Gotham City	Win a round of each map with each faction in multiplayer	25	Bronze
	I Like Those Odds	As a Hero, defeat four Elites within 40 seconds without using melee in multiplayer. There are, of course, many possible paths to this. You could prey upon a heavily contested Control Point, opening with an Inverted Takedown against one of the combatants below, and following this by tossing an Explosive Batarang onto one side of the fringe, because why not? Now you're swooping down, quickly ducking into a floor grate in the Control Point, then emerging with a Grate Takedown on one Elite before a Silent Takedown on another, both distracted by the gunfighting. Here, you quick-fire Explosive Gel to lay down a remote mine (and maybe you throw a Smoke Pellet somewhere in here if any of the Elites noticed you), then you zip back away into the rafters, just into position to score another Inverted Takedown on a thug fighting below. And just as you drop him, an icon onscreen informs you that hostiles are standing on your Explosive Gel... and so on. This totally feasible example takes much less time than 40 seconds. Happy hunting.	25	Bronze
	Not an Ordinary Criminal	As an Elite, earn 4000 XP in a single multiplayer match. For starters, be on the winning team. While working toward the win, accumulate points however you can: kills, Control Point captures, Tac Dart tags, protecting the active Captain, and so on.	15	Bronze
	Arsenal, Awesome	Fully upgrade a weapon in multiplayer. A weapon is maxed out at level 9. Its performance is then fully upgraded, and every custom skin is available. You'll get there simply by using your favorite guns repeatedly, and it's easy to focus on since both gangs can use the same firearms.	20	Bronze
	Legend	Earn a Level of Prestige in multiplayer	50	Bronze
	Know Thy Enemy	Defeat each of the enemy players at least once in a multiplayer match. Spread the love here. You'll probably get this incidentally, eventually, but the same kind of advice applies as for "I Like Those Odds." Learn to exploit Elite habits, Hero gadgets, and elevated terrain to stay alive and score advantaged takedowns. The Heroes are powerful and that goes without explaining. But the Elites aren't slouches, either. Every Elite spawns with a grenade and gun, along with other tools that allow players to score easy kills whether or not they're skilled at aiming a firearm, too.	25	Bronze Complete Story Mode to unlock New Game Plus, which takes you through the story again, but now with all the upgrades you have already earned. You're definitely going to need them, as this is a much harder challenge, with no Counter icons, tough new enemy configurations, and faster, better armed enemies immediately from the start.

New Game Plus is a separate mode accessed from the main menu and does not affect the progress of your original game. XP, upgrades, and collectibles are shared between the modes.

 I AM THE NIGHT

Complete New Game Plus to unlock I am the Night. Play the story from the beginning with no retries available, taking on the challenge with only one chance to succeed. If you get into trouble, be ready to hit the power button or else start over from the beginning.

BATMAN

ARKHAM ORIGINS

BLACKGATE

Batman: Arkham Origins Blackgate is the handheld sibling to the console experience of Batman: Arkham Origins. Developed by Armature Studio, which includes key members of the team behind the Metroid Prime trilogy on Nintendo's Gamecube and Wii, Blackgate is a companion piece to the console games. (In fact, if you have Arkham Origins for PS3 and Arkham Origins: Blackgate for PS Vita, you can unlock the Beware the Bat costume by linking the two versions!)

Blackgate reflects the pedigree of the team that made it by hearkening back fondly to the 2D "Metroidvania" genre—these are games characterized by adventurous exploration, in which earning new abilities sometimes opens up whole new sections of the game world. The influence of the Metroid and Castlevania games to which this kind of gameplay can be traced is now also felt in 3D games, from the Metroid Prime series on which key Blackgate developers worked, to the console Arkham series itself. This portable Blackgate experience whips the fluid, intuitive combat of the console Arkham games together with the blast-from-the-past retro exploration of classic 2D adventure games. And as sure as Batman's costume features pointy ears, the handheld version retains the gritty, rain-soaked atmosphere that's exemplified Batman since time immemorial (with the exception of the BIFF! POW! Adam West era).

So, the structure of Batman: Arkham Origins Blackgate allows players to tackle large sections of the game at their whims, after they clear the introductory stage. In fact, you'll have to travel back and forth between different areas of the prison in order to progress. Your main adversaries are Black Mask, the Joker, and the Penguin, but the events of the game play out differently depending on which one of them you save for last.

MOVEMENT

MOVEMENT: Press left or right to make Batman move. This applies on foot, inside air vents, while shimmying along ledges, and while tightrope-walking across cables.

SONY PSVITA COMMAND  NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND

STRIKE: Press repeatedly to unleash combos of jabs, hooks, uppercuts, and high kicks. Press away from the direction Batman faces plus the Strike button for a crunching elbow against anyone sneaking up from behind. Actions can be chained together fluidly, and you can easily go from striking a thug to Batman's left to countering another coming in from the right, then swinging immediately back to the left at a third thug coming in (and then countering a fourth, and so on). Chaining successful strikes and counters together without getting hit and without too much time elapsing between actions fills up a combo meter. The fuller this gets, the more power and range back up Batman's attack. You'll find various RUSH and Gauntlet upgrades around the facility, too, which power up Batman even further.

GLIDE KICK: From a high perch, fall into a targeted enemy below with the Strike button. (While perched above, choose between targets with the Counter button.) The target is knocked down if there are enemies nearby.

COUNTER

SONY PSVITA COMMAND  NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND

COUNTER: Press to ready Batman against the enemy's attack, which is telegraphed by a blue lightning bolt icon above their head. If successful, Batman deflects the incoming attack and puts the would-be assailant in prime position for regular strikes. (Some enemies cannot be countered; you must avoid their strikes without using counters and defeat them in other ways, like using Cape Stuns followed by strikes.)

LEDGE TAKEDOWN: When dangling from a ledge underneath an enemy, press the Counter button for a non-lethal takedown that leaves the foe dangling helplessly by their feet.

SILENT TAKEDOWN: Sneak up behind an unaware enemy on the ground, and you can take them out silently just by pressing the Counter button. This is also possible when hiding just underneath a floor grate. This takedown is quiet (like the others), but other nearby enemies might notice the unconscious results.

SWITCH TARGETS: When stalking multiple enemies from the shadows above, tap the Counter button to toggle between potential targets of a Glide Kick/Snare.

SPRINT

EVASD: Double-tap the Sprint button. (In other words, press sprint plus sprint.) You can use this evasive roll to get behind enemies whom you cannot attack from the front. You can also execute an evade roll to safely pass over spike strips. If Batman is close enough to an adversary, he'll vault over them instead, exposing the foe's back. Mastery of the evade roll to dodge attacks is crucial to surviving the game's many boss battles.

GLIDE: Hold the Sprint button while falling. This is sometimes necessary to glide toward a ledge you'd otherwise miss. (Some extremely distant ledges and long jumps require leaping off an edge, gliding, then snagging a far-off anchor point with the Grapnel.)

SNARE: Tap the Sprint button when perched above an unaware enemy to hang them upside-down from the perch. If you're trying to be stealthy accomplishing this, wait until no one else is near your victim, or they'll hear and see this intimidating move.

PRY AIR VENT: The air vents in Blackgate are old and rusted over, which means Batman can pry them off, with a little elbow grease. You'll have to rapidly press the Sprint/Evade button briefly to tear off the air vent cover, after which Batman can fit into the revealed passageway. (Some air vents located high above the ground cannot be reached without the Batclaw.)

CROUCH

CAPE STUN: Tap the Crouch button to swing Batman's cape aggressively. This cape swing can stun foes, leaving them open for standard strikes. You must use a Cape Stun on some enemies before you can deal damage to them.

DROP: When near an edge from which Batman can dangle, press the left stick plus the Crouch button to do so. This allows Batman to shimmy along ledges, drop to lower platforms, and avoid the sightlines of guards. If Batman is already upon a perch or hanging from a ledge, press the Crouch button by itself to drop down.

ENTER AIR VENT: Holding the Crouch button in front of an air vent allows Batman to crawl inside, provided the vent cover is pried off first.

SELECT
SONY PSVITA COMMAND		NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND

SELECT ARMED GADGET. (Initially, only the Batarang is available.)

ARM BATCLAW: D-Pad up. (Found in cell blocks.)

ARM BATARANG: D-Pad down. (Available at start.)

ARM GEL LAUNCHER: D-Pad left. (Found in industrial area.)

ARM LINE LAUNCHER: D-Pad right. (Found in Administration area.)

AIM
SONY PSVITA COMMAND		NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND

AIM ARMED GADGET: Hold the left bumper to aim, and tap the right bumper while aiming to use the currently armed gadget.

QUICK-FIRE ARMED GADGET: Tap the left bumper to use the currently armed gadget without aiming first.

ENTER GROUND VENT.: When there are maintenance tunnels just under the floor, you can make Batman lift up an access grate and crouch just underneath ground level by holding the left bumper, then pressing the Evade button. If an enemy passes just overhead, stepping on the grate under which Batman is hiding, tap the Counter button for a silent takedown.

FIRE
SONY PSVITA COMMAND		NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND

FIRE GRAPNEL: When onscreen prompts indicate there's a viable grappling surface, tap  to fire the grapnel and hoist Batman up.

FIRE ARMED GADGET: While holding the left bumper to ready the equipped gadget (and moving the left stick for aim if necessary), tap the right bumper to fire.

TOGGLE
NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND	TAP DETECTIVE MODE ICON ON TOUCHSCREEN

TOGGLE DETECTIVE MODE ON/OFF. Detective Mode reveals foes (along with their sightlines!) and items of interest in the current location. If enemies have spotted Batman, Detective Mode lets you know—the Dark Knight becomes the glowing red knight instead. This is vital information when enemies are packing assault rifles.

SCAN
NINTENDO 3DS COMMAND	HOLD TOUCHSCREEN AND MOVE ANALOG STICK

SCAN DURING DETECTIVE MODE. Hover over enemies and items of interest to deeply analyze them, which reveals more information for the World's Greatest Detective (apologies to Sherlock Holmes, the other World's Greatest Detective). On the 3DS hold the touchscreen over the Detective Mode icon and use the left stick to move the analyzer around.

PROLOGUE

It's a dark and stormy night (in Gotham City, it almost always is), and Batman is keeping a vigilant watch for disturbances in a tenuous peacetime, roughly three months after the events of Batman: Arkham Origins. Catwoman (with whom Batman is yet to be acquainted) is on the prowl, too, and it's the first meeting of these two iconic characters that is the centerpiece of this introduction. This game of cat and bat also provides an opportunity for the player to get acquainted with the handheld controls.

>>GOTHAM CITY AT NIGHTTIME

1ST STAGE: Gotham City.

OBJECTIVE: Capture Catwoman.

| 1 START | 5 1st ledge shimmying | 9 A smattering of guards and a lot of Grapnel climbing to catch up with and fight Catwoman. |

| 3 1st analysis: Detective Mode reveals ladder the Batarang can be used to lower | 7 1st encounter with firearms; use Detective Mode to monitor their sightlines, and be stealthy! Take them out with Snare and Glide Kick from above. |  Glide |
| 4 1st chance to Glide Kick from high perch into foes. Another combat tutorial. | 8 Zipline & glide |  Grapnel |

BOSS: CATWOMAN

This flighty feline is the first advanced enemy you'll face. She cannot be domesticated by simply using strikes. Instead, you'll have to use counters to dodge her attacks first, then briefly dizzy her with a Cape Stun... now she's vulnerable to regular strikes! Watch out for her combination swipes: she can slash at Batman more than once at a time, so you might need to counter several times in a row before the prompt to stun her with the cape appears (○ on PS Vita, A on 3DS). Don't just start swinging after you counter a single move. She fights like a mix between an Arkham Origins martial artist and an armored fighter.

After you spend a couple of rounds stunning and pummeling this intriguingly attired high-line burglar, the police take over. Batman, still no friend of the general police force, disappears into the night.

Enter Blackgate: Two weeks after leaving Catwoman to the cops, Captain Gordon signals for the Batman. There's a massive prison break in progress at Blackgate, with the prison's cohort of guards now turned into hostages for the freed inmates... one of which is, of course, the recently imprisoned (and now prematurely released) Catwoman.

Some of the freed inmates at Blackgate's entrance are accosting Catwoman. Beat them into submission, and Catwoman becomes a spontaneous ally. She'll try to take down the baddies of Blackgate from the inside by sowing discord and misinformation, while Batman attempts to take out the triumvirate of the Penguin, Black Mask, and the Joker.

It's up to you to decide the order that you take the big three down in. The Penguin's got the cell blocks under lockdown, Black Mask controls the prison's electricity from the industrial area, and the Joker oversees the uprising from administration. You aren't locked into your initial choice; return to the entrance of each area, and you can choose to depart and explore a different one. You'll find that areas blocked off in one location become accessible thanks to items you gather and things you accomplish in other areas! You'll also eventually find new entry points into each area from the prison hub.

» FREEDOM OF CHOICE

The way the story plays out in Batman: Arkham Origins Blackgate depends in large part on you. Events toward the end of the game, as well as the reward you receive for them, will differ depending on which of the three main villains you leave for last. In order to see everything Blackgate has to offer, and earn all of Batman's outfits, you'll have to play through multiple times (at least three; one playthrough each in which you defeat a different villain last).

»» WHERE DO YOU GET THOSE WONDERFUL TOYS?

The longest-term goal for the completist player of Batman: Arkham Origins Blackgate is to collect all the costumes. The default costume is available at the beginning, and the Beware the Bat outfit is a reward for linking up the PSVita version with PS3's Arkham Origins. The rest of the costumes are composed of five pieces each. Most are found through the prison in small Wayne Tech crates, but the belts for three costumes are each gained only by leaving a particular boss for last.

Beware the Bat—requires PS Vita and PS3.

New 52—leave the Penguin for last.

One Million—leave Black Mask for last.

Red Son—leave the Joker for last.

Blackest Night—collect all pieces.

In order to find all the Batsuits, you'll first have to find all the gadgets. A good rule of thumb, if you're ever stuck: there's a gadget somewhere you could go get, and you just haven't obtained it yet. No matter in what order you tackle the cell blocks, you'll have to swap between them at points when the tool needed to make progress in one cell block is hidden somewhere in the others.

COLLECTIBLE: PENGUIN CAGES

You'll find your first two Penguin cages not long after entering the cell blocks and hacking the first Cryptographic Sequencer. These hanging cages are actually traps, designed to fall and land explosively on trespassers underneath. Either step under a Penguin cage and then sprint/evade out of the way, or take it down safely from afar with an aimed Batarang.

MINIBOSS: BRONZE TIGER

The incredible martial artist Bronze Tiger is held here by the Penguin, forced to cage-fight against his will. Hardening Batman's knuckles on all the underlings you've punished up until now serves as a good primer against Bronze Tiger, who is the truest test of Batman's martial arts prowess so far. In the same manner as any other baddie, simply counter when Bronze Tiger's punch is telegraphed by the lightning symbol over his head. A Cape Stun prompt appears after a successful counter, allowing you to disorient Bronze Tiger. This leaves him open to a full combo of regular strikes. The goal of opening up Bronze Tiger and knocking him around is to bump him into the electrified cage that encloses the fight.

After Bronze Tiger has been electrocuted once, he'll start to employ a leaping attack that cannot be countered—you'll have to evade roll forward to avoid Bronze Tiger's claw dive. Just roll forward when Bronze Tiger leaps straight up, and Batman is spared; turn and use a Cape Stun on Bronze Tiger as he attempts to tug his claws from where they stick in the ground, then combo him again.

Even with his diving claw thwarted, Bronze Tiger won't give up. He'll start mixing between a triple claw swipe and a double diving attack.

Avoid the triple claw swipe by countering three times in a row (just like Catwoman during the prologue fight). Afterward, of course, use a Cape Stun on Bronze Tiger, and feed him some knuckle sandwiches. For the double diving attack, roll forward under the first swooping dive, then turn and be ready to immediately roll forward again, under the second smaller diving attack. Then, as before, turn around and stun Bronze Tiger with the cape before knocking him into the walls of the enclosure with a flurry of punches and kicks.

CELL BLOCKS BOSS: THE PENGUIN

The Penguin is flanked by two soldiers who carry incredibly strong Gatling machine guns. Either of these fighters can tear Batman apart in about one second. The Penguin packs a shotgun, and while it isn't as lethal as the Gatling guns, the Penguin's flooring blasts cannot be avoided if he spots Batman. A head-on confrontation is hopeless; you'll have to rely on misdirection. Luckily, the place is filled with alarms, which you can trigger with Batarangs. This gets the soldiers away from the Penguin, allowing you to rip the Gatling gun ammo packs off their backs using the Batclaw. Split them up so that one doesn't stop you while you disarm the other! When both soldiers are de-packed and no longer a threat, you can Glide Kick into the Penguin from above, then initiate a takedown to pummel him for a bit before he struggles away and summons more flunkies.

Now, you'll have a drone to contend with, as well as three more Gatling gun-wielding soldiers. You can take out the drone with a deftly thrown Shock Batarang, but you must subdue the three Gatling soldiers as before. In addition to using alarms to draw their attention, you can also simply peg them from afar with Batarangs, then vacate the area before they investigate where the hit came from. Get a vantage point on the place you threw the Batarang from, and you'll be able to Batclaw the packs off their backs without using up one of the precious alarms. Clear the assistants out, then feed another Glide Kick into a takedown to the Penguin.

Finally, there are yet more soldiers, along with two drones this time. Fortunately, there's a checkpoint here if you fall to this wave. One more round of clearing out helpers, and the Penguin is yours. If you can get the Penguin's helpers far enough away from him so they can't help him when he's down, you can Glide Kick into the Penguin and finish him off without defeating all the assistants.

COLLECTIBLE: BLACK MASKS

Rather than set obvious and self-destructing booby-traps, as did the Penguin and the Joker, Black Mask has slyly hidden his masks on shelves, in hallway corners, and across gaps. These don't clatter about or explode on their own, so keep a scanning eye out with Detective Mode. When you find one, it's a Batarang away from being shattered.

MINIBOSS: SOLOMON GRUNDY

The indestructible Solomon Grundy shows up after you attempt to open a floodgate in a lower eastern section of the map. He'll charge repeatedly in a brutal attack that you can avoid by evading between his legs as he rushes forward. If Batman stands directly in front of Grundy, he'll attack mercilessly with pounding punches. It almost goes without saying, but don't stand in front of Solomon Grundy!

To defeat him, first dismember the network of electrical wires in the room by blowing up Gel Launcher rounds on the electrical wall boxes. Then, plant Gel Launcher rounds on the sulfurous drains in the area, and detonate them just as Grundy passes over. Grundy then stumbles into the standing pools of water in the area and electrocutes himself—his enormous bulk means that as he stands in the water, his head contacts the dangling power wires above!

Shock him three times, and Grundy goes down, allowing you to beat him into the door. If you had already acquired the Shock Batarang before this fight, you can skip all those steps by just tossing Shock Batarangs into the pools of water. (This electrifying feat is worth a Trophy on the PSVita version.)

INDUSTRIAL BOSS: BLACK MASK

Initially, you have to fight many thugs while Black Mask alternates between dropping grenades or firing down from up above. After you've defeated a dozen or so street toughs (who luckily aren't immune to Black Mask's grenades), Black Mask retreats via a backdoor as the generator overloads.

Now you have an elaborate puzzle to solve. The generator must be brought out of overload to tail Black Mask, and in order to do that, you'll have to detonate Gel Launcher rounds on all three of the overloading circuits at once. You'll have to do a fair bit of hunting for structural weak points in the floors and ceilings to open the way to all three circuit boxes. Succeeding involves an echo of the riddle about the fox, the goose, and the bag of beans. While you eventually have to detonate all three at once to open the way, you'll first have to detonate each in turn just to open access to all three. And, after finding the second and third boxes, you'll need to detonate a Gel Launcher round on them to open a path briefly, then immediately plant another Gel Launcher round without detonating it. This is the round that'll need to wait until rounds are set on all three, so take care to manually detonate only rounds you set later on as you progress away from each Gel-armed circuit box.

Along the way, thugs sent by Black Mask attempt to waylay Batman. If you could handle the crowd at the beginning of the fight, as Black Mask dropped grenades and popped off rounds, you'll have no problems with these brief distractions.

Once you've followed Black Mask into the next chamber, you'll have to be quite careful indeed—slip up, and he'll gun Batman down in only a second or two. Analyze the objects in the room with Detective Mode, and you'll see that there are several ways to distract Black Mask: alarms on either side, which you can trip with the Batarang, and a light on the left, which you can blow out. Trigger the alarm on the right-hand side to attract Black Mask's attention there, then shatter the left-side light, and enter the maintenance tunnels. Crawl under the stage to the right, wait for Black Mask to stop paying such close attention to the right-hand side, and then exit the maintenance tunnel in the dark on the right. Now, toss a Batarang at the alarm on the left, then immediately re-enter the maintenance tunnels and crawl to the center grate—when Black Mask walks over to inspect the side where the alarm went off, you can initiate a takedown from below and put the Black Mask to sleep.

COLLECTIBLE: THE JOKER'S TEETH

Of all the collectibles, of course it would be the Joker to leave the most obvious. Do you see and hear chomping toy teeth clattering in small circles? Detonate them with remote gadgets, or watch them explode when you get too close.

MINIBOSS: DEADSHOT

The master sniper assaults Batman from an Administration rooftop. This battle breaks down into stages.

In the first stage, your purpose is to advance to the left without getting shot. The vantage point is actually Deadshot's scope!

When Batman is standing behind something that covers his whole body or ducking behind waist-high cover, he'll be safe from Deadshot. But when Batman is crossing from cover to cover, Deadshot can quickly draw a bead and fire with almost unerring accuracy. Get behind cover before he fires; if you aren't quite going to make it behind cover, then use an evade roll at the last moment. This doesn't guarantee that Deadshot will miss, but it greatly increases the odds. If you don't get behind cover or at least roll, well, they don't call him the man who never misses for no reason.

During phase two, after you've ducked into a building for a brief reprieve (and dealt with several thugs while inside), Deadshot opens fire with his wrist-mounted machine guns. The vantage here is from inside the building, as Deadshot shoots out all the glass around Batman, so stay in cover by keeping Deadshot out of sight. When he pauses briefly to reload, you can Grapple to the right and enter the last phase.

Here, you'll need to crouch behind cover, wait for a chance to Batarang the spotlight into a position that blinds Deadshot, then use the Line Launcher to zip across and kick the man who (almost) never misses into unconsciousness.

ADMINISTRATION BOSS: THE JOKER

The fight against the Joker takes place around the perimeter of a large chamber, since the center is totally clogged with explosives. The Joker dances around the explosives, trying to stay opposite from Batman. Above, several of the Joker's thugs watch the action; they'll also toss grenades down if you stay still for too long. Running around the perimeter to get at the Joker is fruitless, since he'll just run in the opposite direction. Use the Line Launcher to zip across the center, over the explosives and right into the Joker's chest with a Line Launcher-assisted drop kick.

Taking boots to the chest induces the Joker to pull out his deadly, gigantic revolver. Now, he won't just taunt you from across the way as his thugs rain grenades; he'll draw a bead and fire, over the explosives. Ducking behind the explosives won't help. You'll have to carefully watch as the Joker aims, then evade roll at the last moment to avoid the revolver rounds. After taking three shots, the Joker pauses to reload. Either rush around the perimeter and feed him a combo before he starts shooting again, or use the Line Launcher to zip across and kick him. Don't rush in/zip in before he starts reloading, or he'll run off and start firing again (having reloaded as he ran, presumably).

After two rounds of walloping him as he reloads, he'll charge up his baton and start chasing Batman down.

Disable his baton with a quick toss of your Shock

Batarang, and he'll retreat and try to reactivate it. This gives you a chance to run/zip in and hit him some more. After couple rounds of this, the irritated Joker dons a gasmask and begins flooding the chamber with Joker gas. He'll now mix between charging with his electric baton or firing from afar, all as thugs drop grenades from above. The chamber itself becomes a sort of ticking time bomb, too. Take too long finishing off the Joker, and Batman chokes on the gas. Whether the Joker charges with the shock baton or fires with his revolver, counter as appropriate to wear down the last of his vitality.

Your reward for defeating the Joker is the Crypto Key Gamma, which allows you to solve previously impossible Crypto Sequences throughout Blackgate Prison.

LIGHTHOUSE

>>THE LIGHTHOUSE

| 2 Locked door (disable atop lighthouse) | 6 Ascending lighthouse tower: Weak walkway floors (use Batclaw); unlocked access hatch (use Batarang); locked access hatch (attract guard to open with Batarang); Crypto Sequencer (opens locked door) | 8 Gap (use Line Launcher) |
| 3 Use Line Launcher | | 9 Crypto Sequencer & locked door |
| 4 Loose metal barrier (requires Batclaw) | | |

This small area off the main prison hub isn't immediately accessible, and it's small compared to the mammoth wings of the prison. However, it becomes necessary later to explore it for alternate routes into the Penguin's well-appointed stronghold. Traversing it fully requires just about all the gadgetry you can muster.

ARKHAM WING

Accessed from the location of the Penguin boss battle

The Arkham Wing puts all of your puzzle-solving abilities to the test. The remaining Blackgate hostages are held inside the Arkham Wing vault. You've spent most of the game working to find a way inside. The floor surrounding that vault? Fatally electrifying. The perimeter around the vault is ringed with circuit boxes, weak floors and walls, and anchor points for the Grapnel and Line Launcher. You'll also put your gliding, shimmying and vent-crawling to the test. The final door is unlocked with a Gamma Key Crypto Sequence, which isn't a problem; if you got in here at all, you had that already.

It's not quite over...

As it turns out, there are good reasons to keep searching through Blackgate Prison. Five good reasons. Depending on which boss you left for last, the location of the five bombs is different: five traps spread throughout Blackgate. Their general locations along with many, many other places of interest are marked on this guide's maps. The actual rooms of each area are much more complex than indicated here. For example, you'll often see Batman moving clearly left or down, like you're obviously making him run or fall left/down, yet when you look at the in-game map on your Batcomputer (which matches the maps here), you'll see direction of travel indicated as up or right, depending on where in that particular area he is. You'll sometimes need to use these specific locations as signs that you're in the correct room, but actually hunting down the proper wall weak points or vents off the beaten path is still up to you, in places.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

MICHAEL OWEN

It took a great deal of help to make this guide happen, so I would like to thank the following people. To everyone at WB Games for supplying us access to the game and answering our numerous questions. Thanks to Leigh Davis for giving me this opportunity and Chris Hausermann for making sure the guide came together. A big thanks goes out to Joe Epstein for his stellar work on the guide. Last but not least, thank you to my wife, Michelle, who took care of things at home while I worked on the guide.

JOE EPSTEIN

There are ways far worse to spend part of summer than staying in Montreal working on Batman games, so thanks to the usual suspects at BradyGames for tapping me to help out, and for all their hard work. Leigh Davis, Mike Degler, Chris Hausermann, Christian Sumner, Carol Stamile, Tim Cox, Colin King, and on and on... They're mostly on this page already. Thanks to everyone at WB Montreal for the invaluable help, the copious hospitality, and the great games. In particular, thanks to the feldspar-chewing QA Analysts who showed us all sorts of nasty things Heroes and Elites can do to each other in the fantastic new multiplayer mode. Thanks to my co-author Michael Owen for sharing in the slog, not to mention plenty of good food and strolls in Old Montréal. Finally, thanks to the SpeakEasy French App for iOS, which taught me how to effectively blurt out 'je ne parle pas français,' which was useful many, many times.
